

EAST OREGONIAN SPORTS

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13, 2016

FOLLOW US ON TWITTER @EOSPORTS

1B

PENDLETON

Greb signs with Rams

Pendleton senior gets full offer from Colorado State

By MATT ENTRUP
East Oregonian

Haley Greb determined early in life that she wanted to play golf in college, and this past August the Pendleton senior took the next big step toward realizing that dream when she signed a national letter of intent to join the Colorado State University women's program next fall.

Greb, who tied for second at the OSAA 5A state championships in May and then won the 86th Bob Norquist Oregon Junior Amateur in July, was offered the largest scholarship available by Rams coach Annie Young.

"I got a full ride to go, I can't wait for that," Greb said after Pendleton's volleyball win on senior night on Tuesday. "It'll be super

See GREB/2B

In this file photo, Haley Greb of Pendleton competes in the 85th Bob Norquist Oregon Junior Amateur Championships held June 22-26, 2015 at Eagle Crest Resort - Ridge Course in Redmond.

Photo courtesy of Oregon Golf Association/File

PENDLETON

Chamberlin to enter SOU Hall of Fame

Pendleton graduate still holds scoring records for Raiders women's basketball

East Oregonian

ASHLAND — Pendleton High School alumnae Nicole Whitney Chamberlin is one of six new inductees into the Southern Oregon University sports Hall of Fame.

Chamberlin, who graduated from Pendleton in 1990, played basketball at SOU for just two seasons from 1992-94 and became one of the best scorers in program history with 1,251 points in those two seasons. She set SOU single-season records in 1992-93 with 580 total points and 21.5 per game before breaking those

See CHAMBERLIN/2B

Photo courtesy of SOU Sports Information

This undated photo shows Pendleton High graduate Nicole Whitney Chamberlin in a basketball game for Southern Oregon University.

College Football

OSU's Collins excels in new role

In this Sept. 24, 2016, file photo, Oregon State's Seth Collins, left, gets behind Boise State's Brandon Arnold, right, to make a catch in the second half of an NCAA college football game in Corvallis.

Former QBs making impact at other positions for Pac-12 teams

By ANNE M. PETERSON
Associated Press

CORVALLIS — The change in position for Oregon State quarterback Seth Collins seemed inevitable at the end of last season, when he was used in several roles in the finale against Oregon.

The writing was on the wall: Utah State transfer Darell Garretson would be eligible to play this season, and it looked like that was where the Beavers were leaning at quarterback. Collins decided to leave Oregon State and go somewhere where he could play at quarterback — but he never actually left school.

Instead, he became a receiver.

Collins has embraced his new role, joining a handful of prospective QBs across the Pac-12 who have traded positions. These shifts are usually out of necessity if they want playing time because another quarterback in the so-called "Conference of Quarterbacks" is established as the starter.

In Collins' case, he was named Oregon State's starter at the beginning of last

See NEW ROLES/2B

Prep Football

Mustangs poised to extend league winning streak at Culver

Heppner can clinch playoff spot with win over Culver

East Oregonian

HEPPNER — The Heppner Mustangs weren't sure what to expect out of themselves for the 2016 season.

The team had to replace numerous starters and all-state players from last year's state championship squad, with some of the replacements being first-year varsity players that coach Greg Grant wasn't sure how long it would take those kids to acclimate.

After a few eye-openers to start the season, the Mustangs appear to have slid onto the right track now.

Following last week's 52-20 win over Pilot Rock, Heppner (5-1, 2-0 CBC) remains in a two-way tie atop the CBC standings with Stanfield, but a win at Culver on Friday would officially clinch the Mustangs post-season berth for the 20th straight season.

That streak would tie Heppner with Tigard for the second-longest active streak across all classifications, trailing only a Jesuit team that will likely extend its streak to 23 this season. Standing in the Mustang's way is a struggling Culver (1-4, 0-1) team that has allowed 60 points in back-to-back games, most recently a 60-20 loss to Grant Union last week.

Photo courtesy of John L. Braese/Malheur Enterprise

Irrigon's Omar Vera (3) is tackled by a Vale's Chikote Buckway (33) while Cade Perry (5) looks on during their football game on Oct. 7, 2016 in Vale.

Here's a look at all this weekend's games from the 4A-1A levels:

THURSDAY
MITCHELL/SPRAY/WHEELER (2-3, 0-3) at Ione (0-6, 0-3), 7 p.m. — There are only three games in the season left for the Ione Cardinals, and the team is running out of time to get win No. 1. Thursday night may be Ione's best chance when it hosts a Mitchell/Spray/Wheeler team in the midst of a three game losing streak.

FRIDAY
LA GRANDE (2-4, 1-1) at MAC-HI (2-3, 0-1), 7 p.m. — The Pioneers came back from their bye week last week and opened up league play with a disappointing 53-0 loss to Ontario last week. Mac-Hi had less than 200 yards of offense in the game and were not at full strength due to academic issues forcing players out of the game.

Mac-Hi's road does not get any easier this week against a La Grande team that beat Baker last week and has scored 110 points in its last two games.

VALE (3-3, 2-0) at UMATILLA (5-1, 1-1), 7 p.m. — Last week, Vale showed it is not the power team that it was last season in a 34-28 overtime win over Irrigon while Umatilla shut out Riverside 34-0.

The game sets up to be a key one for Umatilla. The Vikings are currently in a

See PREP FOOTBALL/3B

Sports shorts

Rousey to headline UFC 207

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Ronda Rousey will return to the UFC on Dec. 30 in Las Vegas, fighting Amanda Nunes for the bantamweight title.

UFC President Dana White confirmed Wednesday that Rousey will be in the main event of UFC 207 at T-Mobile Arena.

Rousey (12-1) hasn't fought since November 2015, when Holly Holm stunned the previously unbeaten champion with a second-round knockout at UFC 193 in Melbourne, Australia.

While Rousey apparently kept training after her loss, she took an extended break from competition, working as a model and appearing in a handful of films as an actor. Rousey was arguably the UFC's biggest star when she began her break, and she acknowledged having suicidal thoughts after her loss.

Rousey

"People are what's important. And an opportunity to help someone is more important than anything that I could have possibly done on a baseball diamond that day."

— Tim Tebow

New York Mets minor leaguer after an autograph seeker suffered a seizure following Tebow's debut in the Arizona Fall League on Wednesday. The man regained consciousness as Tebow placed a hand on him in prayer.

Matthews scores four goals in historic debut for Maple Leafs

OTTAWA, Ontario (AP) — Auston Matthews needed 40 minutes to get into the NHL record book.

In the highest-scoring debut in modern NHL history, Matthews scored four goals for the Toronto Maple Leafs, but Kyle Turris scored 37 seconds into overtime to give the Ottawa Senators to a 5-4 victory Wednesday night.

Matthews got his fourth with 3 seconds left in the second period, bringing his mother to tears in the stands.

The 19-year-old from Scottsdale, Arizona, is the 12th first overall pick to score in his NHL debut, however he's the first player in NHL history to do it four times.

Matthews scored his first three goal on his first three shots, and put Toronto ahead 3-2 with a one-timer from inside the right circle on a feed from Morgan Rielly 1:25 into the second period, and fans showered the ice with hats.

Matthews

THIS DATE IN SPORTS

1903 — The Boston Pilgrims win the first World Series, 5 games to 3, with a 3-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

1985 — Phil Simms of the New York Giants passes for 513 yards with an NFL-record 62 pass attempts in a 35-30 loss to the Cincinnati Bengals. Simms completes 40 passes with 29 for first downs, also an NFL record.

1998 — For the first time in NBA history, the league cancels regular season games after labor talks break off.

Contact us at 541-966-0838 or sports@eastoregonian.com