Bettylou Marion Streck

Walla Walla

August 9, 1948-November 5, 2016

Bettylou Marion Streck was born August 9, 1948, in Beach, N.D., to Patricia (Turnbull) and Albert Marion. Betty's first breath was taken at the Johnstone Memorial Hospital where her maternal grandmother, Lucille Seely Turnbull, was a nurse.

As Betty's dad was a career Navy man, the family followed him to a variety of postings around the country — the final post being San Diego, Calif. Betty attended Adventist Academies in National City, Calif., and Milo, Ore. After graduating from Milo in 1967, Betty received an LPN degree from Lane Community College, her RN degree from Walla Walla Community College in 1978 and BSN from WW College, and finally her master's in social work in 1993 from Walla Walla College.

Betty's desire to continue and complete her education saw her move from Florence, Ore. — where her sons Eric and Erin were born — to Portland and finally back to the Funny Farm where she lived with husband Rick Streck, son Eric and grandson Jacob.

Betty's loving and welcoming nature made her many lifelong friends, some of whom became her extended family. Working as a social worker with the Umatilla Tribe introduced her to her Native beliefs, and she eventually became an honored member and was given the name "Wapaa-ta-thla," meaning helper.

Missing the sunshine that Betty brought to their lives are her husband Rick

Streck; sons Eric and Erin, daughter-in-law Heather Dahlin, stepsons Richie Streck, Jesse Plecker and Matt Plecker, and grandchildren Kaytlyn Dahlin and Jacob Streck, all of Walla Walla, and her father Albert (Margaret) Marion of Milton-Freewater.

Betty is also survived by her sisters Lolita (Dan) Haas of San Diego and LaVonne Rowe of Loretto, Tenn., her "sister-cousins," as well as her much loved nieces and nephews and her Tribal family members at the Umatilla Indian Reservation.

It was Betty's wish to take her final breath at the Funny Farm on Stateline Road, which she did in the early morning hours of November 5, 2016.

Washat services will begin at 3:30 p.m. at the Mission Longhouse on Tuesday, November 8, 2016. A sunrise service will be held at St. Andrew's cemetery on Wednesday.

Online condolences may be shared with the family at www.pioneerchapel.com
