Joan Helen (Refior) Jones

Pendleton

November 19, 1936-November 26, 2016

Joan Helen (Refior) Jones was born Nov. 19, 1936, in North Platte, Nebraska, to John H. and Olive Refior. Joan had two siblings, Dona and Robert. She passed away November 26 at the age of 80 after a stroke.

Jones

Joan graduated from North Platte High School in 1954. She worked for Fox Theater until her marriage to Dean Jones in 1955. Dean worked for Union Pacific Railroad so the family relocated to several cities in Kansas, Nebraska and Wyoming. They moved to Hermiston, Oregon, in 1973. Joan and Dean later divorced.

Joan worked as a book-keeper and store clerk for a number of years at Hector Shoes and was a familiar face to local merchants and clients. She enjoyed her work, especially when she was able to decorate for special occasions and holidays. Joan had belonged to Eastern Star and Does and later to UP Junior Old Timer's club where she participated in meetings and conventions. After retirement, she enjoyed decorating her home for the seasons and holidays.

Joan moved to Pendleton several years ago where she resided at Elizabethan Manor; while there she made several close friends whom she checked on regularly.

Joan is survived by her children Barbara Wilson of Milton-Freewater, Michael Jones (Marge) of Pendleton, and Donna Jones (Raul Ochoa) of North Platte.

Also surviving Joan are her grandchildren Casey Jones (Jessica) with children Lilly, Cordelia and Bishop of Beaverton, Ore., and Kathryn Keshner (Elliot) of Denver, Amber Ochoa of Omaha with son Phoenix and Ryan Ochoa of Kearney, Neb., her siblings Dona Herndon of North Platte and Robert Refior (JoEllen) of Colorado Springs, and several nieces and nephews.

Memorial donations may be made to Agape House in Hermiston, Ore.

Per her request, no public service will be held for Joan.

Toy run revs up holiday cheer at Good Shepherd

By TAMMY MALGESINI
 East Oregonian

Although his 2004 Harley Wide Glide has a few more scratches, Al Sells will rev up its engine for the 13th annual Echo Toy Run.

Sells, who crashed his trusty bike three days after the 2015 event, is ready to ride again this year — bringing holiday cheer to kids at Good Shepherd Medical Center.

Area bikers are invited to bring an unwrapped toy and meet Saturday in downtown Echo. Kickstands up at noon, the bikers will cruise into Hermiston on their way to deliver toys to the hospital. The leather-clad group will be greeted by a hospital administrator and treated to coffee, hot chocolate or hot apple cider, said Nick Bejarano, director of marketing and communications at Good Shepherd.

The effort of area bikers in making a difference in the lives of kids in the community lasts well beyond the holiday season, Bejarano said. In addition to distributing gifts to youngsters in the hospital during Christmas, toys are available for hospital staff to give to children throughout the year, as well as donating some to the Hermiston Police Department's Christmas Express.

Bejarano is impressed with Sells' effort to celebrate the season with his biker buddies while giving back to others at the same time.

"I think it's an amazing initiative," Bejarano said. "They genuinely care about people in the community and want to make a difference."

The idea for the toy run started when former owners of the Echo Saloon wanted to help brighten the spirits of children who were in the hospital during the holiday season. Sells has carried on the tradition and coordinates the yearly event.

More than just a bunch of bikers out for a ride, Sells said it provides an opportunity to give back to the community.

"I think it makes people feel good," he said. "It's the greatest day of the year. I get to visit with all my friends."

In case Mother Nature brings bad weather, or for those who don't ride motorcycles, passenger vehicles are invited to join the end of the caravan between Echo and Hermiston.

Anyone wishing to donate a gift who can't attend the Echo Toy Run can take them to the administrative offices at Good Shepherd Medical Center, 610 N.W. 11th St., Hermiston. For more information, call Sells at 541-571-1820 or Bejarano at 541-667-3460.
