1:33 p.m. - A man on Cobb Road, Milton-Freewater, reported a burglary and the theft of his cellphone, .308-caliber Enfield rifle and possibly more.

1:35 p.m. - Juvenile rivers on four-wheelers dragged others behind them in the snow and ice in the Highland Summit area of Hermiston. A caller said they were driving erratically and lacked supervision.

4:05 p.m. - An older teen reported she did not want to drop off her younger sister with their mother in Irrigon because she seemed to be suffering a possible mental episode.

5:44 p.m. - The Morrow County Sheriff's Office received a second-hand report of a male beating a female at a trailer on the 61300 block of Dee Cox Road, Heppner.

10:40 p.m. - The Umatilla County Sheriff's Office took a report of domestic violence from a woman on Adams Road, Pendleton.

ARRESTS, CITATIONS

Friday

•Pendleton police arrested Sarah Ann Pierre, 38, of Pendleton, for giving false information, possession of methamphetamine, and violating parole.

•Stanfield police arrested Virgil Ray Robbins, 41, of Hermiston, for driving under the influence of intoxicants, supplying contraband (drugs), and driving while suspended/revoked. Court records show Robbins is serving two years of probation for a DUI conviction from Oct. 31.

Saturday

•Pilot Rock police arrested Terry Dean Schoen, 58, of Hermiston, for menacing and felony fourth-degree assault, both domestic violence charges.

•Umatilla County Sheriff's Office arrested Mark Anthony Cano Sr., 46, of Stanfield, for DUII, reckless driving, and second-degree disorderly conduct.

•Oregon State Police arrested Mitchell Lee Carry Moccasin, 36, of College Place, Washington, for DUII. The arrest came after a trooper responded to a two-vehicle crash at the intersection of highways 339 and 332, Milton-Freewater, where a Jeep Liberty t-boned a Dodge Ram 1500 pickup.

The driver of the Dodge told the trooper he was facing south and stopped a stop sign when the Jeep ran the stop and plowed into his vehicle.

Carry Moccasin drove the Jeep, according to state police, and right off the trooper smelled alcohol on his breath. Carry Moccasin also had "bloodshot and glassy" eyes and showed "signs of impairment" during a sobriety test.

State police also reported the trooper arrested Carry Moccasin for drunk driving and took him to the Milton-Freewater Police Department, where he took a breath test that revealed a .19 percent blood-alcohol level, more than twice the .08 percent legal limit. From there, the trooper took Carry-Moccasin to the Umatilla County Jail, Pendleton.

•Umatilla County Sheriff's Office arrested Jason Paul Stinchcomb, 41, of Weston, for felony fourth-degree assault (domestic violence).

Sunday

•Umatilla County Sheriff's Office arrested Mikael Iacob Butler, 18, no address provided, for second-degree theft and second-degree burglary.

•Stanfield police arrested April Mae Bautista, 39, of Stanfield, on a warrant for failure to appear in an assault and weapons case and for possession of methamphetamine.

•Pendleton police arrested Dominick Ski Burrows, 28, no address provided, for DUII.

OBITUARIES

Dale W. Stickley

Clovis, N.M.
July 6, 1943-December 2, 2016

Dale W. Stickley passed away peacefully in his home on December 2, 2016.

Dale was born to Rollie Stickley and Ethel (Holaday) on July 6th, 1943, the youngest of 13 children in Laramie, Wyo., and has lived nearly everywhere "West of the Mississippi," his favorites being, Emmett and Caldwell, Idaho; Hermiston and Irrigon, Ore., and Clovis, N.M.

Dale is survived by his children Darla Rae Phenix, David Stickley, Deana Davis and Danielle Stickley, 10 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren, as well as three of his sisters, Rose DeChand, Ada Sigman and Zeta Smith, and his brother

Don Grubbs, as well as countless family.

He is preceded in death by his parents, nine of his siblings, cousins, nieces, and nephews and his grandson Christopher Stickley.

There is a memorial in the works planned for Hermiston, Ore. All other plans are still unknown.

Dale Stickley was a Vietnam veteran and suffered, as many do, from PTSD. After many years of self-medicating he finally sought and received treatment. Please, if you or a loved one suffer, seek help.

Muffley Funeral Home in Clovis, N.M., is in charge of arrangements (<http://www.muffleyfuneralhome.com>)

Umatilla County, union strike new labor deal

By PHIL WRIGHT
East Oregonian

After seven months of negotiations, Umatilla County and members of the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees agreed on a labor contract.

The county board of commissioners on Wednesday voted 2-0 to ratify the three-year deal that includes cost of living increases of 2 percent each year for the 110 members in the local. The contract is effective July 1, 2016 and runs through June 30, 2019.

Bargaining began May 9. Seth Moore was the AFSCME representative at the table for the employees and took to Facebook to provide updates on the negotiations. He also used those updates to criticize the county's team for a lack of readiness and dragging out the process. Commissioner George Murdock in October reported negotiations broke down and on Aug. 31 both teams asked for a mediator to step in and help.

Commissioner Larry Givens said pay was the hurdle that caused the need for outside help. The union wanted more than the county could afford, he said, and both sides were prepared to walk out of the talks.

Moore agreed pay was an issue. He said the union would like to see Umatilla County provide pay comparable to counties with similar populations, such as Polk, Benton and Coos counties. Moore called the contract a compromise, but one the members ratified.

County commissioners in July 2015 gave county-wide elected officials a cost-of-living increase of 3 percent and increased their own pay 7.5 percent, making their salary $86,273 a year. The increases made the commissioner pay comparable to what Benton County pays commissioners at the top of its scale and about $20,000 more than what Polk and Klamath counties pay theirs.

Labor negotiations always give employees and management angst, Givens said, and agreeing on a new contract is a relief. Commissioner Bill Elfering said if neither side gets everything it wanted, it's probably a good deal. "I think that's probably the case here," he said.

The matter of insurance, though, is going to bring both sides back to the bargaining table in 2017. The county's carrier, LifeWise Health Plan of Oregon, is pulling out of the state's insurance market. Jennifer Blake, the county's human resources director, at the Wednesday meeting said there are at least five insurance companies the county can turn to, and staff are working on seeking bids as soon as possible.

Robert Pahl, the county's chief financial officer, added the county is facing a "substantial increase" in the cost health insurance of at least 15 percent.
