“We just settled for jump shots and weren’t aggressive down low,” said Helix coach Ben Maney.

Justin Williams finished with a double-double in the loss for Helix (2-5) with 16 points and 11 rebounds, but was the only Grizzly in double figures in any statistical category.

Helix will play Walla Walla Valley Academy today in the consolation game at 2:30 p.m. in the small gym. Klickitat will play Bickleton (WA) in the championship at the same time.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

BEND 47, PENDLETON 38 — At Bend, the Lava Bears brought a physical style of play the Buckaroos were just unable to match in Wednesday’s game in the Summit Holiday Tournament.

Pendleton led 19-15 at halftime, but was outscored 19-4 in the third quarter and never recovered.

“(Bend) played pretty physical and the kind of took us out of what we wanted to do, and we’ve got to learn from that,” said first-year Pendleton coach Kevin Porter. “It’s still preseason and we’re still learning, but the girls’ attitudes are great and we just need to find ourselves again.”

After winning their first three the Bucks (3-2) have lost their last two, but Kalan Mc Glothan remained consistent with her fifth straight double-double with 11 points and 11 rebounds.

Haley Greb added 10 points for Pendleton.

Tayla Wheeler and Kayla Rambo each scored 11 to pace Bend (5-2).

Pendleton will continue tournament play today against Marist at 4 p.m.

OREGON: Hot-handed Pritchard was supposed to take last shot for my team.”

Payton Pritchard added 15 points and nine assists for the Ducks (12-2, 1-0), who won their 10th consecutive game and pushed the nation’s second-longest home winning streak to 34 games. Pritchard’s 3-pointer pulled Oregon within one with 12.9 seconds left to set the stage for Brooks’ shot.

Brooks said Oregon coach Dana Altman called “pop” for the final shot and the ball was supposed to find the hot-handed Pritchard, who hit three of Oregon’s 11 3-pointers. Instead, Brooks used a screen by Jordan Bell to squeeze off the game-winner.

“We had an option to get to the basket or shoot it,” Altman said, “and (Brooks) felt like he liked the shot and he was right. Who am I to argue?”

“Dillon likes those big moments and hit or miss, he’s willing to take the consequences for it.”

That included being swarmed by Bell and his teammates at the other end of the court before the officials could clear the court for a final possession by UCLA, which didn’t come close with its shot.

“I was running away from it,” Brooks said of the celebration, “but Jordan just tackled me.”

Thomas Welch had 20 points and 10 rebounds for the Bruins (13-1, 0-1), and Alford had 20 points. Lonzo Ball added 14 points and TJ Leaf had 13.

UCLA was trying to match its best start to a season in 10 years, but Alford missed the front end of a 1-and-1. Alford was shooting a team-best 87.0 percent at the free throw line this season.

“That’s who we want at the line,” UCLA coach Steve Alford said of his son. “More times than not he makes shots to get us back in it and that’s the guy we want at the free throw line.”

The Bruins came in as the nation’s best shooting team and fourth-best beyond the arc, and they nearly hit those marks by going 34 of 64 overall (53.1 percent) and 11 of 25 (44.0 percent) on 3-pointers.

However, UCLA also had 14 turnovers against 19 assists and lost the rebounding battle 37-35.

The Bruins used a 15-0 run sparked by three straight 3s by Ball midway through the second half to take a 72-65 lead. UCLA was up by eight with 4 minutes to play before Pritchard sparked Oregon’s final rally with seven points.

“Credit to them,” Bryce Alford said. “First and foremost they made big-time plays (and) hit some really tough shots.

“Their last two 3s were highly contested, fadeaway 3s, so they made big-time plays but we have to be much better on the defensive end.”

Oregon beat the Bruins at their own game in the first half, pushing a 100-point pace with 11 assists on its first 14 field goals and shooting 7 of 14 from 3-point range.

The Ducks also held Leaf, UCLA’s leading scorer, without a shot for the first 11 1/2 minutes. A 16-5 run had Oregon up by 12 late in the half before UCLA closed with a 10-3 burst to trail at the break for only the second time this season.

BIG PICTURE

UCLA missed a chance to grab an early edge in the Pac-12 race by failing to knock off the defending champs on their own court.

Oregon finally found the spark it was missing during nonconference play with the stunning upset against the highest-ranked opponent to play in Eugene during Altman’s seven seasons as coach.

PENDLETON — K. McGlothan 11, H. Greb 10, J. Lemberger 6, M. Davies 4, E. Nirschl 3, L. Richards 2, K. Bradt 2, K. Broker, T. Fell, H. Porter.

BEND — T. Wheeler 11, K. Rambo 11, S. Jackson 10, K. Roath 6, C. Scott 4, R. Tinker 3, S. Woodward 2, K. Brown 2, T. Barudoni 1, S. Gardner, C. Wheeler, J. Fetting, T. Hadley.

3-pointers — PHS 3; BHS 1. Free throws — PHS 13-18; BHS 7-15. Fouls — PHS 15; BHS 16.

HELIX 60, KLICKITAT 30 — At Helix, the Grizzlies didn’t show any rust in their first game back from the holiday break and got several big performances to cruise past Klickitat (WA) in the Helix Holiday Classic on Wednesday.

Sadie Wilson had a double-double with 11 points and 10 rebounds, Macey Tullis scored a game-high 19 and also had four steals, and Charmayne Bennett added 14 points. Emma Fehrenbacher finished with nine rebounds and five assists, and Kailey Mize chipped in 13 rebounds and four steals.

“We were playing great team defense and getting lots of rebounds and getting out and running,” said Helix coach Kirk Flerchinger.

Helix will play Walla Walla Valley Academy today at 1 p.m. in the tournament championship.

14 rebounds.

The teams last met on Dec. 20, a 126-121 Sacramento victory that was marked by drama — namely an ejection reversal — involving Cousins.

Cousins scored 55 points in the win. But with less than 2 minutes remaining, he was celebrating a foul call on his go-ahead basket and he appeared to spit his mouth-piece at the Blazers’ bench.

Cousins was hit with a technical, his second, and headed off to the locker room. But moments later he was called back when the officiating crew reversed the call. He sank the free throw and later in a postgame TV interview called the whole drama “ridiculous.”

That victory touched off the Kings’ four-game winning streak.

Cousins hit the first basket of the game on Wednesday night. But the Blazers jumped out to a 20-12 lead on Harkless’ dunk.

Portland went on to lead by as many as 17 points in the first half, taking a 60-44 lead into the break. Allen Crabbe, who replaced Lillard in the starting lineup, led all players with 13 points.

Cousins, booted whenever he touched the ball, led the team at the half with eight points, but he had also collected three fouls.

McCollum hit a 3-pointer that pushed Portland’s lead to 67-47. Cousins made a 3-pointer, his first of the game, that pulled the Kings to 73-61, then made another that narrowed it to 77-69 early in the fourth quarter.

TIP-INS

Kings: Sacramento was without Rudy Gay because of a right hip flexor strain. Gay had played Monday in the 102-100 victory over the 76ers.

Trail Blazers: Longtime NBA coach George Karl caused a bit of a stir in Portland with comments he made to New York Magazine about Damian Lillard. “I was watching the Portland Trail Blazers play, and I was trying to figure out what the hell is wrong with this team?” Karl asked. “My conclusion is that Damian Lillard is getting too much attention.”

Blazers coach Terry Stotts, asked to respond before the game, said: “When it comes to my team and my players, he needs to stay in his own lane.”
