

PEANUTS

BY CHARLES M. SCHULZ

FOR BETTER OR WORSE

BY LYNN JOHNSTON

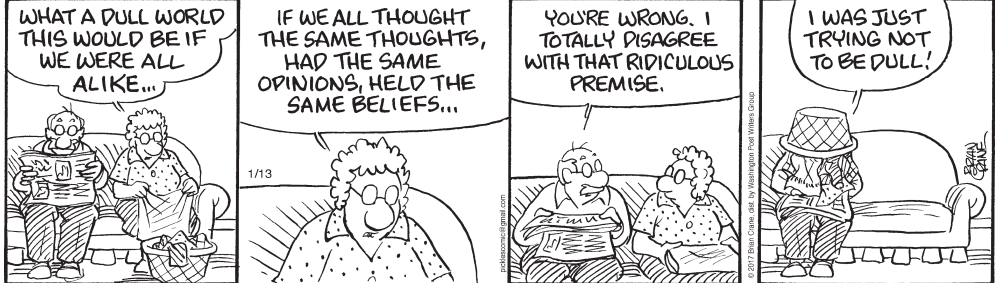

B.C.

BY JOHNNY HART

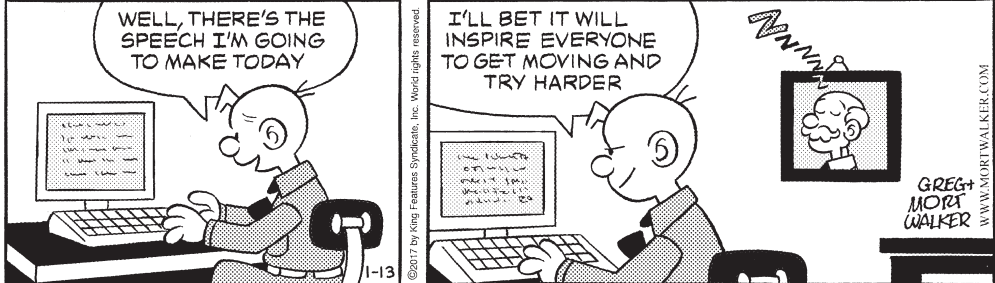

PICKLES

BY BRIAN CRANE

BEETLE BAILEY

BY MORT WALKER

GARFIELD

BY JIM DAVIS

BLONDIE

BY DEAN YOUNG AND STAN DRAKE

DILBERT

BY SCOTT ADAMS

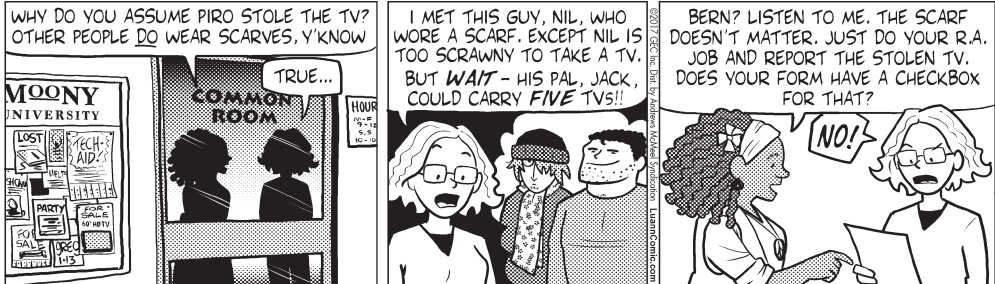

THE WIZARD OF ID

BY BRANT PARKER AND JOHNNY HART

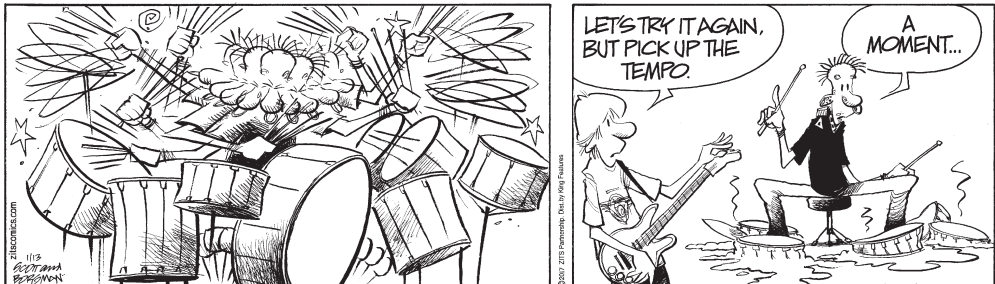

LUANN

BY GREG EVANS

ZITS

BY JERRY SCOTT AND JIM BORGMAN

DEAR ABBY

High school friend turned enemy continues her attacks

Dear Abby: I need your help in dealing with an old "frenemy." "Jenny" and I were friends in high school, but she constantly berated me and accused me of taking advantage of her.

JEANNE PHILLIPS Advice

work, I noticed that it was going to be mailed to a married lesbian couple. Typically, the correct way to address an envelope to a woman would be to Ms., Miss or Mrs. and to a male it's either Mr. or Master, depending upon his age.

After she went away to college, she got pregnant by a non-boyfriend. When she had an abortion, she swore me to secrecy because she didn't tell the father. Shortly thereafter, he came to me and tricked me into telling him. To this day, Jenny still blames me and says I was out to get her and ruin her life.

What's the proper way to address a gay couple? Is M/M still used in place of Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. and Mrs.? — Proper In Illinois

Jenny spread rumors about me around our group of friends, on the internet, and told my mom horrible lies about me. She even threatened a lawsuit. Ten years later, she still pops up out of the blue to attack me.

Dear Proper: According to Steven Petrow's "Complete Gay and Lesbian Manners," the correct way to address the envelopes of married gay and lesbian couples should be (in alphabetical order):

Mr. Bradley Burch and Mr. Mark Foster Ms. Cecelia Carter and Ms. Diane Grant Or, if the couple shares the same last name: Mr. Bradley and Mr. Mark Burch Ms. Cecelia and Ms. Diane Carter

I never respond because that's what she wants. She pops up at the worst times and makes me feel worse. How should I deal with her? — At A Boiling Point In Tennessee

Dear Abby: Now that I'm older, I often find it hard to remember all the names and amounts of my prescriptions when I visit my various doctors. To help myself, I now carry in my wallet a small copy of a spreadsheet listing all my medication information. That way, I can give accurate details to the physician.

Dear Boiling: Continue to ignore this troubled woman. Block her anywhere you can, and delete any messages that leak through so you won't have to see them. If you have mutual friends who don't know the whole story, you should have enlightened them years ago — and the same goes for your mother.

I'd like to pass my solution on to other readers who may have the same need to be precise and up-to-date when visiting the doctor. — In Good Health In Austin

Jenny appears to have serious issues. She isn't a "frenemy." She is strictly bad news, so recognize it and move on.

Dear In Good Health: That's a suggestion worth sharing. And while you are at it, you should also list for your doctor any vitamins, supplements and over-the-counter meds you take on a regular basis. This information can also be stored in your smartphone, if you have one.

Dear Abby: While preparing a letter at

DAYS GONE BY

100 Years Ago From the East Oregonian Jan. 13, 1917

With a suddenness that surprised friends and relatives, several Pendleton young men have joined the navy of Uncle Sam, according to reports coming from Portland where the enlistments are said to have taken place.

them brought in, Fire Chief William (Blackie) Batchelor reported Thursday. One of the dolls turned in was bought in Portland and the other two were bought in Walla Walla.

25 Years Ago From the East Oregonian Jan. 13, 1992

A 65-year-old Pendleton woman left in her home for several days bound with extension cords, rope, panty hose and dog leashes was in stable condition this morning at St. Anthony Hospital.

50 Years Ago From the East Oregonian Jan. 13, 1967

Due to the news coverage about the dolls being sold in this country constructed of a type of material for the head and body stuffed with sawdust and a flammable hair material the Pendleton Fire Department has had three of

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

Today is the 13th day of 2017. There are 352 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On Jan. 13, 1898, the Rolling Stones' double-A sided single "Let's Spend the Night Together" and "Ruby Tuesday" was released in the United Kingdom by Decca Records.

of Vermont and Kentucky to the Union. (The number of stripes was later reduced to the original 13.)

In 1898, Emile Zola's famous defense of Capt. Alfred Dreyfus, "J'accuse," was published in Paris.

In 1941, a new law went into effect granting Puerto Ricans U.S. birthright citizenship.

In 1990, L. Douglas Wilder of Virginia became the nation's first elected black governor as he took the oath of office in Richmond.

In 1997, seven black soldiers were awarded the Medal of Honor for World War II valor; the lone survivor of the group, former Lt. Vernon Baker, received his medal from President Bill Clinton at the White House.

Today's Birthdays:

Actress Frances Sternhagen is 87. TV personality Nick Clooney is 83. Comedian Rip Taylor is 83. Comedian Charlie Brill is 79. Actor Billy Gray is 79. Actor Richard Moll is 74. Rock musician Trevor Rabin is 63. Rhythm-and-blues musician Fred White is 62. Rock musician James Lomenzo (Megadeth) is 58. Actor Kevin Anderson is 57. Actress Julia Louis-Dreyfus is 56. Rock singer Graham "Suggs" McPherson (Madness) is 56. Country singer Trace Adkins is 55. Actor Orlando Bloom is 40. Actor Liam Hemsworth is 27.

Thought for Today:

"Worry never robs tomorrow of its sorrow, it only saps today of its joy." — Leo Buscaglia, American author (1924-1998).

PHOEBE AND HER UNICORN

BY DANA SIMPSON

BIG NATE

BY LINCOLN PEIRCE

