of cutting over the top of the hill there and hopefully tonight is what gets us over the top and we keep building off this.

"We wanted to come out (to Hermiston) and showcase our team, and let them know what we're about. We want to get out there and find local talent, and hopefully they want to come over and wrestle with and help with this tradition and just get it going and developing."

The night also featured six women's matches, though they did not count toward the team score, with EOU and Warner splitting them.

The dual began with the match of the night as No. 13 125-pounder Mhar Caballa of EOU scored an 8-7 sudden victory over No. 12 Josh Johnson. Caballa scored the final point 15 seconds into the extra period when he evaded Johnson's aggressive shot and slipped around behind him for a takedown.

"I'm pretty stoked, because this is one of the duals we've actually won (as a team)," Caballa said. "I mean, things are falling into place and we're peaking at the right time."

Caballa, a sophomore from Kodiak, Alaska, found himself trailing Johnson 6-4 after the second period, and used an escape 30 seconds into the third to make it 6-5. Almost immediately he was back on the offensive with a shot, but like he had repeatedly done already, Johnson was able to block and forced a stalemate by reaching over Caballa's back and latching on around his waist.

A restart with 1:03 left got the action back to the center of the mat, and Johnson looked to finish off Caballa with a shot at the :42 mark, but was stopped in his tracks and forced to retreat. Caballa took the opportunity to mount a counterattack and with 31 seconds left found his way past Johnson's defenses to land a shot for a takedown and a 7-6 lead.

"At first I couldn't finish my shots. I got to a lot of shots, I just couldn't finish," Caballa said. "I heard (my coach) from the corner and he was telling me to stick to double legs and get two hands on the legs and all that, and it helped out a lot."

He couldn't make it hold, though, and Johnson escaped to tie the score with 10 seconds left.

Caballa said he felt like he had an advantage going into the one-minute overtime.

"I felt like I had good conditioning, I just had to believe in my conditioning," he said. "My coach trains us pretty well and we practice overtime all the time. (I wanted to) just keep pushing the pace, pretty much."

Azure said he wouldn't be surprised to see that match play out again later this season.

"That's going to be another match to look forward to, we're both in the same region so I'm sure they'll meet up again," he said. "The region at 125 (pounds) is just tough all the way around so it's just going to be a fun weight to watch."

Warner Pacific's Josh Crager got the Knights on the scoreboard in the 133-pound match with a 7-5 win, but Eastern won each of the next three to take a 19-3 lead. The 157-pound match ended with an injury default after Warner's Timmy Riviera experienced painful cramping in his calf before the match even started. Riviera tried to tough it out on one leg, but lasted just 30 seconds before he had to throw in the towel.

That brought up the women's freestyle portion of the evening.

Cassidy Freeman (109 pounds), Jessica DeHart (109), and Amber Pair (123) each won by technical fall for Eastern.

Freeman won her match 15-4 early in the second round, DeHart won 10-0 after just 1:48, and Pair picked up a 12-2 victory in the second period.

EOU junior Brandon Davidson made sure the men picked up right where they left off with a 12-1 win over Jesse Johnson at 165 that made it 23-3 and secured the win with just three more matches and a forfeit coming at the heavy-weight division for Warner Pacific. Davidson was up 3-0 after one period, and 7-0 after two.

Warner's Miguel Simon won 5-2 at 174, then Joe Dickinson held on to beat Eastern's Pancho Saldana 6-3 at 184 for their only other win.

Saldana, a senior from Milton-Freewater, finished each period in a position of leverage, but Dickinson was saved by the buzzer each time.

"I've just got to get around the corner a little faster and finish on my takedowns, that was the difference on that match," Saldana said.

For Saldana, who is also an NAAI All-American javelin thrower for the Mountaineers, the chance to be a part of wrestling's return to EOU was something he didn't want to miss out on.

"Once Coach came to visit and I knew he had the head job, I went up to him and asked if I could join the wrestling team," he said. "It's a great opportunity and I'm glad he gave me the opportunity to join the team."

Azure said he was happy to have an athlete of Saldana's caliber already on campus.

"I knew he was a hard worker coming in. I was able to watch the end of the track season, his throwing, so I watched him get in the weight room all the time. He was busting his butt in there," Azure said. "I figured it was going to carry over when he hit the mat and it has. He gets out there and he does whatever you tell him to do and he's an easy one to coach. He's been off the mat for so long, I wish we could have had him a couple more years."

Saldana said it's been a rewarding experience, even if he wasn't able to pull out the win in front of some old friends and family that had come to watch him wrestle.

"We're getting to the top of the hill now," he said. "We've been having some tough duals and we're finally showing our experience. I mean, we're a new team and we're young, but we're finally getting there. We're finally beating up on some people."

at the start and keep the momentum going in games," Porter said. "We got that start tonight and finished it off."

Another key for Pendleton was its 32 attempts from the free throw line — including 22 in the second half alone — as the Riverhawks defense was slow to react to the Buckaroos play inside. Pendleton was successful on 21 of those attempts.

"It was a pretty physical game to be honest," Porter said.

The Buckaroos also benefited from a good performance from Haley Greb who finished tied with McGlothlin with a team-high 14 points.

Pendleton will now prepare to take on Hermiston on Tuesday at Warberg Court, with tip-off set for 5:45 p.m.

PENDLETON 70, THE DALLES 35 — At The Dalles, the Pendleton Buckaroos continued to show why they are the defending Columbia River Conference champions with a dominant 70-35 victory on the road against The Dalles on Friday.

Senior guard Caden Smith led the Buckaroos (7-4, 2-0 CRC) with a game-high 25 points and sank seven 3-pointers, while Johnny Stuvland put up 14 points and Damon Thomas had 10. Pendleton also tallied 17 assists as a team, which is a number that head coach Kyle Tedder liked to see.

from everybody tonight," Tedder said. "It's been a long week and we had to focus on maintaining our energy and we were able to rotate in a lot of guys. It was an all-around good effort from the guys."

Tedder was also ecstatic with his team's performance on the defensive end of the floor, where the Bucks allowed double-digit points in just one of the four quarters.

"Any time you can hold a team to 12 points in the first half, I can't ask for anything more," Tedder said. "And then to finish off the game and outscore them 23-8 in the fourth, any time you can do those things you're going to be in great position to win."

Pendleton will now get some rest before preparing for Tuesday's showdown with Hermiston at Warberg Court. Tip-off is set for 7:30 p.m.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

VALE 47, IRRIGON 29 — At Vale, a slow start for Irrigon against a talented Vale team proved to be too much for the Knights to overcome on Friday afternoon, as Vale defended its home court with a 47-29 victory.

"We dug ourselves in a little hole in the first half," Irrigon coach Mike Royer said. "We pulled to within three in the third quarter, but unfortunately were not able to score the rest of the way, so the outcome wasn't to our liking."

Jada Burns led Irrigon (9-8, 2-3 EOL) with 14 points and was the only Knight to reach double figures. Vale (13-3, 3-1) had three players reach double figures, led by Tessa McFetridge with 13.

Irrigon next plays at Nyssa today at 3 p.m.

NIXYAAWII 52, COVE 29

— At Cove, the Nixyaawii Golden Eagles kept their unbeaten season going for at least one more game with a dominant 52-29 victory on Friday night over Cove.

"The first half we came out and really played well defensively," Nixyaawii coach Jeremy Maddern said. "We did a good job in our rotations and didn't foul a whole bunch, and then we just kind of coasted."

Milan Schimmel led Nixyaawii (15-0, 8-0 OOL) in scoring with 14 points and also added eight assists, while Kaitlynn Melton had 13 points. Mary Stewart pitched in seven points and a team-best 10 assists.

Nixyaawii next hosts Powder Valley today in a game between two teams still undefeated in league play.

Tip-off is set for 3:30 p.m.

PILOT ROCK 48, STANFIELD 22

— At Stanfield, the Pilot Rock Rockets moved into a three-way tie for first place in the Columbia Basin Conference with a big 48-22 win over Stanfield on Friday.

"Pilot Rock's really good and they made a lot of high percentage shots tonight," Stanfield coach Daniel Sharp said, "and we struggled to make our shots."

Grace Austin led Pilot Rock (13-3, 3-1 CBC) with 12 points and Kayla Deist had 11 points. Kendra Hart led Stanfield (3-12, 1-3) with 13 points.

HORIZON CHRISTIAN 65, CONDON/WHEELER 30

— At Condon, Horizon Christian handed the Condon/Wheeler Knights their second-straight loss on the season with a 65-30 win on Friday night.

"Horizon's pretty quick and we just couldn't handle their press," Condon/Wheeler coach Jessica Logan said.

Annika Rietman, Brooke Dyer and Justine Homer all led Condon/Wheeler (7-9, 4-2 BSL) in scoring with seven points apiece.

Condon/Wheeler takes the floor again today when it travels to Ione for a 4 p.m. start.
