Murder mystery event unravels sweet revenge in Hermiston

By TAMMY MALGESINI East Oregonian

A sweet fundraiser offers people a chance to play amateur sleuths while raising money for Agape House programs.

"Til Death Do We Part...
And We Part Tonight' offers a Valentine's Day theme complete with an array of delectable desserts. The event is Sunday, Feb. 19 at 2 p.m. in the Altrusa Room at Agape House, 500 Harper Road, Hermiston. Tickets are $15 per person. Seating is limited, so people should purchase tickets in advance.

The storyline centers around Hanna and Harry Heart — legends in their hometown of Amorville, said Dave Hughes, executive director of Agape House. High school sweethearts, Hanna was an all-star cheerleader and Harry was a state champion quarterback who went on to play professionally with the St. Louis Lambs.

Purchasing the rights to present the murder mystery production, Hughes made a few modifications to the script. Although he didn't make slashing changes, a knife may be involved in some way — at least by Jodene Hughes, shelter director at Martha's House, a family homeless shelter in Hermiston.

Jodene said she mostly helps behind the scenes during the murder mystery fundraisers — often cooking, or in the case of the dessert event, cutting the desserts. She said people will have a choice of chocolate cake, a red velvet cake and cheesecakes with a variety of toppings — pick your poison, but not in the literal sense like the victim in the production. The dessert murder mystery finds the Hearts back in Amorville for a big soirée. The audience will have to figure out whodunnit when Dr. Ador Candyman, a nerdy rocket scientist, ends up dead. It appears he died from a poisoned drink, and numerous people had access to the glass he drank from, Dave Hughes said.

"There are about four or five subplots running through," he said. "People have to figure out what's going on."

Dave and Jodene Hughes enjoy the excitable chatter as people try to piece together what happened.

"Some of them, they laugh so hard," Jodene said. "It does my heart so good to hear them having fun.

Listening to the buzz during the investigation, Dave said, makes it clear that the audience is having a good time. The organization, he said, hosts murder mystery presentations every months — with each of them netting about $1,000.

While many organizations hold golf tournaments and auctions, Hughes said Agape House seems to have found its niche with a dramatic flair. Their success has intrigued other regional organizations. Hughes said representatives from Habitat for Humanity of Walla Walla will be on hand to learn more about putting on a murder mystery presentation.

"That's a good fuzzy feeling for me," Hughes said. "We can share a fun afternoon and maybe introduce the murder mysteries to Habitat for Humanity.'

Money raised from the event will be used by Agape House to serve those in need in the community. For more information or to purchase a ticket, call Dave Hughes at 541-567-8774.
