DEAR ABBY

Daughter's identity as asexual is not welcomed by her mom

Dear Abby: I have recently started disclosing to close friends and family that I am asexual...

JEANNE PHILLIPS Advice

father tried to strangle me in a drunken rage one night, I took her and left. Years later, we are on good terms...

because of his history of alcohol abuse (which his sister is unaware of), I am not financially able to take her myself.

Is there a solution I'm overlooking? Am I callous for thinking she just wants a cute child as an accessory to her wedding party?

Dear Mother: Without knowing your former partner's sister, it would be unfair of me to guess her reason for wanting your daughter in her wedding.

Dear Abby: I have an interesting question for you. Is it sexual harassment if a female supervisor at work calls a male employee 'Honey'?

Dear Peter: If that's all there is to it, I doubt it would be considered sexual harassment. However, if you are the employee being called 'Honey,' because it bothers you, tell your employer privately that it makes you uncomfortable and you prefer being addressed by your given name.

DAYS GONE BY

100 Years Ago From the East Oregonian Feb. 22, 1917

That spring is yet a thing somewhat distant was evidenced by a heavy snow which started yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock and continued for several hours.

For Edna 'Hootie' McClintock a simple coffee cup can mean wondrous things — shapes, designs and, most importantly, colors. Hootie is blind. The last time Hootie actually saw colors she was in her early 20s.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

Today is the 53rd day of 2017. There are 312 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On Feb. 22, 1732 (New Style date), the first president of the United States, George Washington, was born in Westmoreland County in the Virginia Colony.

On this date: In 1862, Jefferson Davis, already the provisional president of the Confederacy, was inaugurated for a six-year term following his election in Nov. 1861.

In 1892, 'Lady Windermere's Fan' by Oscar Wilde was first performed at London's St. James' Theater.

In 1909, the Great White Fleet, a naval task force sent on a round-the-world voyage by President Theodore Roosevelt, returned after more than a year at sea.

In 1924, President Calvin Coolidge delivered the first radio broadcast from the White House as he addressed the country over 42 stations.

In 1935, it became illegal for airplanes to fly over the White House.

In 1940, the 14th Dalai Lama, Tenzin Gyatso, was enthroned at age four in Lhasa, Tibet.

In 1959, the inaugural Daytona 500 race was held; although Johnny Beauchamp was initially declared the winner, the victory was later awarded to Lee Petty.

In 1980, the 'Miracle on Ice' took place in Lake Placid, New York, as the United States Olympic hockey team upset the Soviets, 4-3. (The U.S. team went on to win the gold medal.)

In 1987, pop artist Andy Warhol died at a New York City hospital at age 58.

In 1997, scientists in Scotland announced they had succeeded in cloning an adult mammal, producing a lamb named 'Dolly.'

(Dolly, however, was later put down after a short life marred by premature aging and disease.)
