Pendleton Bowl In Far Off Marianas

Twice in the last month Umatilla county members of the armed forces on Saipan Island in the Marianas have written home telling about their theater "Pendleton Bowl," named after the Round-Up City. Recently the above picture came to Mayor Sprague Carter from Colonel Lyman L. Phillips, formerly commanding officer of Pendleton Field. (East Oregonian engraving.)

Island theater pays homage to Round-Up City

Members of the armed forces sacrifice a lot in the service of their country. In return, various types of entertainment are provided, when and where possible, to afford service members a little respite from the realities of war — the USO is a prime example. During World War II, an army detachment headed by the former commander of Pendleton Field built their own movie theater and stage on Saipan Island in the Marianas and named it after the home of the Pendleton Round-Up. In November of 1944, Colonel Lyman L. Phillips, the former Pendleton Field commander, sent a photo to Pendleton mayor Sprague Carter from "somewhere in the Marianas" showing a large wooden platform with a curtain in the rear and featuring an upright piano. The front of the stage bore a sign with a bucking horse and the name "Pendleton Bowl." Hundreds of sandbags were available as "reserved seats" — reserved by whoever got to them first. The name of the theater, according to Col. Phillips, was a unanimous decision by the soldiers that constructed it. Pendleton was well known throughout the many fronts of the war due to the many residents serving in the armed forces since Pearl Harbor, but also because of the world-famous rodeo. Col. Phillips also sent copies of posters for various shows staged at the theater, including "The Mariana Melodiers," the movie "Thousands Cheer" featuring an all-star cast, and Cpl. Stasik and his accordion. A copy of Ground Crew, a mimeographed newspaper produced by the unit, was also included in Mayor Carter's package. It sported the headline "Betty Hutton is Coming!!!" and assured Ms. Hutton she would have plenty of police protection during her visit. The paper also included a poem called "Horace and Lyman Were Colonels" that told of the unit's travels in many places, each verse ending with "They're our COs, they can do no wrong."

DAYS GONE BY

100 Years Ago From the East Oregonian Feb. 25-26, 1917

The PHS boys basketball team returned home from their trip over the mountains with unpleasant memories of high altitudes, snow, small gyms and defeats dealt out to them by La Grande, Wallowa and Enterprise. However, the boys state they were very well treated at the towns where they played and that they had very good floors to play on except at Enterprise where, it is said, there wasn't room on the floor for an umpire and referee at the same time the teams were playing. The last game of the season will be with La Grande here on March 2.

50 Years Ago From the East Oregonian Feb. 25-26, 1967

Reaction at Morrow County Courthouse was swift Friday to charges of "tax squeeze" and "gouging" because of reappraisal of north Morrow County lands. Reappraisal of the land is in line with a policy adopted several years ago by the county court. County Judge Paul Jones said the reappraisal had been authorized almost a year ago by the board of equalization because land appraised at $10 per acre was selling for $50.

25 Years Ago From the East Oregonian Feb. 25-26, 1992

When covered wagons roll west from Independence, Mo., in April of 1993, an "outlaw" from the Round-Up City will be riding high in the saddle, leading the train on its six-month journey to Oregon Country. Jerry Schubert, a 61-year-old Pendleton businessman who started the Round-Up Association wagon train here 10 years ago, was selected from among nine finalists as wagon master by the Oregon Trail Coordinating Council. Schubert, who will be joined on the 2,000-mile trek by his wife, Duveen, and other Pendleton pioneers like Paul Rice Sr. and Gerald Swaggart, will be responsible for charting the course and directing horse-pulled wagons and support vehicles through six states in the premier event in the nationwide celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Oregon Trail.

ODDS & ENDS

Religious altar hides illegal fuel tap

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Altars to the Virgin of Guadalupe are ubiquitous at businesses across Mexico. Now federal police say one has even been used in a gasoline smuggling racket in the central state of Puebla. Police said Tuesday that a trail of fuel leaking into the street in the town of San Martin Texmelucan led them into a lot where they found an altar to Mexico's patron saint with an unusual red hose protruding from it. As they approached, a man carrying a gun got out of a vehicle and tried to flee. Police say they eventually caught him, and five other people accused of filling up from the Virgin's tap. Thieves drill into thousands of pipelines across Mexico each year to steal fuel, creating losses for the state-owned oil company Pemex.

RULES

- Each row and each column must contain the numbers 1 through 6 without repeating.
- The numbers within the heavily outlined boxes, called cages, must combine using the given operation (in any order) to produce the target numbers in the top-left corners.
- Freebies: Fill in single-box cages with the number in the top-left corner.

7 LITTLE WORDS

Find the 7 words to match the 7 clues. The numbers in parentheses represent the number of letters in each solution. Each letter combination can be used only once, but all letter combinations will be necessary to complete the puzzle.

CLUES

- 1 person under 18 (5)
- 2 young Spanish woman (8)
- 3 immature young person (9)
- 4 young street wanderer (5)
- 5 young man (9)
