Chamber celebrates Boardman citizens

East Oregonian

The Boardman Chamber of Commerce recently celebrated residents that help in making the town a vibrant community.

In its 27th year, the annual awards banquet was held Feb. 10 at the Port of Morrow. Those recognized include:

Sam Toms, Citizen of the Year. Known as "Stan the Man," Toms is said to be the go-to person when senior citizens are in need. He provides transportation to doctor appointments, errands and other excursions. Regardless of where they need to go, Boardman's senior citizens can always count on Toms to get them there, said a press release from chamber executive Julie Gisi.

"Mr. Toms' involvement in Boardman is substantial throughout the years in Boardman and beyond the thank yous that can be said," the press release said.

Karen Purcell, Business Person of the Year. Owner of The Sunrise at Boardman Café, Purcell has lived in Boardman her entire life. She was recognized for her commitment to the community through her generosity and continuous involvement.

Collin Dunlap, Educator of the Year. The Riverside Jr/Sr High School music teacher, Dunlap received nominations from both coworkers and students. His enthusiasm and focus of the arts has built a strong interest from students and their families.

Adam Cole, Fire & Safety Award. A firefighter with the Boardman Rural Fire Protection District, Cole's dedication to the community keeps him busy. In addition to providing fire safety education, Cole is involved with community events, youth sports and participating in Ironman triathlons.

Selene Andrade, Youth of the Year. A senior at Riverside Jr/Sr High School, Andrade's dedication to sports, academics and community projects are inspiring to those around her. Due to her enthusiasm, great attitude and dedication, Andrade is said to be a role model for others.

In addition to the regular awards,

Gisi said several others were honored with special recognition that aren't normally presented.

"These special awards are just an extra boost of how great our community is," Gisi said.

Linda Toms, Special Award. After 30 years of business, Linda Toms closed the doors to her business, The Mouse Factory. The success of her business, Gisi said, was due to her good business sense, her commitment and involvement with others.

Nicholas Richardson and Adolfo Martinez, Life Saving Awards. Richardson and Martinez alerted two families that their duplex was on fire. Due to their quick action, both families, which included infants, escaped safely without injury.

Gisi is hopeful people will take the time to share thoughts and submit nominations — which are accepted throughout the year — for residents that make a lasting impact on the community. Information about the awards and nomination forms are available at www.boardmanchamber.org.
