Frida Kahlo drops by the art center

PENDLETON — This month, Portland's renowned Teatro Milagro will present a live performance of "Mijita Fridita," a lively bi-lingual show based on the childhood of artist Frida Kahlo. The free show will be held at the Pendleton Center for the Arts at 4 p.m. on Saturday, April 29. If you'd like to attend, contact the PCA at 541-278-9201 to reserve seats.

This family event is part of the Pendleton Public Library's Dia De Los Ninos celebration, focusing on the importance of children's literacy across all ethnic backgrounds. The library is also planning a free bi-lingual story-time during the week; call 541-966-0380 for details.

Whooo wants to learn about owls?

PENDLETON — A free talk on "Owls: Habitat, Habits, and Prey" will be held Thursday, April 13, from 1 to 2:30 p.m. in the Pendleton Rec Center's Foundation Room. What makes owls such perfect hunters? Where do they live and what can we do to protect them? Pendleton Parks & Rec hosts experts from Blue Mountain Wildlife to answer these questions and screen some informative videos. Kids will get some hands-on experience inspecting owl pellets and identifying the tiny bones they contain. Parents are also welcome. Register by April 7; call 541-276-8100.

New baby and toddler program starting up

HERMISTON — Hermiston Public Library has begun a program supporting early literacy development. Baby & Me Learn & Play is offered each Wednesday at 10 a.m. It's designed to engage newborns and toddlers up to age four and get them excited about music, while improving fine motor skills. Parents are encouraged to join in. Those attending should enter via the library's back door at 235 E. Gladys Ave. There is no fee to participate; for more information call 541-567-2882.
