BASEBALL:

In Game 1, Pendleton (6-9, 2-0 CRC) scored five of its seven runs in the bottom of the first inning and The Dalles (6-9, 0-2) scored all six of its runs through the first three innings. The game was tied 6-6 after three full, and then nearly four straight innings of zeros as both teams' pitching staffs settled in.

Then in the bottom of the seventh, Nick Bower led off with a single and was sacrificed to second base by Daniel Naughton. Two batters later, Hayden Villers stepped to the plate with two outs and flared a hit into right field that scored Bower for the walk-off 7-6 victory.

"I was pretty nervous there," Villers recalled about his at-bat. "The main thing on my mind was just scoring (Bower) and getting any kind of hit to make sure it gets down. (The pitcher) threw me an outside fastball and I just stepped into it and took it the other way.'

Then in Game 2, Pendleton's offense was relentless against The Dalles pitchers, cranking out 13 hits to score the 13 runs. Bower was the leader of the pack, as he went 3 for 3 with a triple and four RBI in the game and finished with five hits on the day overall, while Cam Sandford had two hits and three RBI and Justin Duso added two hits, two RBI and two runs scored.

"I thought we hit the ball well up-and-down the lineup," Haguewood said. "I thought the boys did a good job with two strikes with some key hits and put the ball in play and made the defense get us out rather than us giving away the outs." Bower said that the team definitely was feeding off the energy of the earlier walk-off win, which may have contributed to the performance at the plate.

'Absolutley, it definitely put a little pep in our step and got us excited," Bower said. "For us to come out second game and hit the ball around the yard, come out with the win, was great."

Pendleton sprinted out to a 5-1 lead after two innings, but the second time through the line-up The Dalles batters began to get to Pendleton pitcher Ryan Russell. The Riverhawks scored a pair of runs in the third and then three in the fourth to overtake the Bucks with a 6-5 lead. But the Bucks picked up their pitcher in the bottom of the fourth when Duso led off with a triple into the right field corner and Sandford followed up with a sacrifice fly to left field to tie the game at 6-6.

Russell, making just his third pitching appearance this season, went back out for the fifth and quickly loaded the bases for the third straight inning. Needing just one more out, it prompted Haguewood to visit Russell to try and reassure his pitcher.

"He just told me to have confidence in my guys behind me," Russell recalled. "To throw strikes, don't focus too much on a strikeout and try to get a groundout.'

Instead, Russell fired an inside fastball that the Riverhawk batter turned on and sent an easy fly ball to left field for the final out. It was a huge turning point for the Buckaroos and Haguewood said he was proud to see Russell get himself out of the jam unscathed.

"He's a bulldog on the hill there," Haguewood said. "He's on his tail end of his outing there and he did a great job of bearing down and getting a pop-out and we were able to capitalize the following inning.

And capitalize they did. Pendleton responded with a six-hit, seven-run inning that saw three different Riverhawk pitchers toe the rubber as the Buckaroos opened up a 13-6 lead at that point and cruised to the win.

"I really think we're starting to turn the corner," Russell said of the Buckaroos. "And in league, this is the perfect time to do it." UP NEXT

"You always want to get that first win to get things rolling," Pendleton coach Tim Cary said. "Overall we found ways to win and that's what good teams do. We battled through some adversity early and we didn't hit very well but we got the hits when we needed to and got some breaks."

Pendleton (14-2, CRC) ace Lauren Richards started Game 1 in the circle and had a decent outing with 14 strikeouts, though she did give up six hits, two runs and five walks. She started out looking solid, with eight strikeouts and just three baserunners allowed through the first four innings.

But starting in the fifth, Richards wasn't as sharp as Buckaroo fans are used to seeing from the junior righty and her command was just so-so. She loaded the bases in the fifth, but escaped unscathed. She again loaded the bases in the seventh and this time gave up a single and a walk to bring in a pair of runs in the inning.

"She threw more balls than we want and fell behind in the count more than we're used to," Cary said. "But bottom line is she beared down when she had to. I think it was good for her to have to deal with that and her attitude about it was great."

Kirah McGlothan was Pendleton's best offensive player in that game, as she went 2 for 4 with two doubles and three RBI. Her second double came in the sixth inning just after The Dalles (1-13, 0-2) had cut the lead to 4-2 and was looking to get back in the game. With runners on second and third, McGlothan smacked a pitch to dead center field that clanked off the base of the fence to score both and put

"We go up there and look for our pitch," McGlothan said of her at-bat. "I was just looking for my pitch ... the pitcher threw me a fastball up and I just took it.

"She's just a great hitter," Cary said of the sophomore. "She's a great athlete, she's fast ... we try to get her up to bat as much as we can because we love having her on base and she's been a clutch hitter for us, not only today.'

Richards also had a strong game at the plate and recorded three hits with two RBI. She also tallied two hits in Game 2 to finish with a very successful 5-for-7 offensive day.

In Game 2, Pendleton came out and set the tone right away. McGlothan led off with her third double of the day and Richards followed with an RBI single for a quick 1-0 lead. Next batter, Kalan McGlothan launched a two-run home run and the Buckaroos were off and running, eventually leading 6-0 after one inning.

"It was nice to see the bats come alive more than they did in the first game," Cary said. "We were a little flat to start but I think we came out with more energy and it showed."

Alexis Brehaut pitched a five-inning complete game for Pendleton with seven strikeouts, allowing seven hits and two walks. "She threw very well,"

Cary said. "She kept them (Riverhawks) off balance, did a nice job locating and mixing up her speeds.' UP NEXT

BLAZERS: Nurkic's status 'to be determined'

McCollum scored playoff career-best points, and Lillard had 34, but the Warriors made the crucial big plays on both ends down the stretch with Portland missing injured center Jusuf Nurkic.

"When they got it going, they're hitting tough shots in the first half, some you've just got to live with, we played great defense," Curry said. "They were just able to finish, but over the course of 48 you just try to wear them down.

Draymond Green had 19 points, 12 rebounds, nine assists, five blocked shots and three steals to help last season's second-place team take the first step in what it is counting on to be a championship run.

Durant shot 12 for 20, showing no issues with a recent left knee injury that sidelined him 19 games before he returned for the final three regular-season contests with the NBA-best Warriors.

"The game ratchets up when you get into the playoffs," Durant said. "I definitely felt good out there."

Game 2 is Wednesday night at Oracle Arena.

The opener in a rematch of last season's Western Conference semifinals won in five games by Golden State didn't disappoint featuring two of the NBA's best backcourt duos. There was a little of everything: physical play, trash talk, deep 3-pointers, monster blocked shots and dazzling dunks. After one flurry of a third-quarter sequence when several players on both teams hit the floor trying to secure a loose ball, four McCollum shot 11 of 15 in the first half then began the second 2 for 7 and finished his day 16 of 28, while Lillard went 12 for 26. McCollum's 27 first-half points matched a Portland playoff record for a half and he and Lillard had 48 of their team's 56 at the break.

towel guys frantically wiped down the court.

"You've got to give them a lot of credit, they got it going," Green said. "At some point you have to make them miss.

The Warriors' defensive intensity after halftime was the difference in the Blazers' minds — and Lillard expects everybody to do more. "Dame and CJ, if they get 80 between them we've still got to score another 40 or 50 from somewhere," coach Terry Stotts said.

The Warriors hope to get forward Matt Barnes back from a sprained right ankle and foot Wednesday night for Game 2, while the Blazers were uncertain when Nurkic might be ready to return.

"To be determined," Stotts said.
