OBITUARIES

Charles Burton Jarvis

Tigard
August 7, 1941-April 4, 2017

Charles Burton Jarvis, 75, passed away suddenly on April 4, 2017, at his home in Tigard, Oregon. Charles was born in Pendleton, Oregon, on August 7, 1941.

He is survived by his wife, Rochelle Cawley; his children James Jarvis (Paula) and two grandchildren, Jamie Jarvis Cusick (Brian) and three grandchildren, and Jerald Jarvis (Jeanie) and two grandchildren; daughters through marriage Martha Cawley, Dawn Kennedy, two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren, and Suzanne Hansen (Darrin) and three grandchildren; and his sister Mary Eloise Gilliland (Gene).

He was preceded in death by Claude Henry Jarvis (father), Hazel Ely Jarvis (mother), Jimmie James Jarvis and Leslie Jarvis (brothers) and his beloved niece, Cindy Gilliland Gilbert.

Life in Oregon was idyllic. The family cabin rested on 5,500 acres of pine and cattle. He was quite athletic and upon graduating from Ukiah High School he joined the Navy and served his country.

Always the life of the party, he never met a stranger and sought to make everyone feel comfortable. A loving father and grandfather to the end, we are left with a great appreciation of Westerns, science fiction, shows like "The Prisoner" and more, much more, all of which have duly been passed on to his grandchildren. Dad left behind a great love for good company, great conversation, and very positive personality. He was always researching great recipes and had the kitchen of a professional chef.

Possibly what marked his life the most was his continual improvement as a person and as a Christian. Charles never stopped getting better and better and leaves behind a loving family and array of friends.

Private services to be held at a later date. A donation to your local food bank in his honor is greatly appreciated.

Jarvis

HERMISTON

Blue skies and Easter eggs

By JAYATI RAMAKRISHNAN
East Oregonian

The sun was shining and the weather clear, making a great backdrop for lots of Easter festivities on Saturday. Some churches had their traditional breakfast, egg hunts and activities, while others tried new things this year.

The Hermiston Church of the Nazarene was among those that tried something new, starting an Easter egg hunt for special needs children to go along with their usual events.

"We just saw there was a need," said Melody Kinswa, a connections pastor at the church. "I think we'll continue in our planning for other events like this."

The event was well-attended, with children of all ages participating.

"I really like the fact they did the regular hunt first, and then had something for the special needs," said Jenee Bush, whose son Zachary Fisher participated in the hunt. "We definitely wanted to come out and support it."

The Victory Baptist Church had an event at McKenzie Park on West Orchard Avenue, which included a barbecue, picnic and an Easter egg hunt.

This was the first year holding such a large event, said pastor Dax Bryant.

At the United Methodist Church on East Gladys Avenue, there was a lot going on, from face painting, to an egg hunt, to the serving of bunny-shaped pancakes.

Virginia Miller, who has been coming to the church since 1974, said the event has become a tradition for their church.
