ARRESTS, CITATIONS

Sunday
 •Pendleton police cited Jonathan Clark, 23, of Pilot Rock, for driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Monday
 •Oregon State Police cited William Russell, 44, for reckless driving. While we don't usually report on singular traffic citations outside of driving under the influence, state police reported Russell drove a commercial semitrailer just a few feet off another vehicle's rear bumper on Highway 11 near milepost 8 and passed it in a no-passing zone while speeding on a blind hill.

"The driver almost crashed while attempting to overtake another vehicle in Milton-Freewater," state police reported.

•Pendleton police arrested Nathaniel Eickstaedt, 21, of Pendleton, for DUII.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Noon Kiwanis announce scholarship recipients

The Hermiston Kiwanis Noon Club announced that six Hermiston High School students have been selected to each receive $1,000 scholarships.

The Perry Johnson Post-Secondary Education Scholarships have been awarded to Frederick Gonzalez, Kellie Zepeda and Wyatt Paschal.

Gonzalez plans to study business and/or graphics design. Zepeda plans to attend the University of Portland, where she will work towards a degree in physical therapy with the ultimate goal of getting a doctorate in the field. Paschal will pursue a degree in agricultural education at Washington State University.

Recipients of the Russell Dorran Memorial Scholarships are Jahayra Garcia, Vanessa Ambriz and Matthew Rada.

Garcia plans to major in finance at the University of Portland. Ambriz will study international relations at Whitman College. Rada will major in atmospheric sciences at Oregon State University with the goal of a master's degree in meteorology from the University of Oklahoma.

The scholarship applicants were evaluated on their academic achievements, financial need, and leadership and service activities within their school and community.

The scholarships are given in memory of a pair of past Kiwanis members. Johnson also was a Baptist minister, who supported youth services and education. Dorran was a charter member of the club, as well as the Hermiston Elks Lodge, Hermiston Development Corporation and Blue Mountain Community College board.

For more information about the Kiwanis scholarship program, write Hermiston Noon Kiwanis Club, P.O. Box 375, Hermiston, OR 97838.

Education foundation awards scholarships

The Hermiston Education Foundation recently announced it awarded five $2,500 scholarships to graduating seniors from Hermiston High School.

The recipients include Frederick Gonzalez, who plans to study business and/or graphic design; Wyatt Paschal, who will pursue a degree in agricultural education at Washington State University; Matthew Rada, who will attend Oregon State University to study atmospheric sciences with the goal of a master's degree in meteorology from the University of Oklahoma; Carla Medel, who plans to study psychology at OSU in preparation for a career as a juvenile therapist; and Kellie Zepeda, who will study physical therapy at the University of Portland.

The students were evaluated on academic achievement, leadership and service activities at school and the community, and financial need.

Separate from the school district, the Hermiston Education Foundation is a nonprofit public benefit corporation. Their goal is to help students reach their potential. In addition to scholarships awarded each spring, the organization provides grants twice a year to teachers in the district to enhance and provide additional educational opportunities for students.

For more information about the foundation's scholarship program, write Hermiston Education Foundation, P.O. Box 1096, Hermiston, OR 97838.

Car, semi collide at Fourth and Elm

HERMISTON — A car and a semi crashed at Northeast Fourth Street and East Elm Avenue on Tuesday morning in Hermiston.

The driver of the 1996 Pontiac Bonneville, Laura DeMoss Bradley, was uninjured and the passenger, Jeannett McCoy, was complaining of pain after the crash. The driver of the Freightliner, Kenneth Waelty, was also uninjured.

Hermiston police officers arrived on the scene around 9:09 a.m., a few minutes after the crash occurred, and found the two occupants of the car still inside the vehicle. Waelty was standing on the side of the road. The car had crashed into the side of the semi, and both windows on the driver's side had been shattered.

After officers spoke to witnesses and both drivers, Waelty was issued a citation for making an improper right turn. He was turning from Northeast Fourth onto Elm, and the car was driving straight on Elm.

Pendleton man killed in Baker County crash

BAKER CITY — A Pendleton man died in a wrong-way freeway crash Sunday when his car struck two semi-trucks, hitting one head-on, after he exited the Baker Valley Rest Area driving west in the eastbound lanes.

Joseph Alan Sizemore, 32, died at the scene, an Oregon State Police press report stated. OSP was dispatched to the crash at 9:44 p.m. Sunday.

Sizemore's 2012 Ford Focus first sideswiped a semitractor-trailer and then struck a second semi head-on, police said. Sizemore apparently left the Baker Valley Rest Area, about 10 miles north of Baker City, and drove onto the off-ramp and into the eastbound traffic, police said.

North Powder Fire Department volunteers were first on the scene and found Sizemore dead in the driver's seat of his car. He was traveling alone, police said.

The trucks were driven by Jonathan M. Lawrence, 26, of Hammond, Indiana; and Isaac Jermaine Pitts, 34, of Hahira, Georgia. Dorian Raymond Temple, 22, of Jacksonville, Florida, was a passenger in one of the trucks. The Baker

A car and a semi truck were involved in a collision at Northeast 4th and Elm Avenue in Hermiston Tuesday morning.

City ambulance transported one person to St. Alphonsus Medical Center after the crash.

Both trucks were towed from the scene. The eastbound freeway was closed at La Grande for several hours Sunday night during the cleanup and investigation.

Responders to hold emergency drill tests Thursday

HERMISTON — Local responders will hold an emergency drill Thursday evening, the Umatilla County Emergency Management announced.

Good Shepherd Medical Center, local police, fire and ambulance departments will participate in the drill to practice emergency response plans, communications and the ability to handle a mass casualty incident.

The exercise will start around 6 p.m. near Hermiston, according to the statement from the county, and involve emergency vehicles, such as fire trucks, police vehicles and ambulances.

The drill also will test the emergency notification system Alert Sense with area residents.

"Some residents in Hermiston may receive a text message or phone call notifying them that the emergency drill is taking place," according to the statement. "No public response is needed; this will only be a test of the emergency notification system. If a real emergency were to happen, residents would receive information and emergency instructions."

County emergency management stressed not to call 9-1-1 unless you need help from emergency services.

Fake money defendants face new charges

PENDLETON — Two of five Pendleton men facing counterfeiting charges ended up in jail Saturday.

Pendleton police arrested Dustin James Verrall, 24, for possession of methamphetamine, first-degree theft, second-degree mischief (vandalism) and unauthorized entry of a motor vehicle on Saturday evening on the 800 block of Southwest Emigrant Avenue. He has a hearing on the case on May 15.

Police also nabbed Zachary James Norton, 32, on a felony parole violation. Court records show he has convictions in 2015 in Umatilla County for witness tampering and domestic violence crimes of assault and strangulation.

Pendleton police reported they and three other Pendleton men — Tyler Dunn, 18, Timothy McMurphy, 30, and Daniel Wilson, 33 — were involved in a scheme to make fake $100 bills. The Umatilla County District Attorney's Office in April brought forgery charges against each of the five.
