Scots to take over Athena

East Oregonian

A gathering of friends, music, sharing and friendly Scottish athletic competition is featured during this weekend's Athena Caledonian Games.

Proclaiming "Let the Games begin!" the official opening of the Games by Chieftains of the Day Paula Babb and John Shafer will take place during the Caledonian dinner. A fundraiser for the event, the gathering is Friday from 5:30-7:30 p.m. at Athena City Park. The candle lighting ceremony at 7:30 p.m. serves as an informal blessing of clan, family and the festival.

Music will fill the air at the park. Among the highlights are Guess When, a Boise-based group. A Celtic folk rock band, Guess When incorporates its unique sound by putting a Celtic spin on contemporary cover songs.

Featuring pipes and bodhran, guitars, fiddles or vocals, Guess When offers a varied program that will transport audiences to auld Scotland, said Sue Friese of Caledonian Games. Their music is energetic, she said, and their pace is dedicated to honest Celtic spirit but informal and fun. The group performs Friday during the event fundraiser, as well as Saturday at 12:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Also, while hanging around the park Saturday, you won't want to miss Trio of One. Michael Mullen ties in his own accompaniment with live-looped jigs and reels. A one-man band, Trio of One rocks acoustic folk with a Celtic twist, performing at 11:15 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

In the adjacent athletic fields, flying objects will fill the air — including hammers, weights, hay bales, and the well-known caber — during the Scottish Athletic Competition. The registrations are open Saturday at 11 a.m. and the competition starts at noon. Beginners, masters and professionals — kilts not required — compete all afternoon.

The Scottish-American Athletic Association monitors and sanctions the competition, which is historically based on techniques of strength required to farm the rough lands of Scotland. Athena resident Alan Wensing is chairman of the athletic competition.

In addition to music and sport, Friese said the Athena Caledonian Games are known for the storytelling of Mary Finney, Celtic harp performances by Janet Naylor, vendors, kids' games, displays and clan tents, which are forming a Clan Village in Athena City Park.

The day's activities will crescendo with Saturday evening's Caledonian Tattoo. An outdoor concert, it features marching pipe bands, who will join together for a fantastic finale with the Blue Mountains as a backdrop.

Sunday's schedule features a church service, a Kirkin' o' the Tartan at 9:30 a.m., followed by Caledonian Coffee Hour.

Caledonian, Friese said, has a new look with banners provided by a grant from the Wildhorse Foundation that proclaim "Hoot, mon! It's Scot to be Athena!" and "Ceud Mile Fàilte, 100,000 Welcomes."
