White Eagle Grange announces car wash, rifle raffle fundraisers

PENDLETON — White Eagle Grange is heading up some fundraisers throughout the year to support its White Eagle Grange Youth Fund and the Pendleton Fourth of July fireworks fund.

The grange will continue to raise money to support area youth activities, including the Pilot Rock Little League, assisting with school trips and providing school supplies for needy students. Also, its Words for Thirds program provides dictionaries to all area third graders.

A car wash is set for Sunday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Dave's FoodMart, 220 S.W. 12th St., Pendleton. Donations will be accepted.

In addition, a rifle raffle offers a choice between a 30-06 or 308 caliber, camo or black stock rifle. Tickets, which are $10 each, are available at Elite Guns & Bows, 213 S.E. Second St., Pendleton Chamber of Commerce, 501 S. Main St., and during functions at White Eagle Grange, 43828 White Eagle Road, located off Highway 395 between Pendleton and Pilot Rock.

The drawing will be held Saturday, Dec. 2 during the 150 Grange Breakfast Celebration at the White Eagle Grange hall. The winner, who must be at least 18 years old, doesn't need to be present.

For more information, contact Gail Wilson at 541-310-9655 or gail11wilson@gmail.com.

Tiny tots go for the gold

PENDLETON — Kids up to age 5 are invited to participate in a variety of activities as they compete for medals and a chance to stand on the podium.

EOCenes shine during eclipse weekend

Popular bluegrass group also to perform during Round-Up week

East Oregonian

A familiar group that gets together each year for performances during the Pendleton Round-Up are warming up this weekend in La Grande and Baker City.

EOCenes includes Ron Emmons of Hermiston, Hugh McClellan of Oregon City, Duane Boyer of Haines and Hal Spence of Wallowa. The group is joined Friday and Saturday by Alan Feves of Pendleton on stand-up bass. This weekend's shows include:

•Saturday at 7:30 p.m. (doors open at 7 p.m.) at the La Grande Methodist Church, 1612 Fourth St. General admission is $8 or $5 for seniors and students.

•Sunday from 4-6 p.m. in the Powder River Pavilion at Geiser-Pollman Park, 1723 Madison St., Baker City. As part of the Powder River Music Review series, there's no set admission fee. People are encouraged to make a $5 donation to help support the music series. Those who donate will receive a raffle ticket for a chance to win a gift basket.

A bluegrass group, EOCenes was formed in the late 1960s while the classmates were attending Eastern Oregon College (now University). Emmons and Boyer met during freshmen orientation week and connected with Spence and McClellan through their involvement in the Eastern Oregon College Ambassadors, a musical touring group that performed across the Pacific Northwest.

Emmons, frontman for local bluegrass band Cabbage Hill, has played mandolin and sung lead tenor and baritone with the Blue Mountain Crested Wheatgrass Boys, the Muddy Bottom Boys, Blue Heat and The Thatchmasters.

Boyer, who plays banjo and guitar and sings lead, tenor and baritone, taught banjo and guitar at his alma mater. In addition, he played a major role in bringing national bluegrass acts to the area.

McClellan, known for his lonesome bass voice, also plays rhythm guitar and harmonica. He also has fronted a country-swing band and sang in a gospel quartet.

Spence played guitar and sang tenor for 27 years with The Sawtooth Mountain Boys. One of the Pacific Northwest's best known bluegrass bands, its travels included three tours in Europe.

"We all went our separate ways after, playing music in different bands," Spence said. "So, 40-some years later we ran into each other at a festival in Tygh Valley, and we still remembered some songs, so we started playing a few projects together."

EOCenes, Spence said, will again rendezvous in Pendleton during Round-Up. In addition to Feves, National Oldtime Fiddle Champion Dan Emert will perform with the group.

The shows, which typically sell out, are set for Thursday, Sept. 14 and Friday, Sept. 15 at 7 p.m. at Pendleton Center for the Arts, 214 N. Main St. Tickets are $12 and can be reserved by calling 541-278-9201.
