Murder mystery dinner fires up the barbie

By TAMMY MALGESINI East Oregonian

A barbecue meal is featured during the upcoming murder mystery dinner theater event presented by Agape House. However, before the barbie even gets fired up, a mate's getting skewered. With an Australian barbecue theme, the menu features a choice of maple bacon chicken or rotisserie pork loin. The meal, catered by Nookie's Restaurant, also includes corn on the cob, baked beans and coleslaw. The cost is $30 per person.

"Bump Off at the BBQ" is Saturday at 5:30 p.m. at the Maxwell Siding Event Center, 145 N. First Place, Hermiston. Guests are invited to enjoy the meal while attempting to crack the case before their chicken gets cold.

It seems someone is as mad as a cut snake at Willy Willy, the host of the barbecue. Among the potential suspects are Sally Monella, Willy's voluptuous neighbor, Crocodile Dunkirk, the muscular park ranger; Frank Furter, who is known to tip back a few too many Foster lagers; Sheila Swheels, a car insurance broker and professional boomerang thrower; and Sidney Oprahaus, who works in importing/exporting. Or maybe it's Dame Edna Average, Willy's outrageous girlfriend, who is anything but

"Obviously, every one of the characters have a reason to want to see him not alive anymore," said Dave Hughes, Agape House executive director.

The murder mystery presentations have been real corkers for Agape House. Hosting the dramatic fundraising events every few months, Hughes said they each net about $1,000 for the nonprofit organization. Agape House assists with providing basic services for people in need in Hermiston and the surrounding area.

This is the second time the event will be held at the Maxwell Siding Event Center, which offers about the same amount of seating as the venue at Agape House. Hughes is stoked with the arrangement.

"The biggest advantage is when the play is over, my wife and I can walk out the door and we don't have to clean up the building," he said with a laugh.

All joking aside, Hughes is appreciative of the partnership in working with personnel from Nookie's and the event center.

"With their donation of a good portion of the user's fee and what they do for us, it makes it a lot easier," he said.

The helpful bloke that he is, Hughes will hook you up with tickets or answer questions if you ring him at 541-567-8774 or 541-571-7293.
