Police: Eclipse event guards arrested, wrongly detain couple

BEND (AP) — Authorities say three security guards were arrested for wrongfully detaining two people at an Oregon eclipse festival. The Bend Bulletin reports the three guards were arrested Tuesday morning at Big Summit Prairie and later released with their charges dropped, but the Crook County District Attorney's Office is reviewing the case. Sheriff's deputies arrested Washington state residents Jared Leoney and Ryan Schroeder and Oregon resident Thomas King on accusations that they detained a man and woman for cooking drugs in a camper. Leoney and King were charged with assault because the detained man required medical attention. King was also found with a concealed handgun and although he had a permit for it, the event security requirements stated that firearms were prohibited. Crook County Sheriff's Sgt. Travis Jurgens says the couple had not been making drugs.

PUBLIC SAFETY LOG

THURSDAY
4:11 a.m. - Rescuers freed a semi driver from a crash near Pendleton.
Oregon State Police reported a Freightliner semitrailer was westbound on Interstate 84 near milepost 212 a couple miles from Pendleton when the driver, Lavar Hatchell, 40, of Los Angeles, swerved to avoid a deer and lost control of the tractor and trailer.
The big rig rolled onto the driver's side and across both westbound lanes, according to state police, and an International semitrailer then struck the Freightliner. The crash pinned Hatchell in the cab for one-and-a-half hours before an emergency team could free him.
He suffered non-life-threatening injuries, according to state police, and an ambulance took him to St. Anthony Hospital, Pendleton.
The wreck also blocked the westbound lanes for more than two hours.
9:39 a.m. - A Pendleton man asked to speak to an officer about his soon-to-be ex-father-in-law harassing him.
10:12 a.m. - Umatilla police took a report about vandalism on a newly constructed house on John Day Street.
8:10 p.m. - Pendleton police responded to Southeast Eighth Street for an assault victim who declined medical help. The caller reported the assaulter was the fiancé.

8:11 p.m. - A caller at the Pilot Travel Center, 2115 S. Highway 395, Stanfield, reported "there are people going after someone outside," then disconnected.
8:51 p.m. - Pendleton police received a report about a vehicle theft at Hill Meat Co., 1503 N.W. 50th St.
9:45 p.m. - A Pendleton resident on Southwest Fifth Street told police he chased off a prowler from the back yard. Police looked but did not find a suspect.
