Phil L. Borngraeber

Ketchikan, Alaska

August 21, 1950 - July 12, 2017

Phil, 66, was born on August 21, 1950, in Pendleton, Oregon, to Phil and Betty Bomgraeber (Rugg). He attended school and graduated in 1969 from Pilot Rock High School. Phil earned his Bachelor of Science degree from Lewis & Clark College in Portland, Oregon, in 1979.

Bomgraeber

After graduation, he worked in management for Safeway and then Carrs in Alaska. After retiring from the grocery business, Phil went back to school to begin a second career as an x-ray technician and then as an MRI technologist. At the time of his death he was working at Peace Hospital in Ketchikan, Alaska.

Growing up, Phil enjoyed the wilds of Eastern Oregon, hunting duck, pheasant and chukar with his lifelong friends. Even though Phil moved away from Pilot Rock in the early '70s he remained close to many of his high school friends. Phil lived most of his adult life in Alaska. Although he took jobs in the lower 48 states he always returned to Alaska, much to his family's chagrin. He enjoyed traveling the world, and especially loved to escape to Mexico in the winter.

Phil will always be remembered by his nieces and nephews for short-sheeting their beds and hiding hangers between the sheets; suggesting behavior and ideas that would annoy their parents; and frequently teasing them while always encouraging them to go to college, travel, and experience life.

Phil's humor cannot be duplicated. He was smart, funny, and perfected his delivery in his youth against his sisters. We will miss his emails so full of fun and jokes about the family interactions.

We cherish those and will share them for years to come.

Recently asked "What brings you joy?" Phil responded, "A cold, beer, old western movies and being outside in the sunny weather walking, on my bike, or watching the sea." Never one to accumulate "things," he created a life that brought him joy: work, family, and friends.

Phil was preceded in death by his father, Phil Bomgraeber, mother Betty Rugg, stepmother Joyce Brown and stepbrother Jeff Bomgraeber. He is survived by his stepdad, Bud Rugg; sisters Eva (Warren) Sanders, Angela (Dennis) Lind and Diane (Fred) Frye; nieces and nephews Temara Sanders (Tim), Joshua Sanders, Natasha Cooper (Aaron), Byron Cooper (Kirsten) and Hannah Frye; and numerous great-nieces and -nephews.

A reception will be held on Friday, September 15, 2017, from 5:30-7:30 p.m. at the Rugg residence, 130 S.W. Second Ave., Pilot Rock. Phil's family would like to invite friends to stop by to celebrate Phil's life.

Family graveside service will be held on Sunday at the Pilot Rock Cemetery.

Roy Wiley 'Bud' Hamblen

College Place, Wash.

May 28, 1941 - August 28, 2017

Roy Wiley (Bud) Hamblen passed away at home on August 28, 2017, at the age of 76.

He was born on May 28, 1941, to Howard and Letha Hodge Hamblen in Walla Walla, Wash. He grew up in the Umapine, Oregon, area and graduated from Umapine High School in 1959. He met Mary Carroll in Waitsburg, Washington, that summer and they were married at her aunt and uncle's home on Sixth Street on February 1, 1960.

Hamblen

He worked for his stepfather Wilber Schubert and other area farmers until he got a job at Jones Normel Frozen Foods in the fall of 1973. Jones Normel later became Smith Frozen Foods after Dr. Jones' death, and he worked there 29 years, mainly in the Corn Room. He was forced to retire early because of a shoulder surgery that did not heal properly. Later the shoulder improved enough that he took a job with Walla Walla Parks & Recreation at Pioneer Park and worked five summers there, a job he really enjoyed.

He enjoyed hunting in his younger years, and he and the family loved to camp and fish.

He is survived by his wife Mary at home; four children, Donald, Little Rock, Wash., Deborah Eide (Steve), Olympia, Wash., Roy Thomas, College Place, Wash., and Linda Ferguson, Tucson, Ariz.; eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren; brothers Vern Hamblen, Milton-Freewater, Ore., James Schubert, Walla Walla, Wash., Robert Hamblen, Post Falls, Idaho, and Ernest Hamblen, Liberty Lake, Wash.; and sisters Janice West, Kamiah, Idaho, Patricia Poe, Milton-Freewater, Ore., and Norma Fowler, Oregon City, Ore.

At Roy's request, there will be no service but there will be a Celebration of Life at a later date.

The family would like to send a special thank you to Walla Walla Community Hospice.

Pamela Jane Holdman Cavagnaro

Portland

August 3, 1956 - August 28, 2017

Pamela Jane Holdman was born in Pendleton, the first of Nora Lee and Ben's four children. She graduated from Griswold High in Helix, Oregon, in 1974, and earned a B.S. at Oregon State University in 1958. Pam was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and remained active in the organization throughout her life.

Cavagnaro

Her working career spanned a number of years in the office products industry in the Portland area. She later moved into the insurance business where she invested 20 years as an adjuster for Safeco, and more recently 10 years as an independent insurance adjuster in Portland.

She was a fabulous cook and "ruled the roost" from her beautiful kitchen, which was the heart of the Cavagnaro home and which she designed herself. No one ever left the table still hungry.

Pam was very active in both Lincoln youth and Lincoln High School football, as well as wrestling, for son Ben. Similarly, she was an integral part of Lincoln's competitive dance team, for which she managed the bookkeeping and fundraising. Pam was also there for all of daughter Ali's many competitions.

Pam is survived by her husband, Dan; her children, Ben and Ali; her parents, Nora Lee and Ben; her siblings, sisters Robyn and Vicki and brother Chris; her in-laws, Connie, Jim, and Lynne; as well as countless nieces and nephews.

A funeral mass for Pam will be held at St. Mary's Church in Pendleton on Thursday, Sept. 21, 2017, at 11 a.m., thus ending her brave two-year battle with colon cancer.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be dedicated to the Oregon Humane Society or to a charity of choice.

Canadian gets jail time for biting girl at Green Day concert

PORTLAND (AP) — A Canadian man who bit a 14-year-old girl on her right breast during a Green Day concert in Portland last month has been sentenced to 30 days in jail. Joel Dauncey of Vancouver pleaded no contest Monday to misdemeanor harassment of a sexual or intimate body part.

Court documents say the teen told police she was dancing next to her mother at the Aug. 2 concert when a stranger bit her. She rated the pain as "3" on a 1-10 scale.

A woman working at the concert told police that Dauncey had been cut off from buying alcohol. The worker said she witnessed the bite.

The 34-year-old man told investigators he does not remember the incident.
