OBITUARIES

Douglas William Webb

Pendleton
July 9, 1953 - September 20, 2017

Douglas William Webb, 64, of Pendleton died September 20 at St. Anthony Hospital following a bike accident.

Webb was born July 9, 1953, in Pendleton, Ore., to Don and JoAnne Webb. He grew up with his older brother and younger sister in Pendleton where he also met his wife of 35 years, Storm Bader Webb, in 1979, whom he married December 4, 1981.

Webb

Doug was self employed, operating Webb's Cold Storage as a butcher and iceman. Many years of meeting friends and customers during deliveries and meat cutting sessions produced plenty of storytelling and laughs and fun times shared.

Doug was an excellent guitar player in his younger days. Cross picking was his specialty, playing in a bluegrass band, traveling to local fiddle contests and, after his kids were born, he passed his love for music on to them. He loved hunting when he was younger up in the mountains with relatives, then later really enjoyed bird hunting with just him and his dog. Fishing for salmon and steelhead and smoking a lot of his catches at "the plant" (Webb's Cold Storage) led to lots of good eating and memories.

Doug is survived by his wife Storm; children Hannah (Adam) Gardner of Sedro Wooley, Wash., Hank Webb of Portland, Ore., and Ross Webb of Pendleton; granddaughter Georgia Gardner; parents Don and JoAnne Webb, Pendleton, Ore.; brother Dave Webb, La Grande, Ore.; sister Wendy Carames, Arroyo Grande, Calif.; and his best friend Juice, the dog.

A celebration of life is planned for September 30 from 2-4 p.m. in the Helpers Room at the Pendleton Round-Up Grounds.

Memorial contribution may be made to the Shriner's Hospital c/o Pendleton Pioneer Chapel, 131 S.E. Byers Ave., Pendleton, OR 97801.

Online condolences may be sent to www.pioneerchapel.com.

Class creates holiday stockings

PENDLETON — People can learn to make socks, slippers and/or holiday stockings during a class offered through Pendleton Center for the Arts.

Instruction will be provided on a circular needle using the magic loop method. Participants should be comfortable working in the round and be able to do the knit and purl stitches.

The first Socks, Slippers & Holiday Stockings class (Sept. 26) included viewing samples and discussion about different styles. The subsequent sessions will feature working on projects. The classes are Tuesdays (through Oct. 24) from 6:30-8:30 p.m. at the arts center, 214 N. Main St., Pendleton. The cost is $60 for members and $65 for non-members.

For more information or to register, call 541-278-9201 or visit www.pendletonarts.org.

Dayton theater hosts global film festival

DAYTON, Washington — Filmgoers have an opportunity to become movie critics during the 20th annual Manhattan Short Film Festival.

People are invited to join theatergoers from 250 cities across six continents to view and vote on 10 short films, including a range of genres with comedy, drama, horror, sci-fi, animation and martial arts. The Liberty Theater, 344 E. Main St., in Dayton, Washington, is the only site in the region that is participating in the festival. Screenings are Thursday, Sunday and Tuesday, Oct. 3 at 6:30 p.m. and Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. The cost is $7 to $9.

For more information, contact Kirsten Schober at kirsten@libertytheater.org, 509-382-1380 or visit www.libertytheater.org. For more about the festival, go to www.manhattanshort.com.

Library offers sweet deal

PENDLETON — The public is invited to help support the Pendleton Public Library's grade school book clubs.

For sweet treats and an opportunity to help promote reading, stop by during the Book Club Bake Sale. The event is Friday and Saturday at the library, 502 S.W. Dorion Ave.

For more information, call 541-966-0380.

Fall festival kicks up farmers market support

PENDLETON — A fundraiser for the Pendleton Farmers Market features food, fun, live music and a silent auction.

The Pendleton Farmers Market Fall Festival is Saturday from 4-10 p.m. at Heritage Station Museum, 108 S.W. Frazer Ave., Pendleton. The event begins with a social hour followed by a light dinner at 5 p.m. Music is provided by James Dean Kindle & the Eastern Oregon Playboys.

Tickets are $25 each, which includes dinner. While children 12 and under are free, a dinner plate is $5. Adults can purchase tickets at the farmers' market information booth or from market board members.

As the market's one big fundraiser of the year, it helps in sustaining the local farmers' market and its vendors. For more information, contact 541-969-9466, pendletonfarmersmarket@gmail.com or visit www.pendletonfarmersmarket.net.
