ARRESTS, CITATIONS

Tuesday

A combination truck and cattle trailer rolled over on east-bound Interstate 84 near Boardman while exiting the freeway at milepost 171. The Morrow County Sheriff's Office, Oregon State Police and Boardman Fire Department responded. Both the truck and trailer were totaled, and the 60-year-old driver, who was not injured, was cited by Oregon State Police for failure to drive within lane.

Hermiston police arrested Jose Guadalupe Delacruz Araiza, 31, address not provided, for possession and delivery of methamphetamine, theft by receiving, and three counts of failure to pay fines.

Oregon State Police were notified of a commercial vehicle failing to maintain its lane on eastbound I-84. The vehicle drove into the median and almost ran a car off the road, according to witnesses. OSP contacted the vehicle at milepost 207 and attempted a traffic stop, but the driver did not acknowledge the trooper and continued to drive all over both lanes and into the median. He was finally stopped at milepost 217. Donald Louis Frazier Jr., 58, address not provided, was arrested for driving under the influence of intoxicants (controlled substance) and reckless driving and lodged at the Umatilla County Jail, Pendleton.

Wednesday

The Umatilla County Sheriff's Office arrested Hope Marie Morasch, 26, address not provided, for felony DUI, possession of methamphetamine and reckless driving.

American Kennel Club adds two breeds to roster

By JENNIFER PELTZ
Associated Press

NEW YORK — A spirited Dutch duck-luring dog and a friendly French rabbit hound are now running with the American Kennel Club's pack.

The club announced Wednesday that it's recognizing the Nederlandse kooikerhondje and the grand basset griffon Vendeen. They're the first breeds added to the roster since 2016.

They're eligible for many dog shows this year but can't compete at the prestigious Westminster Kennel Club show until next year.

The Nederlandse kooikerhondje (pronounced NAY'-dehr-lahn-seh KOY'-kehr-hahnd-jeh) goes back hundreds of years in Holland. The smallish, brown-and-white, spaniel-style dogs can be seen in some Dutch Old Master paintings.

"They're actually like a toddler that never grows up," said breeder D. Ann Knoop-Siderius. She said they are happy, sometimes naughty and "very playful" dogs.

Her husband, Jac Knoop, is the president of the Kooikerhondje Club of the USA.

Kooikerhondjes were trained to help hunters attract ducks into net-covered canals. The elaborate setups waned in the 19th century, and the dogs neared extinction during World War II, before a baroness set out to bring them back.

There are now about 7,000 worldwide and roughly 500 in the U.S., and they're well-suited to agility and other canine sports, said Knoop-Siderius, who is based in Ogden, Illinois.

The grand basset griffon Vendeen goes by "GBGV" for short. It's one of a number of long, low-to-the-ground basset breeds with centuries-long roots in Europe. A smaller cousin, the petit basset griffon Vendeen, and the long-eared basset hound have been recognized by the AKC for decades.

GBGVs are known for their speed, stamina and cheerful nature, but owner Megan Esherick finds them to be "a pretty laid-back breed."

"They're happy to get up and do things if you ask them to, but they're not particularly busy, in terms of pacing back and forth or throwing a ball in your lap," says Esherick, of Leesport, Pennsylvania. Her 9-year-old GBGV, Juno, has competed in agility, obedience and other events.

The AKC is the nation's oldest purebred dog registry. It recognizes 192 breeds, from silky Afghan hounds to hairless xoloitzcuintlis.

Requirements for recognition include having at least 300 dogs of the breed spread around at least 20 states. Fanciers petition for recognition after years of building up pedigrees, clubs and breed standards.

Some animal-rights advocates say that encouraging interest in purebred dogs fuels puppy mills and fads while diverting attention from mixed-breed dogs that need adoption.

Clelan F. 'Lee' Dudek

Pendleton
September 7, 1925 - December 15, 2017

Clelan F. "Lee" Dudek, 92, of Pendleton died December 15, 2017, at his home. Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. on Friday, January 12, 2018 at Pendleton Pioneer Chapel, Folsom-Bishop, with interment to follow at Skyview Memorial Park.

He was born on September 7, 1925, on a homestead in Baca County, Colorado, near Stonington. He grew up and attended school in Eugene, Oregon. In 1945, he joined the Navy and served in the South Pacific during WWII. He was honorably

Susan Elizabeth 'Betty' Potter

Fossil
March 5, 1922 - December 25, 2017

Susan Elizabeth "Betty" Potter, 95, died on Monday, December 25, 2017. She was born on March 5, 1922, to James Mary Elizabeth "Lizzie" Keys Humphrey.

Her parents were stockmen in the Richmond area of Wheeler County. She attended the Wheeler County schools of Waldron, Mitchell and Fossil.

Revival at the Methodist Church at Richmond and the Baptist Church in Mitchell promoted her attendance as young wife and mother to the Fossil Baptist Church, of which she was a member close to 70 years.

Betty married Earl Glenn Potter on September 30, 1940. After World War II they had a mail contract for Waterman. Together they augmented incomes with boarding high school students and employment in a box factory as well as a grocery store, both located in Fossil.

Betty preferred being outdoors versus toiling indoors. She liked to hunt as well as fish. She enjoyed gardening as well.

Survivors include a daughter, Glenna Lange; daughter-in-law Judy; granddaughters Gena Armantrout and Dawn Lange; and two great-granddaughters, Amber Natzel and Heather Armantrout.

She was preceded in death by her husband Glenn, a son Bill, a grandson Russel Lange, three brothers and two sisters.

Interment was held at IOOF Cemetery in Fossil.

OBITUARIES

Nickola Hicks

Pendleton
August 20, 1924 - January 6, 2018

Nickola Hicks was born August 20, 1924, in Elk River, Idaho, to Adeline (Allee) and Nick Markovich. His father passed away when Nick was 13; he was later adopted by Ed Hicks. Nick was the second son of four boys and spent his childhood in Mullan, Idaho, graduating from MHS in 1942. The family moved briefly to Deer Park, Wash., to do some logging and farming. The family returned to work in the silver mines of northern Idaho.

Hicks

which later became Western Heritage Savings and Loan. Nick, together with his wife and friends, the Bagwells, were the founding members of the First Church of God. They began as a small group meeting in homes until, through God's blessings and their own labors, they were able to build a church building at its present site. When added space was needed it was accomplished again through the God-given skills and physical labor of the many members at that time. Nick served on the many church boards/councils and was an active member of the local chapter of Gideons International.

Nick was an adventurous man and loved sharing that spirit with his family. Twins, Kent and Brent, joined the couple in 1948 while living in Vancouver, Wash. Beckie joined the family five years later in Pendleton. Traveling to visit family, hunting, camping, water-skiing; all were family affairs. He followed the same pattern with his grandkids along with his church family and neighbors.

Nick is survived by sons Kent of Vancouver, Wash., and Brent of Mission Viejo, Calif., and daughter Beckie (Tim) of Tigard, Ore. Grandchildren include Jordan, Bryson, CJ and Rachel, and great-granddaughter Lucy. He also leaves many cherished nieces and nephews.

The family would like to thank his many friends that helped sustain him as his health declined in the most recent years.

Memorial Services will be held at the First Church of God at 1 p.m. on Saturday, January 13, 2018. Graveside services will be held at Evergreen Memorial Gardens in Vancouver, Wash., on Monday, January 15, 2018 at 2 p.m.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the First Church of God or to the Pendleton Camp of Gideon's International.

Pendleton Pioneer Chapel is handling the arrangements; condolences can be made online at www.pioneerchapel.com
