

AUSTIN SHICK

BMCC scored when they got this guy on the team. Austin Shick is BMCC's Student Life Program Coordinator. He also serves as the assistant soccer coach to the Men's Timberwolf Soccer team. Austin received his degree from Oregon State University in Fisheries and Wildlife Mgt. During his time at OSU he was actively involved in the OSU Recreation Dept. And, he was the president and later the coach of the OSU Men's Soccer Club. He also worked for the NIRSA: Leaders in Collegiate Recreation running the Intramural Tournament for all sports all across the nation.

So to say Austin knows how to plan a fun activity is an understatement. At BMCC as Student Life Program Coordinator, Austin IS the Master of Fun. He helps to run, support, and advise the BMCC Associated Student Government in their programming and is the go-to advisor helping them facilitate events that range from the Christmas Eve dinner, to skiing and rafting trips and campus civic events. He also manages BMCC's Intramurals Program. That includes activities like soccer, flag football, basketball and dodgeball. He helps to plan off-campus activities like Pendleton's extramural basketball tournament and BMCC student participation in a flag football tournament with the big four year universities such as WSU and EWU.

"The college as a whole gives me the tools and freedom to innovatively create and change programming here that benefits student success." Austin points out that most days, you probably won't find him in his office. He's out doing what he loves and getting paid for it. Point, match, GAME! BMCC!

JENNIFER PETERSON

What's better than doing what you love and getting paid for it? Sharing that love and knowledge with your students. And, a really good lesson nursing students, as well as any student can learn from Jennifer? Time management! Jennifer can manage a daily schedule like no other we've known.

Jennifer graduated from BMCC's Nursing Program. She has also taught aerobics here in the past. Her kids attended, and graduated from BMCC. And now, she's full-time faculty with BMCC's Nursing Program while she continues to work occasional shifts for St. Anthony Hospital as Nursing Supervisor. She has worked as a nurse at St. Anthony's for more than 20 years in seemingly every department including Labor and Delivery, Emergency, Trauma, Emergency Preparedness, Day Surgery, PACU and has served a supervisory or management role for many of her professional years.

Working as a nurse and teaching on top of that for most of us would be an exhausting agenda. But for those of us who already know her, Jennifer doesn't just work. She also finds time to exercise (she loves distance cycling, in particular), stay active in her church, hunt, garden, can veggies and fruits and be an emotional rock for the adoring men in her life, her husband Chris and their three awesome sons.

Jennifer really knows how to use every breathing moment of her day to its best result. So, those nursing students who are benefitting from her many years of experience as a nurse, they are also seeing some pretty amazing modeling about how to keep a balance between work and personal time.
