Outlaws top TigerScots by 27-17 score

East Oregonian

ATHENA — The Enterprise Outlaws and Weston-McEwen Tiger-Scots met up on the softball diamond on Wednesday, but instead a football game broke out as the Outlaws defeated the TigerScots by a 27-17 score.

It was certainly a highlight game for both offenses, as the Outlaws and TigerScots combined for 44 runs, 34 total hits, 15 extra-base hits, and drew 22 walks. The only half-inning without any runs scored was the top of the first, when the TigerScots held the Outlaws scoreless.

“Both teams just hit well,” Weston-McEwen coach Jeff Griggs said.

Tyree Burke had a big day at the plate for the TigerScots as she went 3 for 4 with two home runs, five RBI and three runs scored. Jordyn Lambert went 3 for 4 with a home run of her own in the game with five RBI. Lilyan Duckett, Skyler Walter and Amie Coffman each had three hits as well for the TigerScots.

HERMISTON 18, BEND 3 (5 innings) — At Bend, the Hermiston Bulldogs notched their second win of the season in a big way, thumping the Bend Lava Bears on Wednesday afternoon.

and escaped with a 6-5 victory. This time, however, the Bulldogs were on the losing end of a one-run game falling 5-4 to Kamiakin at Armand Larive Middle School.

Kamiakin got out to a 5-0 lead in the top of the second, but Hermiston quickly answered to cut its deficit to 5-4 after three innings of play.

The Bulldogs didn't let the Braves (2-4) add on to their lead thanks to the work of Wyatt Noland, who entered the game in the third and threw four shutout innings of relief. Noland allowed only one hit while striking out five and walking three. His performance was just one of the positives Moore takes away from Wednesday.

“We did a lot of good things today,” Moore said despite the loss. “You take a look at the second inning, we gave up five but it could have been a lot worse.”

Brylee Dufloth started on the mound for Hermiston and got out of trouble early in the first inning when Kamiakin's Payton Flynn hit a line drive to right field for the Braves' third out that left two runners stranded in scoring position.

Hermiston went 1-2-3 in the bottom of the inning to bring the middle of Kamiakin's lineup to the plate, and with it even runs to take a lead it would never relinquish.

The bases were loaded in the second after two singles and a walk. With no outs on the board, Dufloth was in trouble and made his first mistake of the game.

Hermiston's Andrew James follows through after grounding out to the second baseman to end the second inning of the Bulldogs' non-league game with Kamiakin on Wednesday in Hermiston. James went 0-for-3 at bat Wednesday.

A pitch hit Conner Banta and advanced all runners to give the Braves their first score. Another walk and another hit by pitch sent the Braves around the bases to take a 3-0 lead.

After Nolan Degarno hit an RBI single to add to Kamiakin's lead, Hermiston had a 5-2-3 double play to help stop the bleeding. Before a fly out to center field to end the inning, Flynn hit a grounded that was bobbled giving Degarno enough time to score.

Despite letting five runs go, Moore was pleased with the Bulldogs' efforts.

“I stress defensive situations in practice and guess what? Fly ball we communicate and ground ball we get a double play and we're out of the inning,” he said.

It wouldn't take long for Hermiston to add runs of its own.

A walk with the bases loaded in the bottom of the second finally put the Bulldogs on the board, and three more in the third gave Hermiston a chance at another comeback win.

Daniel Gossler, Trevor Wagner and Dustin Maddox all contributed — Gossler and Maddox each with an RBI single and Wagner with an RBI double.

“It was a team effort to come back,” Moore said. “We did a lot of good things, but again we just need that one hit to break the game open and we almost had it.”

In the sixth inning, Hermiston's Caden Schwirse stepped up to the plate. Schwirse was responsible for a two-run RBI single in Saturday's win and was close to another with runners on first and second. But Schwirse's line drive went straight to the left fielder to end the inning.

UP NEXT

The Bulldogs will only have a day off before returning to the diamond for the latter half of their four-game homestand. Hermiston will host Lakeridge at 3 p.m. Friday.

NORVELL: Third on team in scoring fourth straight season and a match-up with Florida State on Thursday in Los Angeles.

“I'm a really confident guy and the coaching staff and all the guys around me put the confidence in me,” Norvell said.

Norvell was a spectator to history a year ago.

A 6-foot-5 shooting guard from Chicago, he was a top-100 recruit who once scored 53 points and hit 14 3-pointers in an AAU game. But when he arrived in Spokane, Norvell was dealing with a lingering knee injury and joined a roster stacked with guard talent, so he ended up redshirting.

Instead of pouting, Norvell took the time to learn from Williams-Goss, Jordan Mathews, Josh Perkins and Silas Melson. He observed how those veteran guards went about their business, how they played the game and led Gonzaga to the national title game.

“Sitting last year was big,” Norvell said. “Behind great guards, I learned a lot from those guys.”

Norvell had to use those lessons as a backup to start the 2017-18 season, playing behind Corey Kispert. When Kispert injured his ankle in November, Norvell slid into the starting lineup and shined, finishing third in scoring on a team full of scoring options while becoming the emotional leader and spark for the Bulldogs.

“He's got a winning spirit about him,” Few said. “He has an effervescence and charisma. He not only provides that stuff on the floor, but off the floor is very important.”

the type of player that doesn't come along real often in a coaching career. I'm sure coach Kelly Graves would agree with that. She does things that you can't teach, and that's what makes her so special.

“She's a finalist for national player of the year and she's only a sophomore. That speaks to all the respect all of us coaches have for her and her abilities.”

Ionescu scored 36 points during Oregon's victory over Stanford in the Pac-12 tournament championship game and averaged 24.0 points, 10.0 assists and 8.5 rebounds during the first two rounds of the NCAA Tournament.

Central Michigan has won 10 consecutive games since a loss to regular-season MAC champion Buffalo on Feb. 14. The Chippewas avenged that defeat with a 96-91 victory over the Bulls, who are also headed to the Sweet 16 after upsetting Florida State, in the conference tournament title game.

Oregon has won 11 consecutive games dating to its Feb. 4 loss to Stanford, including a 77-57 victory over the Cardinal in the Pac-12 Tournament final. The Ducks are 9-4 against ranked teams, including two wins over Texas A&M, the fourth seed in the Spokane Regional.

The Aggies will play top-seeded Notre Dame in the other semifinal on Saturday at Spokane Arena.

“All I know is we've won two and we have a chance to win a third,” Graves said of his team's road to Columbus. “I think we're a talented team and we're really starting to play together.”

A year ago, Graves' team played the role of Cinderella, advancing to the regional finals as a No. 10 seed.

After beating No. 15 Seattle and No. 10 Minnesota by an average margin of 35.5 points, Oregon will try to end the fairy tale for Central Michigan, another double-digit seed.

“When the game starts, it's just basketball,” Ionescu said when asked if going to the Sweet 16 as a favorite feels different than it did a year ago. “No one thought we were going to win any games, and I know we didn't pay attention to that much, but it's different. This time we are going to take it one game at a time, just as we did as a 10 seed last year.”

“No matter what seed we are, we are going to go out and give it our all and hopefully continue to win.”
