COUNCIL: FARM II could host major events during cold weather months

In February, the council agreed to contribute $150,000 to the $10-$12 million project, which already had a $5 million commitment from the state and a combined $300,000 from Umatilla County and the Port of Umatilla. Besides providing a home to the BMCC rodeo team and more space to the agriculture program, local officials say FARM II could host major events during the cold weather months.

Nominee to lead State Dept.: Soft policy on Russia ‘over’

By JOSH LEDERMAN and MATTHEW LEE Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Mike Pompeo, the hard-charging CIA director picked to be the next secretary of state, will tell the Senate on Thursday that years of soft U.S. policy toward Russia are “now over.” Drawing a sharp contrast with predecessor Rex Tillerson, Pompeo will vow to promote democracy and human rights while ending “demoralizing” vacancies at the State Department.

According to his prepared remarks, Pompeo will chastise Russia for acting “aggressively” and emphasize that the Trump administration considers Russia “a danger to our country.” But he will also say that diplomatic efforts with Moscow, while challenging, “must continue.” The Associated

Secretary of State nominee Mike Pompeo leaves a meeting on Capitol Hill on April 9 in Washington.

Press obtained excerpts of his remarks from a senior Trump administration official. Pompeo will also stress America’s “duty to lead,” despite Trump’s vows to put “America first.” “If we do not lead the calls for democracy, prosperity and human rights around the world, who will?” Pompeo plans to say. “No other nation is equipped with the same blend of power and principle.” Pompeo’s remarks Thursday before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee will be the first chance for lawmakers and the public to hear directly from the former Kansas congressman about his approach to diplomacy and the role of the State Department, should he be confirmed to lead it. Pompeo’s views on global issues are well known — he was questioned extensively by senators for his confirmation to run the CIA — but Democratic senators have raised questions about his fitness to be top diplomat, given his hawkish views and past comments about minorities. “When journalists, most of whom have never met me, label me — or any of you — as ‘hawks,’ ‘war hardliners,’ or worse, I shake my head,” the former Army officer will say. “There are few who dread war more than those of us who have served in uniform.” He will add, “War is always the last resort.”

Crash kills 257 in Algeria’s deadliest aviation disaster

By AOMAR OUALI Associated Press

ALGIERS, Algeria — A hulking military transport plane crashed just after takeoff in Algeria Wednesday, killing 257 people in the worst aviation disaster in the North African nation’s history and plunging the country into mourning. Soldiers, their family members and a group of 30 people returning to refugee camps from hospital stays in Algeria’s capital died in the morning crash of the Russian-made Il-76 aircraft. The plane went down in a field just outside a military base in Boufarik, 30 kilometers (20 miles) south of Algiers, and was devoured by flames, killing 247 passengers and 10 crew members, the base in Boufarik said. There was no official mention of survivors, but one witness reported seeing people jump out of the aircraft before it crashed. Arabic-language channel Dzair TV reported that five people were in a critical state, but it was unclear if they had been on the plane or were injured on the ground. Several witnesses told Algerian TV network Ennahar they saw flames coming out of one of the planes’ four engines just before it took off. “The plane started to rise before falling,” an unidentified man lying on what appeared to be a hospital bed told Ennahar TV. “The plane crashed on its wing first and caught fire.” Video on the state television channel ENTV showed a blackened hulk broken into pieces, with huge wheels scattered about along with other plane parts. Firefighters doused the flames while body bags were placed in rows in the field.
