

PEANUTS

BY CHARLES M. SCHULZ

FOR BETTER OR WORSE

BY LYNN JOHNSTON

B.C.

BY JOHNNY HART

PICKLES

BY BRIAN CRANE

BEETLE BAILEY

BY MORT WALKER

GARFIELD

BY JIM DAVIS

BLONDIE

BY DEAN YOUNG AND STAN DRAKE

DILBERT

BY SCOTT ADAMS

THE WIZARD OF ID

BY BRANT PARKER AND JOHNNY HART

LUANN

BY GREG EVANS

ZITS

BY JERRY SCOTT AND JIM BORGMAN

DEAR ABBY

Couple disagrees on etiquette of curating their bathroom art

Dear Abby: I'm a married woman in my 30s. My husband and I own a home, which I have decorated to our taste with the exception of "my" bathroom.

JEANNE PHILLIPS Advice

a print of long-stemmed flowers. If you know there's a possibility someone will be offended while using a room that's a "necessity," the polite thing to do would be to listen to your husband.

Dear Abby: We invited friends over for dinner. Because they have toddlers who like to eat early, we started meal preparations accordingly.

A few months ago, I purchased a large piece of art to hang in my bathroom. Admittedly, it is a bit provocative, but I don't consider it to be over the top.

I'm hosting a couples baby shower in a few weeks, and one of the guests is very religious. My husband suggests I hang the artwork somewhere else or hide it for the party.

Years ago, I bought an original work of art by Patrick Oliphant titled "Naked Nixon," which I hung over the toilet in my powder room.

I don't want to go shopping again because I feel like she already stood us up, and I know she can't host us for now because she lives with her parents.

Dear Miffed: Because she lives with her parents, your guest could have left her cranky daughter with "Nana" and "Poppy." Barring illness, the "proper" time to cancel would have been before you bought groceries for the dinner.

DAYS GONE BY

100 Years Ago From the East Oregonian May 7-8, 1918

Next Tuesday will make the official opening of the Helix flour mill. In the afternoon, the mill will be open to public inspection, and Manager H.C. Caywood will explain the operation of the plant.

50 Years Ago From the East Oregonian May 7-8, 1968

Ham and eggs — and cocktails for breakfast? Yes, that combination is on the menu for the lucky person who won a trip to Reno, Nev., in a city merchants' contest Monday night.

ence thought the sweetest little pea was Debbie Artz, the little four-year-old gal acrobat who flopped and twisted all over the stage to the song "Moon River."

25 Years Ago From the East Oregonian May 7-8, 1993

The last of three men convicted of executing Brian David Smith last November was sentenced Thursday to spend the next 17 years and four months in prison.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

On May 8, 1978, David R. Berkowitz pleaded guilty in a Brooklyn courtroom to murder, attempted murder and assault in connection with the "Son of Sam" shootings that claimed six lives and terrified New Yorkers.

forces had surrendered, and that "the flags of freedom fly all over Europe."

In 1429, the Siege of Orleans during the Hundred Years' War ended as English troops withdrew after being defeated by French forces under Joan of Arc.

In 1958, Vice President Richard Nixon was shoved, stoned, booed and spat upon by anti-American protesters in Lima, Peru.

In 1794, Antoine Lavoisier, the father of modern chemistry, was executed on the guillotine during France's Reign of Terror.

In 1962, the musical comedy "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" opened on Broadway.

In 1884, the 33rd president of the United States, Harry S. Truman, was born in Lamar, Missouri.

In 1973, militant American Indians who had held the South Dakota hamlet of Wounded Knee for ten weeks surrendered.

In 1921, Sweden's Parliament voted to abolish the death penalty.

In 1984, the Soviet Union announced it would boycott the upcoming Summer Olympic Games in Los Angeles.

In 1945, President Harry S. Truman announced on radio that Nazi Germany's South Africa took another step from apartheid to democracy by adopting a constitution that guaranteed equal rights for blacks and whites.

Ten years ago: During the 2008 race for the White House, Sen. Barack Obama got a front-runner's welcome back at the U.S. Capitol, where he was surrounded on the House floor by well-wishers calling him "Mr. President" and reaching out to pat him on the back or shake his hand.

Five years ago: A jury in Phoenix convicted Jodi Arias of first-degree murder in the 2008 death of her one-time boyfriend, Travis Alexander (Arias was later sentenced to life in prison).

Today's Birthdays: Naturalist Sir David Attenborough is 92. Actor James Mithum is 77. Singer Philip Bailey is 67. Rock musician Alex Van Halen is 65. New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio is 57. Singer Enrique Iglesias is 43.

Thought for Today: "The biggest big business in America is not steel, automobiles, or television. It is the manufacture, refinement and distribution of anxiety." — Eric Sevareid, news commentator (1912-1992).

PHOEBE AND HER UNICORN

BY DANA SIMPSON

BIG NATE

BY LINCOLN PEIRCE

