6:14 a.m. - Oregon State Police responded to a multi-vehicle crash on the eastbound lanes of Interstate 84 near milepost 226 about 16 miles east of Pendleton.

A semi-trailer was heading east in the left lane at about 45 mph, according to state police, when an eastbound Volvo going 65 mph ran into the back of the trailer.

The collision caused the semi driver to lose control, and the rig slid south and crossed into the right lane. The semi struck a U-Haul parked on the south shoulder. The tractor came to a stop in the right lane, but the trailer broke free and stopped on the south shoulder, along with the Volvo.

State police reported there were injuries but did not specify who suffered any nor their severity. The agency also reported the time of day meant visibility was low.

9:48 a.m. - An Oregon Department of Transportation crew on the westbound side of Interstate 84 near milepost 226 found a United States Air Force ring. A crash occurred there earlier this year. State police placed the ring into safekeeping.

10:43 a.m. - Someone shot a vehicle's window, possibly with a BB gun, on the 1900 block of Walnut Street, Milton-Freewater.
