Pendleton Kiwanis award scholarships

PENDLETON — The Kiwanis Club of Pendleton recently held the first of its two annual scholarship banquets. Four area high school graduates were awarded $1,000 each for college tuition: LucyAnn Case of Grifwood High School, Helix, Rhyanne Oates of Pilot Rock High School, and Lauren Richards and Paige Skinner, both from Pendleton High School.

Due to the difficulty in arranging a date acceptable to all the award recipients, this recognition was postponed due to their exceptionally busy schedules, both in and out of school. A brief but incomplete overview of their range of activities includes sports (basketball, dance, cross-country softball, swimming, track, and volleyball), work (in farming, restaurant, caregiving and child care) and a variety of community service activities that also included service to fellow students through peer tutoring and service clubs such as Key Club.

Common to all was a desire to work in the medical field. Case will attend Blue Mountain Community College and Mt. Hood CC to pursue a degree in physical therapy. Oates will go to Walla Walla CC and Oregon Institute of Technology to become an ultrasound imaging technician. Richards will travel to California to Claremont McKenna College, majoring in pre-medical studies. Skinner, too, will go the pre-med route. She will attend the University Oregon and plans a specialty in radiology.
