day in San Bernardino, California.

Against Wyoming (Gillette Little League), Pendleton collected 13 hits and allowed zero hits to Wyoming. Avery Krigbaum was a team-best 3-for-3 at the plate with three RBI and two runs scored. Melanie Boatman was 2-for-2 with four runs and two RBI, Madaline Schumacher 2-for-2 with three runs and a double, Samantha Wilks 2-for-3 with two runs and two RBI and Nessa Neveau 2-for-3 with two runs and three RBI.

Lilly Brooks and Bailey Moore each scored three runs. Brooks pitched all three innings and did not allow a hit, striking out seven of the nine batters she faced.

And then against Idaho (Southwest Ada LL), Pendleton’s offense compiled 11 hits between seven different players and drew 11 walks to reach its 24 runs. On top of that, pitchers Lilly Brooks and Melanie Boatman allowed only one hit and two walks in three innings, while striking out six.

Boatman had a team-best three hits in four at-bats, where she hit a double, scored four runs and drove in a run. Madaline Schumacher had two hits on the day with a double, also driving in a team-high four runs, and scored three runs. Brooks also had two hits, while Lea Wilson had a double and scored three runs, Bailey Moore doubled, scored three runs and drove in two and Nessa Neveau had a hit and scored three runs.

The wins gave Pendleton a day off before its next game, which will take place on Tuesday at 7 p.m. against Washington (Kirkland Little League), which previously defeated Alaska 15-1 on Saturday and Montana 21-0 on Sunday.

3-ON-3: Many have participated every year since it started

Xavier Rambo, a 2017 Hermiston boys basketball alumnus, has been Takin’ It to the Streets every summer since he was in elementary school.

“It’s tradition,” he said. “You get the same squad together every year and you get to play basketball with your best friends.”

Rambo’s team, Purosho, could be spotted sporting custom grey jerseys with the team’s logo printed on it. Purosho ended up taking home the championship titles for both the 12th Grade Boys and Men’s 6-foot-and-under divisions.

“We’ll be back next year,” he said. “There ain’t no stopping us now.”

Perhaps the most heated of games came in the Men’s Open championship rounds on Sunday.

The division often comprises of former high school and college athletes, all of whom bring their burning competitive spirits to the courts.

The division title was ultimately claimed by Fox

Harvesting after an intense 30-minute game and a close score of 15-13.

“We’ve done this every year since it started,” said Brad Irwin of Fox Harvesting.

Irwin, 27, along with teammates J.J. Ross and Luis and Alex Ortiz, met through eighth grade basketball, and have been playing together ever since. Nowadays, Irwin spends a lot of his time working at Hermiston Autobody & Paint, but still finds the time to get his friends together to shoot some hoops.

“We love this sport, and we can’t get enough,” he said. “We’re going to keep going until we’re 40.”

Harvick bumps way to victory

By DAN GELSTON
AP Sports Writer

LOUDON, N.H. — Kevin Harvick warned he was charging for the lead with taps on Kyle Busch’s rear bumper over the waning laps. Harvick had failed to methodically work his way around the race leader with a clean pass, so he set aim with his Ford on Busch for the knockout shot.

Harvick nudged the right side of the Toyota and jostled Busch out of his groove and three lanes up the track. He zipped to the front with a textbook bump-and-run that led to a beer-soaked celebration and left Busch fuming — the move of the race in another stellar showcase for the leader of the Big Three.

Harvick outdueled Busch over the final 10 laps to win a thrilling battle of two of NASCAR’s dominant drivers Sunday at New Hampshire Motor Speedway.

Kevin Harvick smokes his tires down the front stretch after winning a NASCAR Cup Series auto race Sunday, July 22, 2018, at New Hampshire Motor Speedway.

“I felt like it was my best opportunity to do what I had to do to win,” Harvick said. “I didn’t want to wreck him. But I didn’t want to waste a bunch of time behind him.”

Busch, the temperamental 2015 series champion, had a different view.

“I think he could have made the move work cleaner than that,” Busch said.

Busch said he expected for Harvick to keep trying for the decisive pass until there were about two or three laps left.

“I figured that’s exactly what he was thinking,” Harvick said, smiling. “I knew I needed to take the opportunity as soon as I could get it. We needed to do it when he wasn’t expecting it.”

Harvick raced to his sixth victory of the season for Stewart-Haas Racing and finished in the top two in some order with Busch for the fourth time this year.
