

ALONG THE WRANGLER TRAIL

THE VERY BEST

Since its inception in 1959, the Wrangler Tour prides itself as being the PRCA's "richest and most prestigious rodeo," featuring performances from "the very best cowboys, barrel racers, and live-stock in the world."

The Farm-City Pro Rodeo will be a featured stop on the tour, making it even more attractive to competitors looking for another buckle for their belt.

Contestants in this tour are awarded via a points-based system at every performance. If a rodeo pays the top 12 places, 120 points will be rewarded to the first place recipient, with each subsequent placing decreasing by a value of 10 points (second place receives 110 points, third receives 100 points, and so on).

This year's Wrangler Tour Finale will be held in Puyallup, Washington at the Washington State Fair. The top 24 contestants from each stop along the tour will qualify to compete in the event. The winner in each competition of the finale's four-round performance will be titled the 2018 Wrangler Tour Champion.

Many of the rodeos will be streamed on ProRodeo TV (PRTV) and Wrangler TV (WTV).

Layton Green, of Meeting Creek, Alberta, turned in an 85.5-point ride to win at the Farm-City Pro Rodeo in Hermiston.
