BOARDMAN TO HEMINGWAY TRANSMISSION LINE

Joan Lavon (Heumphreus)

George Hermiston

July 7, 1932 - October 15, 2018

We said our last goodbye this week as our mom, Joan George, slipped away on a quiet journey home after living with cancer for two years. She leaves behind nine grieving children, many grandchildren and great-grandchildren, plus extended family.

Mom was born July 7, 1932, in Cozad, Nebraska, the second of four daughters. The family moved west to Umatilla then Walla Walla and our tomboy mom lived family life adventurously during the Prohibition era, the Great Depression and WWII. She married our dad, Mack George, in 1951 and thus began adventures of another kind. She said she always wanted a dozen children and she came close.

Along with raising her family, Mom also traveled to various, semi-remote locations with our dad who worked a construction crew, which provided power lines and substations throughout the Pacific Northwest. Not much in their lives was easy. After settling in Hermiston in 1961, Mom worked several different part-time jobs and eventually ended her working career at Lamb Weston in the tool room.

She enjoyed her work and especially enjoyed her co-workers.

Joan was a long-time member of Grace Baptist Church, having spent years assisting with various ministries. Her church family was as dear to her and she was to them. Our mom was tender-hearted and always gave of herself to friends and the community in addition to always being there for her family. She volunteered for years at Agape House, the Community Dinners program and, her pet projects, making hundreds of Easter baskets for area kids and filling hundreds of shoeboxes for Operation Christmas Child.

Joan was preceded in death by her husband, Mack, and grandson Brian George. She is survived by her children: Deborah George, Michael George, Dana Nunez and husband Cesar, Richard George, Steven George, Tony George and wife Brandi, Chris George and wife Soon, Jeff George and Tangie and, finally, David George.

A memorial service will be held at Grace Baptist Church on Saturday, October 20 at 10 a.m.
