

Shelley, Shyne help Utah beat UO

By MATTHEW COLES
Associated Press

SALT LAKE CITY — Jason Shelley may be a freshman and undersized for a major college quarterback, but he doesn't lack confidence.

"We know what we can do. We know we can play. We're here for a reason," Shelley said. "We couldn't wait to prove it."

In his first start, Shelley ran for two touchdowns and Armand Shyne had 174 yards rushing to power Utah past Oregon 32-25 on Saturday.

The Utes (7-3, 5-3 Pac-12) lost Tyler Huntley, their starting quarterback, and running back Zack Moss, who had already rushed for 1,092 yards this season, to injury within a few days of each other.

"They could either pick up the slack and move forward or feel sorry and mope and pout. But that is not us. That is not our culture," Utah coach Kyle Whittingham said of his team, which stayed atop the Pac-12 South standings.

Shelley utilized quick passes, a strong running game and some misdirection in the offense to complete 18 of 31 passes for 262 yards with no interceptions.

"He rose to the occasion tonight," Whittingham said.

On a drive keyed by a 36-yard pass to Jaylen Dixon, Shelley punched in the go-ahead touchdown from 2 yards out with 6:48 to play.

"It was a pretty exciting debut for me," Shelley said and then chuckled at his understatement.

The Utah defense, which dominated in the first quarter, and then was on its collective heels when Justin Herbert starting finding receivers all over the field, stopped the Ducks (6-4, 3-4) on the ensuing possession when Jaylon Johnson broke up a fourth-down pass.

Herbert went 20-for-33 for 288 yards, but was sacked four times and simply ran out of time. Dillon Mitchell caught eight passes for 169 yards and two touchdowns, including multiple acrobatic grabs.

"We knew he was going to make some plays. He's a really good quarterback and has some good guys around him," said Utah's Chase Hansen, who had 3.5 tackles for loss and 13 overall.

Utah lost more than 80 percent of their offensive firepower when Huntley broke his collarbone at Arizona State and Moss's knee locked up early in the week and put him on crutches. But that didn't faze Shelley and Shyne.

"We don't get nervous. We just play football," Shelley said.

Shyne's running prowess bolstered a sustained drive that gobbled up Oregon's time outs and culminated in Matt Gay's sixth field goal from 24 yards — a new school record.

"It felt good," Shyne said. "It reminded me of when I was playing a couple years ago." That was before Moss asserted himself as one of the nation's top backs and Shyne struggled with injuries.

After Utah's last score, the Ducks had only 15 seconds to drive the entire field. Herbert got one completion but the clock ran out as he spiked the ball on second down. The officials ran off the field — trailed by some of the Oregon coaches — and then returned to announce the time had indeed expired after video review.

Kano Dillon blocked a punt at the Utah 3-yard-line, which led to Herbert's touchdown pass to Travis Dye. Herbert rolled out to his right again and hit Jaylon Redd for a two-point conversion and Oregon led for the first time, 25-22.

"I felt that we had momentum," Ducks linebacker Thomas Graham said. "As a defense, we stepped up in the second half but we gave up that deep ball in the second half and didn't give our offense another chance."

Parkinson's four TD catches lead Stanford past Beavers 48-17

By RICK EYMER
Associated Press

STANFORD, Calif. — Tight end Colby Parkinson and quarterback K.J. Costello have been working on their timing for over a year. It came to fruition Saturday.

Parkinson caught all four of K.J. Costello's touchdown passes and Stanford beat Oregon State 48-17 Saturday to become bowl eligible.

"We were getting the match-ups we wanted," Parkinson said. "That's what K.J. and I have been working on. K.J. puts the ball where it needs to be. It's what we do in practice every day."

Bryce Love scored a touchdown and rushed for 90 yards, his most since gaining 136 against Southern California on Sept. 8. Cameron Scarlett also scored for the Cardinal (6-4, 4-3 Pac-12) with a career-long run of 41 yards. Dorian Maddox scored on a 1-yard run, his first career touchdown.

Jake Luton passed for 205 yards and touchdowns of 63 yards to Trevon Bradford and 7 yards to Noah Togiai. Jermar Jefferson rushed for 109 yards for Oregon State (2-8, 1-6). Bradford finished with five receptions for 120 yards.

Last year, the teams combined for 486 total yards in Stanford's 15-14 win. The teams had 632 by halftime on Saturday.

Costello threw for 342 yards and touchdown passes of 28, 9, 75 and 5 yards. He's thrown four touchdowns in three games this season, the most since Andrew Luck did in 2011. Parkinson finished with six catches and 166 yards.

"K.J. played extremely well," Stanford coach David Shaw said. "Him and Colby have been working at timing. It was great to see those two connect."

Parkinson became integral to Stanford's offense after top receiver JJ Arcega-Whiteside suffered an injury in the first quarter of last week's loss at Washington.

"I was joking with him before the game that I'd catch a touchdown pass for him," Parkinson said.

Jordan Choukair kicked a 40-yard field goal for the Beavers on the final play of the first half.

Love, who did not play after a brief appearance in the third quarter, finished off a 5-play, 75-yard drive with a 28-yard run that brought comparisons from last year when he set a school rushing record and was the Heisman Trophy runner-up.

"He had some good plays. He's a good player," Oregon State coach Jonathan Smith said. "He's a tough kid. They're throwing the ball more than they have, but they can still run the ball."

The Cardinal broke it open in the second quarter, scoring the first three touchdowns, all passes to Parkinson, and taking a 34-7 advantage before the Beavers closed within 34-17 by halftime.

Air quality

The game was played with an air quality index close to 150 through the night, on the low end of the 'dangerous' level, due to smoke from the Camp Fire in Butte County. Smoke was visible throughout the contest. "It's been a rough week," Shaw said. "All our thoughts and prayers go to them. But I was happy to play the game at its proper time."
