Meal ministry features food, fellowship

By TAMMY MALGESINI
East Oregonian

A tradition that sprouted three decades ago to share a free Thanksgiving dinner with others continues this holiday season.

Anyone who wants to enjoy a free traditional Thanksgiving meal is invited to attend the Community Fellowship Dinner. The first of two holiday season meals is Thursday, Nov. 22 — Thanksgiving Day — from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the main commons at Hermiston High School, 600 S. First St. Also, people can make arrangements to get a ride or to schedule meal delivery by calling the First Christian Church at 541-567-3013 by Tuesday, Nov. 20.

In the event's beginning, a few couples invited several people who might not have anyone to share the holiday meal with. The first official Community Fellowship Dinner, held on Thanksgiving in 1988, doubled in size by Christmas. The meal ministry has continued to grow each year. By 1993, a board of directors was developed to oversee the meal — which had ballooned from 30 participants to 400-500.

The premise behind the free meal, said Gary Humphreys, CFD board chairman, was never about someone not being able to afford a Thanksgiving dinner. The vision for the ministry, he said, was to reach people who might otherwise be by themselves for the holiday.

"There was a guy who had eaten alone many times," Humphreys said. "The idea was to promote this as, 'If you're out there alone or don't have family in the area, then come eat with us."

It takes a village to serve a community

Last year's Community Fellowship Dinners provided food for nearly 1,200 people. The sheer volume of serving that many meals, Humphreys said, requires lots of manpower. There are many tasks where volunteers are needed for an hour or more — from meal preparation and arranging the venue to greeting people, serving diners and meal delivery.

A set-up party will be held Wednesday, Nov. 21 beginning at 8 a.m. On Thanksgiving Day, volunteers are needed several hours before the meal as well as afterward to help with clean-up.

One thing the board is extremely proud of, Humphreys said, is the food is always really good. As the diners have drawn more people — upward of 800 meals have been served during several Thanksgivings — support has grown from area businesses. Humphreys said Shari's Cafe & Pies, Fiesta Foods, Reser's Fine Foods, Hill Meat Company, Lamb Weston and previously Hermiston Foods have all been great community partners.

In addition, Humphreys said Safeway has provided uniformly sized turkeys at cost and Roger's Toyota has given generous financial support.

After being held for more than two decades at the Hermiston Senior Center, the board was tasked with finding a new venue for 2017. Humphreys said not only are the facilities at Hermiston High School exceptional, but the support of the school district has been fantastic.

When snow fell on Christmas Eve last year, Humphreys was concerned about having the manpower to adequately clear the parking lot before diners arrived in the morning. However, he didn't have to worry.

"They had people out there
