Man sent to prison for financing homes used to grow marijuana

PORTLAND (AP) — A man who fled to China as police five years ago moved to shutter illegal marijuana grows at seven homes he owned in Portland has been sentenced to a year and a half in federal prison.

The Oregonian/OregonLive reports 65-year-old Yim Sun Chan pleaded guilty in May to conspiracy to manufacture marijuana and was sentenced Tuesday.

Chan paid cash for the homes and had accomplices modify them so the entire square footage could be used to grow pot, according to Assistant U.S. Attorney Kemp Strickland.

The case grew out of a Portland police investigation of Forest Grove-based Portland Garden Supply, which supplied indoor marijuana growing equipment to customers.

Police say the company operated as a front for the illegal marijuana enterprise.

Through a Cantonese interpreter, Chan told the judge he knew he was wrong and expressed regret.

OBITUARIES

Michael Kent Blevins

Helix

June 7, 1943 - November 23, 2018

Michael Kent Blevins, 75, of Helix passed away at home on November 23, 2018.

He was born on June 7, 1943, in Portland, Oregon, to Thomas and Leliamae Blevins. His family moved to Paulina for a short time before settling in Helix. He graduated from Helix High School and at 17 years, entered the Navy. He served two tours during the Vietnam War and was very proud of his military service to his country.

In 1975, he was retired in Oak Harbor, Washington, where he started a crabbing and diving business. In the early '80s, he moved his family back to Eastern Oregon. He took a job at the Army Depot as a downwind hazard blotter, retiring in 2003.

Michael was very proud of his family. He enjoyed his grandchildren and great-grandchildren very much. He was an avid hunter and fisherman and liked to sing karaoke. He was a member of the Eagles Lodge, Moose Lodge, Elks and VFW.

Survivors include his wife Diana Blevins; children Mike (and wife Jean), Donald, Terra, Sally, Alan (and wife Marylynn) and Yvette (and husband Jerry); cousin Nellie Demaio; and numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Online condolences may be sent to www.pioneer-chapel.com

Norway's Carlsen beats American Caruana to defend chess world title

By MATTIAS KAREN
Associated Press

LONDON — Norwegian grandmaster Magnus Carlsen defended his chess world championship title by beating American challenger Fabiano Caruana 3-0 in rapid tiebreaker games on Wednesday.

After their three-week match ended in 12 draws, Carlsen wrapped up the victory quickly with three straight wins to build an unassailable lead in the best-of-four rapid format.

"I felt like I had a really good day at work today," the 27-year-old Carlsen said. "Everything kind of went perfectly."

Caruana, 26, was trying to become the first American since Bobby Fischer in 1972 to become the chess world champion but lost a rook-and-pawn endgame in the first game and then had to take big risks in the next two while trying to make up the deficit. Carlsen won the second after sacrificing a piece for an unstoppable attack, and then managed to promote a pawn to a second queen in the third for a massive material advantage.

"I was hoping to play my best chess today but I didn't even come close to that," said Caruana, who was born in Miami, raised in Brooklyn and lives in St. Louis. "I felt a lot of pressure but I don't think I had added pressure because I was the first American challenger in a long time. I think the match naturally comes with a lot of pressure."

The tiebreakers were played with 25 minutes for each player per game, while the 12 previous classical-style games lasted up
