Northwest Youth Corps, Eugene. Week-long (Sunday to Saturday) camps for co-ed youth ages 16-18 start in April and run through October. These camps combine education and job skill training, with emphasis on conservation, reforestation, and leadership skill development. Cost: $125 per week for summer camps, however, participants also earn a stipend for their service and can earn bonuses. For details and online registration visit www.nwyouth-corps.org/m/ourprograms.

Oregon Museum of Science and Industry (OMSI). OMSI offers camps across the Northwest for campers from kindergarten through high school, even family camps. Camps vary widely in length and cost, some include hiking and wilderness camping. Teens can work on a coastal documentary film or backpack in the Wallowas or raft the Grande Ronde River. Residential camps offer Oregon Coast exploration, teach desert survival skills, astronomy, and paleontology. For a searchable list covering all of OMSI's offerings, visit www.oms.edu/camps.

DAY CAMPS

BOARDMAN

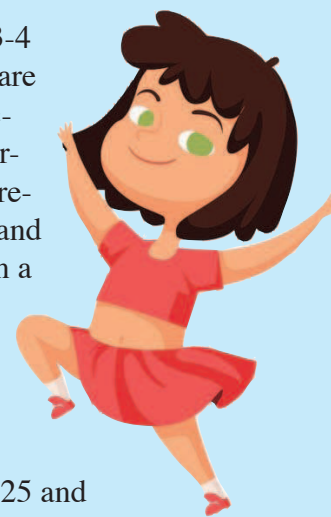

Nuts, Bolts, and Thingamajigs Camp, BMCC Workforce Development Center, 251 N. Olson. Camp runs July 22-26, Monday to Thursday, 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., and Friday, 8:30 to noon. Open to students in 6th through 8th grade. Participants will learn about the entire manufacturing process, including entrepreneurship, design software, and construction by creating their own product. KINDERCAMPS

Full-day camps are usually too much for the six-and-under set, so Hermiston Parks & Recreation has designed some short sessions for your littlest campers. All camps run Mondays through Thursdays in the Hermiston Community Center, 415 S. Hwy. 395. For more details, contact Hermiston P&R at 541-667-5018 or check www.hermiston.or.us/parks-recreation/recreation-guide.

Dance Camp. Camp runs July 1-4. Age 3-4 classes are 3 to 3:30 p.m.; age 5-6 classes are 3:45 to 4:30 p.m. This camp is an introduction to very basic dance techniques and performance. The camp focuses on body awareness, self-control, hand-eye coordination, and rhythmic awareness. Participants will learn a dance routine to be performed on July 4th at the Stars and Stripes Park Celebration. Registration deadline is June 26. Cost: $40 for residents, $48 for non-residents.

Art Camps for Kids. Camp runs July 22-25 and Aug. 5-8 from 8:45 to 10 a.m. For ages 4 to 6. Covers the foundations of painting and drawing. The final day of camp will include an art show where each child's art achievements will be recognized, building confidence and self-esteem in the young artist. Each week will have different projects. Cost: $65 per week, includes supplies.

HERMISTON

Summer Fun Day Camp, Rocky Heights Elementary School. Camp runs Mon-Fri, June 24 to Aug. 2, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. (no camp on July 4). Ages 6 to 11. Activities include sports, arts and crafts, education and more. Lunch and supplies are included. Cost: $110 per week for residents; $132 per week for non-residents.
