SUMMER CLAY STUDIO FOR ADULTS

Even instructors need Summertime! But we know our students still want to create. This class is open studio style with staff available to answer questions and provide basic information during class time. Due to no instructor facilitation, we are limiting sign-ups to those students who have taken ceramic classes in the past and are familiar with clay processes and trust their own skills when creating in clay. Cost includes the use of all tools, glazing materials and firing, along with ample open studio time. A firing schedule will be kept on the bulletin board in the classroom so students can plan accordingly.
