

Romero, Palzinski earn all-conference honors

By ANNIE FOWLER
East Oregonian

Hermiston's Jazlyn Romero and Paige Palzinski earned Mid-Columbia Conference all-conference honors for track.

Romero, a junior, was named to the first team for javelin, while Palzinski, a sophomore, was an honorable mention pick in the shot put.

The selections were based on regular-season times and distances.

Katherine Petsch of Kamiakin was named the Track Athlete of the Year, while Noelani Helm was voted the Field Athlete of the Year.

Both Romero and Palzinski qualified for the 3A state track meet in their respective events.

Hermiston did not have any boys selected to the team.

Walla Walla's Jared McAlvey (sprints/hurdles) and Patrick Utschinski (shot put/discus) were named the Athletes of the Year.

runs scored. The Raiders collected six hits, but Pendleton doubled that amount.

"This was a good win for the boys," Haugwood said. "They worked super hard. They came together as a team and built each other up. I couldn't be happier for them."

Up next, Pendleton (16-8) will challenge West Albany in a 5A semifinals contest on Tuesday. The Bulldogs are coming off a 5-4 quarterfinals victory over Churchill.

the Bulldogs within a run.

With Samantha Atilano on second and Cameron on first, Noland sent a 3-1 pitch out of the park for an 8-5 lead.

"We just finally started hitting the ball," Hermiston coach Kate Greenough said. "The girls made adjustments. That was the big change there."

The Cougars left a runner stranded on third in the seventh to finish the game.

"Holy Names has some scrappy hitters," Greenough said. "You only have winners from here on out. Every team's going to be good."

Noland, who drove in four runs, also pitched a complete game, scattering eight hits.

Sydney Stefani and Cameron also drove in runs for the Bulldogs, who also got two hits and two runs scored from Smith.

Chloe Sexton drove in two runs for the Cougars, while Caitlin Manning, Logan Luebbe and Sydney Esterberg each had two hits.

The Bulldogs' season came to an end with a loss to the Panthers in the consolation round.

The Bulldogs scored on a Bailee Noland fielder's choice in the first inning, but the Panthers pulled away from there, scoring twice in the third inning and once in the fourth and sixth innings.

Sydney Stefani went 2-for-3 with a triple for Hermiston, while Samantha Atilano was 2-for-4 and Daisy Maddox 2-for-3.

Bonney Lake 5, Hermiston 0

Brooke Nelson threw a no-hitter and struck out 19 to lead the Panthers past the Bulldogs in the first round of the state tournament.

It was the first state no-hitter for Nelson, who has signed with the University of Washington.

"She does a good job of setting up batters," Hermiston coach Kate Greenough said of Nelson. "We fell for some of her tricks. She's about as good as they come."

Bonney Lake, the defending state champion, scored five runs in the first inning, but were held scoreless the rest of the game.

"We played really great defense the rest of the game, we just weren't hitting the ball well in that first inning," Greenough said.

Grace Brown and Hailee Hagins each hit a double for the Panthers.

Bailee Noland gave up five runs on six hits in the first. Janelle Almaguer came on in relief and held the Panthers scoreless.

"Janelle pitched awesome," Greenough said. "They didn't get a runner to third base for the rest of the game."

West Albany ends Pendleton's season

By BRETT KANE

Pendleton suffered two bad innings early on, and it was enough to stop them from defending their state title.

On Friday, the Bucks let slip seven runs in the first two innings of a 5A quarterfinals softball game at West Albany on the way to a 9-3 loss to close their season.

"That's just how it is," said Pendleton coach Tim Cary. "(West Albany) is a good-hitting team. We gave up a few too many runs in those early innings. It was too big of a hole to climb out of."

The Bulldogs jumped out early with a pair of home runs in the bottom of the first. Mahayla Gamble's three-run homer on a 1-0 count got things started, and McKenzie Kosmicki followed with another on a full count during the next at-bat.

Gamble threw a no-hitter in the top of the second, and Ellie Babbitt sent the Bulldogs' second three-run homer of the day past the center field fence to score Sidnee Holloway and Presley Jantzi.

Another no-hit inning for Pendleton ensued in the top of the third.

Haily Greening led off the bottom of the third with a dinger over the right field fence to leave the Bucks down 8-0.

"We didn't get the bats rolling for a few innings," Cary said, "but once the fourth inning rolled around, we put the bat to the ball."

Kirah McGlothan got the Bucks going in the top of the fourth when she singled a full count pitch to center field. She took second base on Kila Solomon's ground-out to first.

Two batters later, Maria Lillienthal singled on a line drive toward center field. McGlothan scored on the throw.

The Bulldogs chipped in one more homer in the bottom of the same inning when Babbitt hit her second one of the game. But the Bucks fought back with a home run of their own in the top of the fifth, when Delaney Duchek hit one on her first pitch at bat. It would be her second of the season.

Aspen Garton hit the final home run of the game in the top of the sixth, but it would not be enough to make a comeback.

"We had some nice highlights," Cary said. "We just didn't hit the ball consistently to put enough pressure on our opponent."

For her final game in her debut season with the Bucks, freshman Sauren Garton hurled seven strikeouts and gave up just three walks.

"She threw against a very good team," Cary said of Garton. "She threw her heart out today. She gave it all she had."

McGlothan, Duchek, and Aspen Garton each went 1-for-3 at the plate with a run scored to lead the Bucks in offense. Gamble tallied 11 strikeouts, keeping Pendleton without a base hit until the fourth inning.

"We had a great season," Cary said. "The girls fought through every game and never quit at any point. Today just simply didn't work out in our favor."
