HOROSCOPES

By Holiday

FRIDAY, JUNE 21, 2019
Identity and the Summer Solstice

There are multiple versions of each and every person. That's the version in your head, the version in theirs and the version in the head of every other person. These are all, to some degree, inaccurate summations. As the sun moves out of the sign of the twins, identity is something to accept. Relax. Don't overthink it. Happy summer solstice!

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You know yourself better than ever, and you know what you want. As generous as an offer may be, if it doesn't work for you, then move along without fuss or regret.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You're drawn to the quirky people -- the ones who are sure to surprise and baffle you with their non-typical responses. Even though you understand them better than most, they still keep you on your toes.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). You've not been great at giving yourself pep talks, but you'll get better with practice. Practice today. The best encouragement you could possibly get will be from you to you.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Yes, this looks a lot like what you've already seen, but it's not. If you approach it like you already know, you'll miss what's really there and make mistakes. Your mantra for top performance: Everything that happens is new.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Greed continues to be the worst quality to possess or be around. The immunization for the disease of greed is self-acceptance. Avoid greedy people at all costs, and take measures necessary not to become one of them.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Life is a constant negotiation today, though most of the back and forth just seems like your daily routine. When to smile, whom to help, how to approach relationships -- these are the subtle agreements you make... or don't.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). While there's much satisfaction in making a fair exchange, there's a higher level to be reached. Happiness is ... a trade that is not only fair, it also brings an element of delight to both parties.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). You are the grandmaster of paradox today. For you, doing nothing is more difficult than doing something -- in the same way that not thinking is harder than thinking.
