

Brewers take down M's 4-2

By ANDREW WAGNER
Associated Press

MILWAUKEE — Facing the prospect of a three-game sweep by the last-place Seattle Mariners, the Milwaukee Brewers rediscovered their winning formula.

Orlando Arcia hit a three-run homer and the Brewers snapped a two-game skid with a 4-2 victory over the Mariners on Thursday.

"We needed it," outfielder Christian Yelich said. "That's the kind of game we're accustomed to playing. That's us, as a team, that kind of game but it just hasn't worked out for us over the last few weeks. It's been a tough stretch, for sure, but we showed signs of getting back on track and doing what we're capable of."

Yelich narrowly missed his MLB-leading 30th home run of the season in the first inning. The Brewers wouldn't threaten again until the fourth when Mike Leake loaded the bases with one out to bring up starting pitcher Chase Anderson.

Anderson put down a near-perfect suicide squeeze to score Ryan Braun. And one pitch later, Arcia sent a three-run blast to right.

Chase Anderson (4-2) bounced back after he allowed six runs in his previous start. Anderson allowed two runs, one earned, and struck out six in 5 1/2 innings.

"Chase was really good today. I thought just the command of his pitches is what stood out," Brewers manager Craig Counsell said. (Catcher Yasmani Grandal) did a really nice job of sequences. It wasn't necessarily the strikeouts that stood out, it was the popups and the lazy fly balls."

six innings.

"I could have placed (the pitch to Arcia) a little better," Leake said. "I could have gone off the plate and tested where he was at first instead of going right at him."

"That one inning was the blemish."

Josh Hader struck out three batters over the final two innings to earn his 19th save of the season.

Tim Beckham and Daniel Vogelbach hit back-to-back RBI doubles in the sixth for Seattle.

FLASHBACK FOR ANDERSON

Anderson said he hadn't executed a suicide squeeze since he was 13 years old, cashing in on a couple of errors and scoring the winning run to lead a group of seventh graders against a team of eighth graders.

"It's kind of crazy to be able to do that in that moment, sparking a rally," Anderson said. "Getting it started and being an impact with the bat is a huge advantage for a starting pitcher."

SANTANA'S STREAK ENDS

Seattle outfielder Domingo Santana went 0-for-4 with a pair of strikeouts, ending his nine-game hitting streak. He batted .353 (12-for-34) during that run with four doubles, four home runs and 11 RBIs. He had two hits, including a double and two RBIs in the first two games against Milwaukee, which dealt him to the Mariners in an offseason trade.

"It was nice to come back here," Santana said. "The fans really appreciate me and showed it to me. The team — I have a good chemistry with them. I really enjoyed being a Brewer so it was really fun to come back."

Fans elect historically young NL lineup for All-Star Game

By JAKE SEINER

NEW YORK — Surrounded by sweet-swinging sluggers Christian Yelich, Cody Bellinger and Ronald Acuña Jr., All-Star stalwart Nolan Arenado is set for a new role with the National League — elder statesman.

"It shows how good these young guys are," Arenado said.

The five-time All-Star will be joined by a bumper crop of talent in one of the youngest All-Star Game lineups ever — a millennial-heavy NL group that could make history at the midsummer showcase in Cleveland on July 9.

Major League Baseball revealed the results from fan balloting for its All-Star starters Thursday, and the average age of the eight NL starters is 25.8 years old. Depending on who is chosen as the club's designated hitter, the starting position players could be the youngest ever, surpassing the 1967 NL and 2017 AL clubs, which averaged 26.0 years old.

"I've never seen this much young talent in the game," said Dodgers manager Dave Roberts, who will lead the NL. "There's a lot of fun players to watch — talented and the personalities from some of these young players."

Angels star Mike Trout was the leading vote getter in the final round. He'll be joined on the AL squad by three Astros — Alex Bregman, George Springer and Michael Brantley — and two Yankees — Gary Sánchez and DJ LeMahieu.

The lineups are full of unlikely names. LeMahieu didn't crack New York's opening day lineup. Rangers designated hitter Hunter Pence could only find a minor league contract as a free agent last offseason. Diamondbacks second baseman Ketel Marte and Twins shortstop Jorge Polanco hardly garnered All-Star attention in previous years. Now they're All-Star starters.

"It was quite a wild journey from this year to last year," Pence said. "And to even be speaking about this now, is a miracle. It's a blessing, and I'm very grateful."

The NL's oldest elected starters are 29-year-old Freddie Freeman from Atlanta and 28-year-old Arenado of Colorado.

"Some of these young players are unbelievable players," Arenado said. "We're fortunate to be in this time, when you get to see how good they are."

Indians first baseman Carlos Santana was elected to start in his home park in the 33-year-old's first All-

Star selection. He'll be joined in the lineup by Brantley, a former teammate who left the Indians in free agency last offseason for a $32 million, two-year deal with Houston. Brantley edged Yankees slugger Aaron Judge by 0.9% for the final outfield spot.

The Cubs' Willson Contreras and Javier Baez will each start for the NL for the second straight year. Baez was elected at shortstop a year after starting at second. Only three other All-Stars have started in consecutive years at different positions.

Trout is set to be the sixth AL player to start six times before turning 28. The others are Joe DiMaggio, Mickey Mantle, Ivan Rodriguez, Rod Carew and Ken Griffey Jr. It's Trout's eighth straight selection overall.

"I just enjoy going to them," he said. "Every year it seems like I am slowing it down and embracing the experience. The first couple I was running around and it went so fast."
