PUBLIC SAFETY

WEDNESDAY

9:02 a.m. — A caller on Washington Lane, Irrigon, reported a horse at the neighbors' place was not well and unable to move. The caller also was not able to contact the neighbors. The Morrow County Sheriff's Office, however, notified the owners, who reported they would have a veterinarian check the horse.

1:41 p.m. — A caller in Irrigon reported a male and female were waking along Northeast Eighth Street and Main Avenue screaming obscenities. The female was pulling a suitcase and the male was named "Dan," the caller reported.

3:21 p.m. — The Morrow County Sheriff's Office received a report that someone tried to twist the handle off the back door to the Lexington City Hall.

3:51 p.m. — Hermiston police received a report of five men and one woman living in the bushes at the west end of Riverfront Park on Southwest 23rd Street. The person also said the group uses drugs and wanted an officer to check the area.

4:37 p.m. — A mother in Heppner called law enforcement to help with her son, who has medical issues. She said they had a run-in with two juveniles smoking marijuana, and they now are threatening to harm her son.

RECORDS/COMMUNITY

6:20 p.m. — A 911 caller reported a disturbance at Cadillac Jack's Saloon & Grill, 1703 S.W. Emigrant Ave., Pendleton.

6:39 p.m. — Pendleton police responded to the Rainbow Cafe, 209 S. Main St., Pendleton, for a man standing outside, refusing to leave and yelling and screaming. Police gave the man a warning about his behavior.

7:37 p.m. — Hermiston police responded to a report of a burglary on the 200 block of Southwest Third Street.

ARRESTS, CITATIONS

•Hermiston police arrested Chalen James Ottmar, 23, of Hermiston, for first-degree forgery and first-degree possession of a forged instrument

•Pendleton police arrested Phillip Floyd Stalvig, 33, of Pendleton, for felony methamphetamine possession.

Celebrate Recovery offers hope, healing

PENDLETON — A faith-based program to help promote healing and recovery is available at Pendleton First Assembly of God Church.

Celebrate Recovery invites people who are impacted by substance abuse, sexual abuse, food addiction, co-dependency, divorce, emotional trauma or compulsive behaviors.

The groups meet each Thursday at the church, 1911 S.E. Court Ave. The large group session from 6-7 p.m. features a testimony, worship or guest speaker; and from 7-8 p.m., open share groups features smaller recovery specific groups. Then, from 8-8:30, there is a time of fellowship with refreshments.

In addition, the Celebration Place runs each week at the same time for children in kindergarten through fifth grade. While their parents are learning about recovery, kids can explore relevant age-related topics regarding recovery. Also, child care is provided for ages 4 and under.

Also, youths in sixth through 12th grade meet from 6-7 p.m. for The Landing. They learn ways to break the cycle of dysfunction and engage in activities with other youths.

For more information about Celebrate Recovery groups, call 541-276-6417 or visit www.pendletonfirst.com.

Local family steps up with shoe drive

UMATILLA — A Umatilla family is hosting a shoe drive to raise money for RettSyndrome.org.

Megan and Brandon Brown's 3-yearold daughter is impacted by the rare syndrome and they are hoping to collect 300 pairs of shoes by October. All sizes and styles of new or gently used shoes can be donated. Megan Brown said the effort raises money through the sale of the shoes by "micro entrepreneurs" in Third World countries.

Rett Syndrome is a rare neurological disorder that is mostly diagnosed in females. It impacts cognitive, sensory, emotional, motor and autonomic functions of the brain. It is sometimes misdiagnosed as autism, cerebral palsy or as a non-specific developmental delay.

Shoe collection sites in the area include Neighbor Dudes, 405 N. First St., Hermiston; the Hermiston branch of Banner Bank, 101 E. Main St.; Peach Tree Produce, 81700 Peach Tree Lane, Umatilla; and by contacting the Browns at megan@pittraffic.com or 253-217-1458.

For more about Rett Syndrome, visit www.rettsyndrome.org.

Climate change group to discuss hemp production

PENDLETON — A discussion about economic and climate justice opportunities for Eastern Oregon in hemp production is the topic for the upcoming 3rd Tuesday Climate Conversation.

Joshua Walker, of the Eastern Oregon Climate Change Coalition, will speak Tuesday at noon at Prodigal Son Brewery & Pub, 230 S.E. Court Ave., Pendleton. Light refreshments will be offered with a $10 suggested donation. No-host beverages are available prior to the presentation.

Walker graduated from the University of Washington with degrees in political science and society justice, and then studied for a semester at the Seattle University School of Law. He then embarked on an 18-plus year career in sales and business development.

After working for private and public companies in information technology, internet communications, and cyber security, Walker changed gears again. He has been researching and pursuing sustainable and efficient crop production for food, fuel, fiber, and medicine in the form of hemp, as a path toward addressing environmental and social justice, as well as climate change issues.

EOC3, which meets monthly, seeks to engage people in conversations. For more information, contact eastoregonclimatechange@gmail.com or search Facebook.
