Laying of the paved highway between Adams and Athena will be delayed two weeks as a result of a fire at midnight last night which virtually put the Warren Construction Company's plant at Adams out of commission. The loss from the fire is estimated at $5000 by Pat Lonergan, superintendent of the company. Negligence on the part of the watchman is blamed for the fire. Kettles containing asphalt were being heated and the liquid in one of the kettles flowed over the top, ran into the fire box and started a lively blaze. When discovered, the fire had got into the supply of asphalt and the whole crew was called out to fight the flames.

Bruce Eisele, 19, Umatilla, is aboard the Navy carrier Hornet, the recovery ship for the Apollo 11 astronauts. The Gordon Eisele family and friends will be watching the televised recovery hoping to see Bruce, who is a fireman. He has told his parents and sister, Yvonne, that he will be handling a fire hose at the time of the recovery. Another Umatilla youth, Eugene Nordquist, 21, has been on the Hornet until recently. His mother, Mrs. Carl Nordquist, said her son and six other enginemen were recently transferred to Vietnam. The family and the young sailor are disappointed because they had been looking forward to Gene's participation in the historic event.

Native American preschoolers will soon be dancing to the music of their forefathers at the same time they soak up reading, social skills and other before-school basics. Head Start, a federally funded program that gives children ages 3-5 from low income families the educational tools they need for school, will now be run by the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation. The tribes have had a Head Start program in place at the reservation's Cay-Uma-Wa Education Center since 1989, but it was run by Umatilla County. That put restrictions on what the program could offer in the way of native traditions, says Lorena Thomson, adult basic education instructor.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

On July 20, 1969, astronauts Neil Armstrong and Edwin "Buzz" Aldrin became the first men to walk on the moon after reaching the surface in their Apollo 11 lunar module.

In 1861, the Congress of the Confederate States convened in Richmond, Virginia.

In 1944, an attempt by a group of German officials to assassinate Adolf Hitler with a bomb failed as the explosion only wounded the Nazi leader. President Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated for a fourth term of office at the Democratic convention in Chicago.

In 1976, America's Viking 1 robot spacecraft made a successful, first-ever landing on Mars.

In 1993, White House deputy counsel Vincent Foster Jr., 48, was found shot to death in a park near Washington, D.C.; his death was ruled a suicide.

Thought for Today: "We may well go to the moon, but that's not very far. The greatest distance we have to cover still lies within us." — Charles de Gaulle, French statesman (1890-1970).

DEAR ABBY

Man becomes distant after moving in with girlfriend

Dear Abby: After being together for a year, my boyfriend and I recently moved in together. Since then he hasn't been home much. We don't spend time together the way we used to when we first started dating. He has changed a lot.

I have kids from a previous relationship. My boyfriend recently told me he always wanted to be the first guy to give a girl her first child. I just want to know if I should let him go or try to fight for him because I'm in love with him. — Second Thoughts in Chicago

Dear Second Thoughts: Your boyfriend knew you had children when he began dating you. I think it is time the two of you have another conversation about what he told you, because he may have been rehearsing his exit speech. Life rarely turns out the way we fantasize that it will. If he is considering ending your relationship in order to "give a girl her first child," the sooner you know about it, the better — for you.

Dear Abby: My mother and father have been divorced for eight years. Since then, she has found a younger guy who is about eight years older than I am. I'm 23.

The age difference always bothered me, but what bothers me even more is she's always doing for him and he gives her nothing in return. Since day one I have been convinced he's using her for shelter and food. However, she can't seem to recognize it. I don't know what to do, Abby. I'm just tired of my mom being used by men. — Daughter in Delaware

Dear Daughter: I appreciate your concerns about your mother, but until she's ready to admit to herself that what's happening is part of an ongoing pattern, nothing will change. She is doing this for a reason — or more than one. Her self-esteem may be so low she doesn't believe she deserves better, she may be so desperate to have a man in her life that she's willing to literally pay the price, or she may believe having a man so much younger is a trophy.

You cannot live your mother's life for her, but you can learn from it. Concentrate on making the best life you can for yourself. If you do, those efforts will be well spent.

Each row and each column must contain the numbers 1 through 6 without repeating. The numbers within the heavily outlined boxes, called cages, must combine using the given operation (in any order) to produce the target numbers in the top-left corners. Freebies: Fill in single-box cages with the number in the top-left corner.
