

Crow's Shadow serves pie, coffee and art viewing

Open house set for Sept. 15

MISSION — The public is invited to visit the art gallery and print studio during an upcoming open house at Crow's Shadow Institute of the Arts.

The event is Sunday, Sept. 15 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at 48004 St. Andrews Road, Mission. Pie and coffee will be served. There is no admission charge.

People will be able to view a variety of works from the Crow's Shadow permanent collection of contemporary art. In addition, visitors also can see the printmaking studio where artist-in-residence participants produce limited edition hand-pulled fine lithographs while working alongside master printer Judith Baumann.

Located at the historic St. Andrew's Mission on the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Reservation, Crow's Shadow is about 10 miles outside of Pendleton. The nonprofit organization was founded 27 years ago under the guidance of local artists James Lavadour (Walla Walla), Phillip Cash Cash (Cayuse and Nez Perce) and other creative friends.

Crow's Shadow was envisioned as a place to foster creativity and support artistic development, while also contributing to social and economic development.

"And then we found we had a larger purpose for Crow's Shadow and printmaking opened up opportunities for us," Lavadour said in a November 2013 interview.

The initial creation of Crow's Shadow, Lavadour said, filled a niche. Then in 2001, Crow's Shadow began focusing on fine printmaking and hired a full-time master printer. With its reputation soaring, Crow's Shadow began garnering national and international attention.

Pendleton's Kyle Brown receives promotion

FORT BENNING, Ga. — Kyle E. Brown was promoted in the U.S. Army to the rank of Sergeant First Class (E-7) in a unit ceremony at Ft. Benning, Georgia, on August 9, 2019. Attending and participating in this ceremony were his parents Chris and Kathy Brown of Heppner.

SFC Brown is currently assigned as a combat arms instructor with the Military Advisor Training Academy (MATA) at Ft. Benning.

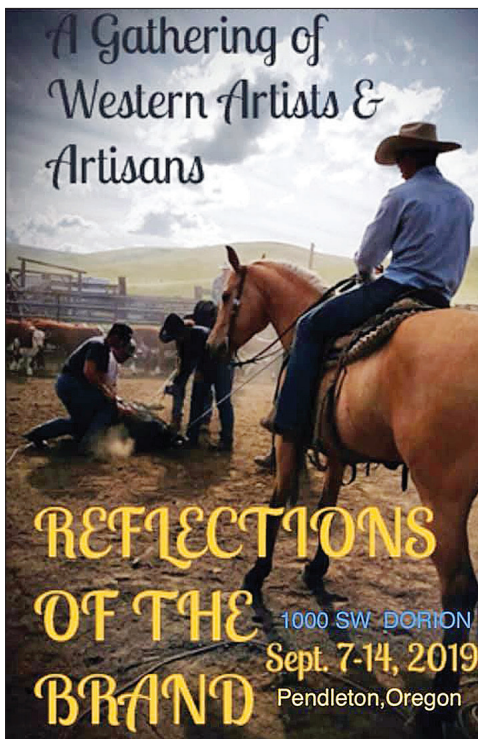

He graduated from Pendleton High School in 2005, attended Blue Mountain Community College, and then enlisted in the U.S. Army as a combat cavalry scout in March 2007. SFC Brown has completed two combat tours in Afghanistan as a cavalry scout — in 2009 with the 4th Brigade 25th Infantry Division (Airborne), and in 2011 with the 3d Brigade, 2d Infantry Division.

Among his awards as decorations are the Army Commendation Medal; Combat Action Badge; and U.S. Army Airborne wings.

He is married to the former Chelse Berme of Pendleton and they have two children (Emily and Patton). Her parents, Rick and Theresa Berme, currently reside in Pendleton.

Western artists round up art show

PENDLETON — People are invited to take a tour through the Old West and experience true buckaroo culture through the artwork of talented western artists and artisans.

Umatilla Co. announces small grants deadline

UMATILLA COUNTY — Businesses and nonprofit community groups in Umatilla County are invited to apply for financial assistance through the Community & Economic Development Small Grants Program.

Economic Development grants support efforts that will result in an increase of jobs and economic growth. This can apply to new businesses planning to open in Umatilla County or existing businesses looking to grow.

Community Development grants are focused on projects that enhance a community rather than simply being a donation sponsoring an event, cause or activity. The idea is that there will be something tangible that remains in the community beyond the end of the project. Eligible projects could include those that require a grant match from other programs.

The deadline to apply for a 2019 third quarter grant is Wednesday, Sept. 18 by 5 p.m. For a grant application, search www.umatillacounty.net. For questions, contact Gail Nelson, economic development coordinator, at 541-278-6283 or gail.nelson@umatillacounty.net.

Walla Walla Quilt Festival in 20th year

WALLA WALLA — The 20th annual Walla Walla Valley Quilt Festival is Sept. 13-15.

In addition to quilt displays, the event features hourly demonstrations, a vendor mall and silent auction. The featured quilter is Shannon Gillman Orr, an artist, illustrator and sewing pattern and fabric designer.

The event runs Sept 13-14 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday, Sept. 15 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. It's being held at the Walla Walla County Fairgrounds, 360 Orchard St., Walla Walla. Admission is $6, which is good for all three days. Food also will be available for purchase.

For more information, call 541-938-6130 or visit www.wallawallaquiltfestival.org.

OES Chorale tunes up with rehearsals

PENDLETON — Community singers are invited to join the Oregon East Symphony Chorale for its fall/winter rehearsal and performance series.

Auditions are not required for participating — just a love of singing. Chorale rehearsals will be held Mondays beginning Sept. 16 from 7-8:30 p.m. in the music department at Pendleton High School, 1800 N.W. Carden Ave.

The chorale will perform early-Baroque German composer Heinrich Schütz's "The Christmas Story" as part of the Dec. 14 Holiday Music Festival at the Vert Auditorium. They will perform the 1949 Arthur Mendel English language translation published by G. Schirmer. Scores will be available for purchase for $10 at the symphony office, 345 S.W. Fourth St., or at the rehearsal.

Steve Muller, OES chorale conductor, will lead both rehearsals and the performance with Sue Nelson as the rehearsal accompanist. For more information, contact the symphony office at 541-276-0320 or info@oregoneastsymphony.org.
