Luckless Colts: Jacoby Brissett leads Colts against the Chiefs in SNF

By Ryan Guebert
TV Media

Week 5’s Sunday night matchup will be a rematch of last season’s AFC divisional clash between the Indianapolis Colts and Kansas City Chiefs at Arrowhead Stadium. The Colts look to upset the powerhouse Chiefs and redeem their one-sided playoff defeat before they head into their bye week. Tune in Sunday, Oct. 6, for live coverage of NFL action on NBC.

The Colts lost Andrew Luck for the entire 2017 season following an injury but bounced back in 2018 with Luck in full fitness. They improved their 4-12 record to 10-6 with Luck back under centre and got as far as the AFC Divisional, where they lost to the Chiefs, 31-13. The Colts were considered an AFC championship contender entering 2019, however on Saturday, Aug. 24, two weeks before the start of the regular season, Luck announced his retirement. At the age of 29, Luck was just entering the prime of his career as a quarterback, but after suffering countless injuries in his seven NFL seasons, his decision to remove himself from football was one of necessity.

Even without Pro Bowl running back Kareem Hunt (now with the Cleveland Browns) and missing Tyreek Hill to a shoulder injury since Week 1, the Chiefs have picked up exactly where they left off last season, with Patrick Mahomes dominating on offence. The Chiefs finished 12-4 last season and might have made a Super Bowl appearance had it not been for the late-game heroics of Tom Brady and the New England Patriots, winners of the AFC championship in overtime.

It’s the start of the Jacoby Brissett era in Indianapolis, and it’s started out much stronger than when he filled in for Luck in 2017. See if luck plays a factor for the Colts when they visit Arrowhead Stadium as the underdogs against the Chiefs in a rematch of the 2018 AFC Divisional. Tune in Sunday, Oct. 6, for live coverage of the action on NBC.
