

DEAR ABBY

New hire is woman who wrecked neighbor's car

Dear Abby: Last year, my across-the-street neighbor backed into my car. At least, that's what I think happened.

My car was parked legally on the street, and there was a huge dent in it. I called the police and, based on the location of the dent and the neighbor's driveway, the officer determined that the neighbor had backed into it. Furthermore, light blue paint from my car was on her car's bumper.

When the officer went across the street, the neighbor came running out screaming at him. She was hysterical and belligerent, and she denied it. Eventually, the officer told me that even though he was certain she did it, there was nothing he could do since it was her word against mine.

I had never met this woman before, but she is mean, and I often hear her screaming and cussing at her small children. Last week, I arrived at work to discover that my company had hired a new clerk. I'll give you one guess who it is. I don't think she realizes I'm her neighbor. I must interact with her often at work, and so far, I've been professional but chilly toward her.

At some point, she's going to see me in my yard and realize I'm her neighbor. Should I clear the air now, or should I pretend it never happened? I'm still angry because she cost me a lot of money. — Angry Neighbor

Dear Neighbor: I see nothing to be gained by "clearing the air" with someone you know is emotionally unstable. Let it ride, keep your distance and remain cool. If her problems manifest at the office, she may not be there long. And at home, stay away from her and her driveway.

Dear Abby: I have been in a relationship with my boyfriend for almost four years. We live together along with my two older sons, ages 30 and 33.

He doesn't spend much time with me because he's either working or hanging out with the guys at the bar. I do have jealousy issues. He looks at and talks to other women when I am with him.

My former husband used to be out every day until late in the evenings until I caught him cheating with my best friend. It's hard for me to trust again. I truly love my boyfriend, and I don't want to lose him. Should I be jealous or let it go?

— Undervalued in Indiana
Dear Undervalued: Your insecurity is something you need to work on because your jealousy could drive a wedge between you and your boyfriend. If his looking at and conversing with women were a threat to Second only to the nerve-racking responsibility imposed upon that long-suffering old gentleman, Santa Claus, are the burdens carried upon the furry shoulders of His Eminence, the Easter Rabbit, who before the dawn of Easter Morn must scurry about to fill every basket with Easter eggs. The eggs, it seems, are the ancient symbols of resurrection and commemorate the age-old festival. Easter, which marks the observance of the Resurrection of Jesus Christ, is celebrated on the first Sunday after the full moon that falls on or next after March 21, first day of Spring. The word "Easter," like the days of the week, is a survival from the old Teutonic mythology and is derived from "Eostra," the Anglo-Saxon goddess of Spring, who heralded the end of winter and coming of warmth and sunshine. And so, just as the earth blooms anew in leaf and flower, Milady blossoms forth on Easter Day in the glad garments of Spring.

A society of amateur anthropologists has uncovered a rich "mine" of Indian artifacts on U.S. government property at Umatilla. The mid-Columbia Archeological Society, with headquarters in Richland, Wash., has been exploring the south bank of the Columbia at Umatilla for months. The new find came when the society, which digs with the permission of government agencies, spaded into the earth beneath an old black-topped street. Within a few minutes a beautiful, carved stone bowl turned up. Since then, hundreds of arrowheads, stone knives and other artifacts have come to light. The artifacts are sent to the University of Idaho for study. The bulk of them eventually are returned to the finders. One advantage of using the society of amateurs to excavate a site is the members are eager to work from dawn until dark without pay and can move a large quantity of dirt in a short time.

At the OSAA State Dance and Drill Championships, a Pendleton contestant received an honor that's never come this city's way before. Senior Amy Wasson was one of only twenty girls named to the 1996 All-State Dance Team. Wasson was one of over 200 dancers who were judged on dancing ability, splits, kicks and other elements. This is the first time a Pendleton dancer has been selected All-State. Wasson has been a member of Pendleton's Rhythmic Mode for two years. The high school dance team came in third in the 4A Large School Division (teams with 23 or more dancers) state tournament in Portland recently. During the year the team took part in five competitions, winning three first-place trophies, one second-place trophy and numerous other awards including showmanship and choreography.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

On March 27, 1964, Alaska was hit by a magnitude 9.2 earthquake (the strongest on record in North America) and tsunamis that together claimed about 130 lives.

In 1513, Spanish explorer Juan Ponce de Leon sighted present-day Florida.

In 1884, the first telephone line between Boston and New York was inaugurated.

In 1942, during World War II, Congress granted American servicemen free first-class mailing privileges.

In 1945, during World War II, General Dwight D. Eisenhower told reporters in Paris that German defenses on the Western Front had been broken.

In 1973, "The Godfather" won the Academy Award for best picture of 1972, but its star, Marlon Brando, refused to accept his Oscar for best actor. Liza Minnelli won best actress for "Cabaret."

In 1975, construction began on the Trans-Alaska Pipeline, which was completed two years later.

In 1977, in aviation's worst disaster, 583 people were killed when a KLM Boeing 747, attempting to take off in heavy fog, crashed into a Pan Am 747 on an airport runway on the Canary Island of Tenerife.

In 1980, 123 workers died when a North Sea floating oil field platform, the Alexander Kielland, capsized during a storm.

In 1995, "Forrest Gump" won six Academy Awards, including best picture and a second consecutive best actor Oscar for Tom Hanks.

In 2015, Italy's highest court overturned the murder conviction of Amanda Knox and her ex-boyfriend in the 2007 slaying of Knox's roommate, bringing to a definitive end the high-profile case that had captivated trial-watchers on both sides of the Atlantic.

In 2019, a Wisconsin man, Jake Patterson, pleaded guilty to kidnapping 13-year-old Jayme Closs and killing her parents; the plea spared the girl from the possible trauma of having to testify at his trial. (Patterson was sentenced to life in prison.) Facebook said it was extending its ban on hate speech to prohibit the promotion and support of white nationalism and white separatism.
