OBITUARIES

Eugene 'Gene' Van Beveren

Pendleton
April 20, 1935 — April 3, 2021

Fr. Eugene (Gene) C. Van Beveren, age 85, passed away peacefully at his home in Pendleton on Saturday, April 3, 2021. He was born in Baker, Oregon, to Henry and Mary Van Beveren, the youngest of four children.

Gene graduated from Hillsboro High School and then entered the seminary at Mount Angel Abbey, where he spent nine years in profound study for the Roman Catholic priesthood. He was ordained in 1962 and began his chosen life's journey as a mission priest for the next decade.

After his devotion to the Catholic Church ended, Gene received his teaching certification from Eastern Oregon University in La Grande, Oregon, and taught elementary school for four years.

his calling to the church and his orders were received into the Episcopal Church. For the next 30 years, he was called to many missions throughout Oregon, Washington and South Dakota. Gene finally fully retired in Pendleton, Oregon, in 2009.

Gene enjoyed classical music, reading and the arts. His life was his mission work. His missions were treated as family and his devotion to those people were seen and felt by all.

Gene is survived by his wife of almost 48 years, Charlanne, his daughter Maria (Mark) Nelson, and his granddaughter Aislynn Nelson.

Memorial service for Fr. Eugene Van Beveren will be held on Aug. 28, 2021, at 1:30 p.m. at The Redeemer Episcopal Church, Pendleton, Oregon.

Colby Neal Savage

Hermiston
April 29, 1997 — July 20, 2021

Colby was born in Hermiston, Oregon, April 29, 1997. He graduated from Prosser High School in 2015 and joined the U.S. Navy in Jan. of 2016, where he proudly served for five years. He was able to travel the world, until his service ended in May of 2021. Immediately following his time in the Navy, he found work as an aircraft mechanic for DynCorp International in Maryland.

Growing up Colby ran cross-country, was a great golfer and was a quick study on the guitar. He even performed a few songs at his cousin's wedding. His greatest passion, however, may have been making people laugh. His perfectly placed movie quotes, timely quips and never-ending good mood brought happiness to all those who came into contact with him and have provided many fun memories and stories that will be shared for years to come.

Colby adored and always made time for his family. He is survived by his parents, Ryan and Alison Savage, and Heather and Dwayne McDonald; grandparents Rick and Sheryl Raines, and Mel and Karen Savage; brothers Ryan Ramos and Cameron Savage; sisters-in-law Keoni Ramos and Kylee Broderick; stepsisters Lanie and Addison Graff and step-brother Dalton McDonald; nephew Daxton Ramos and niece Kaleah Ramos; and numerous aunts, uncles and cousins.

A celebration of Colby's life will be Saturday, Aug. 14, 2021, at 5 p.m. at Broken Antler Winery/ Bend in the River in West Richland, Washington, followed by a reception.

IN BRIEF

Washington announces vaccine mandate for state workers, health care staff

OLYMPIA, Wash. — Most state workers in Washington, as well as private health care and long-term care employees, will be required to show proof of vaccination for COVID-19 by Oct. 18 or will lose their jobs, Gov. Jay Inslee announced Monday, Aug. 9.

Weekly testing will not be an option for those who want to avoid vaccination and maintain employment. The only opt-out of the requirement is either a medical or religious exemption.

The order applies to about 60,000 employees of the 24 state agencies that are part of the governor's executive Cabinet, which includes the departments of corrections, social and health services, transportation and the Washington State Patrol. A fact sheet issued to employees notes that the order applies to employees who are currently working remotely, since they may need to go to a work site at some point. The governor's office said the overall number includes those who have already been vaccinated.

Employees in the private sector who are covered under the order include those who work in health care and long-term care and other congregate settings, including nursing homes, assisted living and treatment facilities.
