

'LEGOS AFTER DARK' AT PENDLETON LIBRARY

PENDLETON — Legos aren't just for kids, and the Pendleton Library, 502 SW Dorion Ave., is inviting adults to "Legos After Dark" at 6 p.m. Friday, Jan. 28. Snacks and refreshments will be provided.

This event is for adults only. Registration is required by calling 541-966-0380. For more library events, visit <https://pendleton.or.us/library>.

CLASS ON COPPER FOIL
STAINED GLASS BEGINS FEB. 15

BAKER CITY — Brenda Johnson will teach a four-session class on copper foil stained glass at Crossroads Carnegie Art Center in Baker City. Class dates are Feb. 15, Feb. 22, March 1 and March 8. All meet from 6:30-9 p.m. This is for ages 16 and older. Proof of vaccination is required for participants.

Students will make a little lady figure and learn the basics of cutting, shaping, grinding, assembling and soldering glass with copper foil and lead solder. Cost is $75 members, $112.50 nonmembers. Register at www.crossroads-arts.org.

IMAC RESUMES MONTHLY BREAKFASTS

IRRIGON — A hearty meal is available during the monthly Irrigon Multicultural Arts Center breakfast.

Retired attorney and author John Frohnmayer is the featured speaker for Josephy's Brown Bag, held virtually Feb. 1.

The upcoming fundraising meal is Saturday, Jan. 29, from 7-11 a.m. at Stokes Landing Senior Center, 150 Columbia Lane, Irrigon. The cost is $4.50 per person.

Several years ago, a group of concerned citizens formed as the Irrigon Multicultural Arts Center. They are dedicated to preserving Irrigon's 1921 school build-
