IN BRIEF

Hermiston man involved in crash, injures three

GRANDVIEW, Wash. — Washington State Patrol reported a Hermiston man was speeding early Wednesday, Jan. 26, near Grandview when his pickup crossed the median and hit another vehicle. The crash sent three people to a hospital.

Jose Tenebazan, 38, of Hermiston, was driving a 2009 Chevrolet Silverado pickup westbound on Interstate 82 at milepost 75, near the city limits of Grandview, according to Washington State Patrol, when at about 4:15 a.m. he lost control of the vehicle. The pickup crossed the meridian, rolled onto the eastbound lane and collided with a 2007 Ford Edge.

Tenebazan and his passenger, Elvia Guardadoramirez, 40, of Pasco, were injured, along with the driver of the Ford, Jillian Martin, 41, of Benton City, Washington. The state patrol reported ambulance took all three to Astria Sunnyside Hospital, Sunnyside, Washington.

The crash totaled the Chevrolet. State patrol also reported Tenebazan received a citation for driving too fast for the conditions.

Irene L. Dames

August 25, 1942 – January 6, 2022

Irene L. Dames died Jan. 6, 2022. She lived in Pendleton for more than 35 years and spent the last two years in assisted living in Hood River, Oregon.

Irene was born Aug. 25, 1942, in Berlin, Germany. She was married to Michael P. Dames.

She is survived by her six children, seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Kenneth Ray Schiewe

July 13, 1929 - January 21, 2022

Kenneth Ray Schiewe was 92 when he passed away on Friday, Jan. 21, 2022. Ken was a local rancher in the Columbia Basin area, living on the home place for eight of his nine decades. He was born in Walla Walla, Washington, to Bill and Pearl Schiewe, as the younger brother to Keith Schiewe. The two boys grew up on Weston Mountain and went to school at the Weston Mountain School House until Ken turned 10. The family then moved to Little Dry Creek in the Weston area and started a dairy. Attending Weston High School, Ken played baseball, helped milk cows and worked for many ranchers in the area, plowing, planting and haying much of the farm ground in the area. He hunted with friends, packing into the Wenaha River, and has told many stories about their camp experiences.

He and his friend Ward Warner joined the Air Force in October of 1950, and Ken served as a Maintenance Crew Chief on a Douglas C-124 Globe Master cargo plane, flying all over the world transporting gear and forces wherever needed. He then went to Oregon Technical Institute in Klamath Falls to become a welder/metal fabricator. While there at OTI, now known as OIT, he joined the rodeo team and rode bareback broncs and traveled around the area as a handsome young cowboy. Soon he met his beautiful bride to be and married Ida Sohrakoff Schiewe, his wife of 56 years.

It's not possible to share Ken's story without talking of Ida. They were a team. They started their family in a tiny trailer in Harrisburg, Oregon, and then bought a home in Halsey, Oregon, when Ken got a job with Morse Brothers of Harrisburg. He built post tension bridge beams and many other fabrication projects. Soon they moved back to the Weston area when Ken started work for Ready Mix Sand and Gravel of Milton-Freewater, Oregon. They settled on property adjacent to the home ranch, and Ken then helped his father expand the cattle herd. He and Ida ranched hand in hand with Bill and Pearl for many years.

Ken loved the ranch life. He loved working with cattle and horses and having a trusty dog at his side. He loved being able to be outside and get things accomplished. He was able to enjoy just about any project, chore or farm task. He could fix and build just about anything needed on the ranch and built many farm items rather than purchase a stock product. He and Ida grew a huge garden and with their care they provided a wonderful place to raise their children. They enjoyed watching their children grow, participate in sports events and music concerts, learn to ride horses, drive tractor, milk cows and every other sort of ranch task.

Ken took each of the three kids (Dianna, Joe and Donna) on their own backcountry horse pack trip into the wilderness during their senior year, giving them a taste of the wild beautiful country and making special memories.

When Ida passed away, his daughter Dianna and her husband came to live with him, so he was able to stay on the ranch. Ken was a quiet, gentle, persevering and tender-hearted man who loved his family. He was faithful in how he worked hard to support his family and make life on the ranch a wonderful place to live. He lived the life he wanted to live. He instilled wonderful traits in his children and will be missed until they all find each other in Christ, our eternal home.

Ken is survived by his children, Dianna (Schiewe) Ohlson and Vincent Ohlson; Joe and Linda Schiewe and their children, Tyler, Meghan and Jonah; and Donna (Schiewe) Mattson and Curt Mattson and their children, Will and Kenneth Luke.

Ken was preceded in death by his parents, Bill and Pearl Schiewe, and his brother, Keith Schiewe.

Funeral services will be held Friday, Jan. 28, 2022, at 1 p.m. at Bethel Baptist Church, 209 SW First Ave., Milton-Freewater, Oregon 97862. Concluding services and interment will follow at the Weston Cemetery with Military Honors.

John Ambrosio Virgil

January 27, 1933 - January 20, 2022

John Ambrosio Virgil of Pendleton (formerly of Hermiston) was born Jan. 27, 1933, in Sterling, Colorado, the son of Louis and Mary (Sandoval) Virgil. He passed away in Pendleton on Thursday, Jan. 20, 2022, at the age of 88 years.

John grew up and attended schools and graduated from high school in Sidney, Nebraska. He joined the National Guard after high school where he obtained the rank of corporal and served for several years. In 1968, he moved to Hermiston, Oregon, where he lived for over 40 years. He resided in Eastern Oregon for the past 54 years, and the last six were in Pendleton.

John worked as a mechanic for Campbell's Motors in Hermiston for over 17 years. He later managed Leathers Oil Service Stations in Hermiston and Pendleton. After retiring, he missed being busy and took a job with ODOT where he worked in maintenance for several more years.

John enjoyed telling a good joke and playing bingo whenever the opportunity arose. He had a strong faith and belief in God and had read his Bible many times from cover to cover. He had a deep love of his family, especially his grandchildren.

John married Mary Herrera on Sept. 1, 1951, in Lyman, Nebraska. She preceded him in death on Oct. 15, 2015. He was also preceded in death by a son, Mike.

He is survived by four sons, Gary Virgil, Bruce Virgil, Gabe Virgil and Rodney Virgil; 13 grandchildren and many great-grandchildren; and several brothers and sisters and extended family members.

A graveside service was held on at 2 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 24, 2022, at the Hermiston Cemetery. Burns Mortuary of Hermiston is in care of arrangements. In lieu of flowers, the family requests memorial donations be made to Burns Mortuary of Hermiston, P.O. Box 289, Hermiston, OR 97838, to help defray final costs.

Irene G. Miller

October 11, 1921 - January 17, 2022

Irene G. Miller was born Oct. 11, 1921, on a farm outside Monte Vista, Colorado, the daughter of Ora and Edna (Timblin) Elwood, the middle child between two brothers, the only girl in the family. She passed away in her home in Hermiston, surrounded by her three daughters, on Monday, Jan. 17, 2022, at the age of 100 years.

Irene lived in Monte Vista, Colorado, in a home with an artesian well of constantly streaming cold water that served as their refrigerator! She graduated from Monte Vista High School in 1939 and studied secretarial skills at Blair College in Colorado Springs.

During World War II, she worked at Consolidated Aircraft helping to build B24s in San Diego, California. She could have been Rosie the Riveter! This was the Big Band era, and she met Harold Miller at a dance.

They were united in marriage on Aug. 7, 1942, in San Diego, California. The couple lived in Colorado for a short time until Harold's military service and work required several moves. In 1951, the couple moved to Hermiston, Oregon, where she has resided since. In Hermiston, Irene worked as a mother to her young family and was a mentor for many young girls as Campfire Girls leader and 4-H club leader. Her family hosted two foreign exchange students through American Field Service, one from Greece and another from Guatemala. In 1962 when her children were older, she began her banking career at First Federal Savings and Loan as a teller and a loan officer in Hermiston. She retired in 1978 to work in her husband's insurance office part time.

Irene also became even more active as a volunteer for many organizations in the community: the Hermiston Senior Center, Agape House, Habitat for Humanity, Hermiston Eagles Lodge and the Hospital Auxiliary. She taught Sunday school and served as treasurer at the Hermiston United Methodist Church. She enjoyed playing cards and bingo and has traveled all over the world. She was preceded in death by her husband, Harold; an infant son, David; her parents; and two brothers. She is survived by her daughters, Judy Hill Lovins, Tara Edna Miller and Kathy Crowley; her foreign exchange daughter, Libby Quintana DeRamos; plus four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

A celebration of her life is planned for Jan. 29 from 2-4 p.m. at the Harkenrider Senior Center. Burns Mortuary of Hermiston is in care of arrangements. In lieu of flowers, family suggest memorial donations be made to the Hermiston Senior Center, 435 W. Orchard Ave., Hermiston, OR 97838. To leave an online condolence for the family please go to www.burnsmortuaryhermiston.com.
