COMMUNITY BRIEFING

Clue one: Hermiston National Night Out treasure hunt

Saturday's paper had the rules and regs.

Just don't sit, use your legs.

Bring some water, it's going to be hot.

Find the booty in the hiding spot.

The annual National Night Out treasure hunt is underway in Hermiston. The rules were printed in the Saturday, July 23, East Oregonian. Subsequent clues will appear in Wednesday's Hermiston Herald and Thursday's EO. A bonus clue will be available Wednesday afternoon at www.eastoregonian.com. If the medallion hasn't been located by Friday morning, log onto the EO website for additional clues.

The Hermiston resident who finds the golden medallion (hidden inside a small treasure chest) will win an ice cream social block party Tuesday, Aug. 2 as part of Hermiston's National Night Out festivities.

Thursdays Rock brings food, music to new M-F square

Lillian Darlene Smith

March 16, 1937 - July 5, 2022

L. Darlene "Dolly" Smith was born to Reuben and Esther Hille in Ritzville, Washington, and was raised on a family farm in Ralston, Washington, south of Ritzville, Washington, where she attended high school, graduating in 1955. Darlene attended Washington State University for one year, then moved to The Dalles, Oregon, where she worked at JC Penney and met her first husband. They moved to Tri-Cities, Washington, then Milton-Freewater, Oregon, where they owned the A&W Drive-In.

They had two daughters, Julie Boyles and Jennifer Boyles Erwin (Mark). After her divorce, she attended Blue Mountain Community College and achieved a degree in photojournalism.

Darlene worked for Key Technology in Milton-Freewater, then Adams Tractor as advertising manager. She met her husband Greg on the job at Adams Tractor.

They were married in 1982 and she worked for Agri-Times newspaper as a salesperson, covering Eastern Oregon and Washington. When Greg purchased KUMA radio from his parents, Ted and Phyllis, Darlene became a salesperson.

After the sale of KUMA in 1993, Darlene became a busy landlady as she and Greg owned 60 units at one time.

Darlene enjoyed traveling and the outdoors and assisted Greg in producing Sportsmen Shows in six cities, including Pendleton where they managed the outdoor show at the convention center for 20 years.

One of the highlights of her life was teaming with "Big Tom" Simonton and friend Silva Garton to produce Cowpoke Cartoons coloring book and notepads, utilizing Tom's amazing talents for artistic drawings of Pendleton Round-Up activities. Darlene also highly enjoyed the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas where she helped manage 50 family & friends to the event.

Darlene passed peacefully after a second stroke in five months at Providence Seaside Hospital on Tuesday, July 5 with Greg at her side. She loved being near the water and requested ashes be spread in the Columbia and Willamette rivers where they owned property.

Darlene is survived by her husband, Greg, Hammond, Oregon; brother, Dennis, Tigard, Oregon; two daughters previously mentioned, four stepchildren, Todd Smith, Trevor Smith, Regan Smith and Sari Collins, all residing in Salem, Oregon; 14 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Pendleton Center for the Arts or Tamastslitk Cultural Institute at Mission.

A private family memorial service is being held at her request.
