

Daily Mountaineer.

THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 9, 1865.

GRASSETT, who killed Garret, in Umatilla county a few days since, has been held to bail in $2,000, which he has not procured.

Nobody in Umatilla believes that Pomeroy, who said he had been robbed of seventy ounces, was robbed at all.

Gen. SULLY's expedition against the Sioux, has proven a failure, and has returned to the frontiers of Minnesota.

The people of Tennessee are singularly unanimous in support of President Johnson's policy.

THANKS to Waldron & Co., of the Post office Book store, for files of Eastern and California papers.

A PARTIZAN editor in Nevada announced that the party platform of his party was broad, and an opponent retorted that it was very flat.

A POST-OFFICE has been established in Clarke county, Washington Territory, at Union Ridge. Asa Richardson has been appointed postmaster.

MANY of the streams in California have increased considerably in volume since the earthquake, and many of the artesian wells of Santa Clara have dried up.

MILLINERY STORE.—Mrs. Leeser has just opened a beautiful stock of Millinery Goods, which she offers for sale at reasonable prices. Ladies desiring any articles of millinery goods would do well to give her a call.

The Philadelphia papers announce the death of the Hon. Wm. J. Duane, aged 85 years. He was Secretary of the Treasury under Jackson, and resigned his office rather than consent to the removal of the deposits from the United States Bank.

PERSONAL.—Our old friend and comrade in arms, Capt. W. W. Thompson, called on us last evening. Capt. Thompson is on his way to Vancouver with his company, ("I"), of the Washington Territory Volunteers, to be mustered out of service. Capt. T. has served the country long and faithfully in its armies, and is deserving of consideration at the hands of the Government.

THE Rev. Henry Ward Beecher is in favor female suffrage. In France and England there is no legal obstacle to women holding certain municipal offices. At Ain, in France, nine women were elected to the municipal council. Lady Jenkinson, at the last general election in England, contested Dorsetshire for her husband, but was defeated.

A PUBLIC meeting of citizens, without regard to politics, was held at Nashville, Tennessee, on the 23d September. Many lately prominent rebels—including Henry S. Foote, Neill S. Brown, Balie Peyton and others—were present and delivered speeches. Resolutions of a most thorough-going Union character were passed, and the meeting was singularly unanimous in its expressions of approval of President Johnson's course.

MONTANA MARKETS.—On the 21st, the Virginia City Post's quotations (dust) for Salt Lake flour are $17 and $18, an advance of 50c per hundred since our last. Bacon, best, was 50c; ham, best, 65c; lard, 45 to 60c; candles, 55 to 90c; sugars, 53 to 60c; coffee, $1; teas, $3 to $3 75; Utah butter, 75c; Home Ranch butter, $1 40. Teas were coming in from California via Idaho. Whisky was giving out, and the market was becoming bare of all kinds of liquors. The Post adds: "Unless we have arrivals of this staple soon, we look for a considerable advance in prices."

EVERYTHING LOVELY IN UTAH.—The Deseret News, the Mormon organ at Salt Lake City, says that until the Christiana people of other States and Territories can show as pure a record as Utah, they had better stop jibing at the saints. That paper thinks that until people extract beams from their own eyes, they had better not be too hasty in criticising the Mormons, and ridicule such as do so as being guilty of Phariseism. The delights of saintly communion are vividly pictured, and it would seem as if the Mormons, in their perfect satisfaction with their own moral superiority, had actually fallen into the very error which they deprecate in others.

QUARTZ MINING IN CALIFORNIA.—From the earliest days of the mining excitement in California, the quartz lodes of that country attracted a considerable part of the enterprise of the mining classes. But nearly all the trials of quartz made from 1849 to 1852, resulted in great loss of money, and what was worse, a want of confidence in the permanency of the gold-producing resources of the State. In some of the counties, however, quartz mining was carried on steadily, with some degree of profit. In 1859 the Washoe discoveries drained the State of its best elements of population, and the mining interests appeared to be prostrated. After expending vast sums in the development of the mines in Nevada, it was observed that these mines were being supplied by farmers located in adjacent valleys, and thus the farming interests of California were prostrated. The people of that State now see that it is only by the discovery and development of a permanent mining interest in their own borders that their property values can be restored and maintained. With this view, the Californians are busily engaged in prospecting quartz lodes which were worked years ago without skill and frequently without energy. It is thought that many of these lodes pay well, and very probably they will. The people of Oregon and contiguous territories may learn a lesson from the experience of California, and instead of hunting the hills of Montana for new lodes, they will do better by discovering and working those of Oregon, and Idaho, and Washington Territories. We have here enough to engage the energies of twenty times our present population, and the prosperity of the miner and the agriculturist, the merchant and the common carrier, will be co-relative. In this way we shall increase the aggregates of our assessment rolls, and the onerous rates of taxation which now barely suffice to carry on the local governments, will afford revenues to make great and much needed improvements. This view of the case must recommend itself to the common sense of all men of experience.

Col. A. D. Streight, who escaped from Libby prison during the war, has taken charge of the Indianapolis Sentinel, a democratic journal. This may be looked upon as an additional evidence that the control of the Democratic party is passing out of the hands of the peace party.
