

SUNDAY MORNING, NOV. 19, 1865.

J. M. PIRCK is the Union candidate for the legislative vacancy in Yamhill county.

MARTIAL law has been abolished in Kentucky.

HEAVY rains have fallen on the west side of the Cascades during the past week, and the streams are rising in consequence.

THE alarm about the cholera, brought across the Atlantic by the Atlanta, is abating. No new cases have occurred.

LOMAX, the colored man who was committed to jail on charge of stealing certain articles from the O. S. N. Co., at Celilo, has given bail.

PUBLIC DISCUSSION.—Messrs. Hogue and Gates addressed the citizens of the Dalles yesterday evening, at Chapin's Hall. Lack of space prevents us from giving a synopsis of the remarks of these gentlemen.

MR. P. J. MALONE has retired from the management of the Oregon Reporter, and will commence the publication of a weekly and tri-weekly paper, to be called the Argus, at Boise City, some time in the coming month.

THE Idaho correspondent of the Marysville Express says, "the abolitionists were cleaned out in this territory as clean as a double-barreled shotgun." Would it not be more forcible to say "as clean as a 15-inch cannon?"

SENATOR WILSON, of Massachusetts, says that he does not think the President is pardoning rebels too fast, and if he had his way, he would pardon all but two or three hundred of them. Wilson's opinions are very valuable about this time.

THE CHICO ROUTE.—The Susanville Sage Brush says that many persons are passing through Susanville, from Idaho to California. The Sage Brush expresses the opinion that when the route from Idaho through that place to California becomes generally known, all the travel will go by it.

DROWNED.—The Advertiser says that a soldier named James Irwin, belonging to Company "E," First Oregon Infantry, was drowned at Umatilla on the 15th inst. He jumped from the steamer Spray, with the evident intention to swim ashore, and was carried beyond help.

IMPORTING NEGROES.—The Coso Mining Company in Nevada is importing negroes from Virginia to work in their quartz mines. They are to be paid $10 a month for one year, and have their expenses paid from the Atlantic side, and while in the service of the company. They have given bonds to remain in service one year on these terms.

THE FORGERY CASE.—The case of Frank Jones, accused of forgery, has been continued for examination, and his bail fixed at $1,000. Frank makes affidavit that John Doe, supposed to be in Portland at this time, can swear that he saw him (Frank) buy the checks, and until the said John Doe can be found, Jones demands a continuance.

GREAT DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.—It will be some comfort to the "unterrified" to know that Ohas. S. Fairfax, a democrat, was elected supervisor, in Marin county, California, at a special election. At the regular election he tied his opponent, but Charley beat him a second heat. This may be looked upon as a certain indication that democracy is not yet dead.

JOHN CONNESS once said that he could buy a leading San Francisco paper for a pint of peanuts. He was at once called "Peanut John," in derision of his insolent assertion. At this time the cultivation of peanuts in California is much spoken about in the papers, and a cotemporary mentions the fact that the plentifulness of peanuts will render it an economical undertaking for Conness to buy up the press of the State.

PANORAMA.—The great drama of "Milton's Paradise Lost," magnificently portrayed upon canvas, by the celebrated John Martin, of London, and exhibited by Prof. Bacheider, will be on exhibition at the Congregational Church, in this city, on Monday and Tuesday evenings next. We have seen frequent mention of this wonderful painting of Heaven, Earth and Hell, in the California, Nevada and Eastern press, all of which speak in the highest praise of its wonderful beauty and exciting interest. We recommend every body to go and see this probably most extraordinary exhibition in the world.

THE ELECTION AND SPECIAL SESSION.

While the election in the Fifteenth Representative District is of but little importance as a test of the probable direction of public opinion on local questions, it affords a good opportunity of ascertaining the sentiments of the people on the all-important issues which are likely to engage the attention of the nation at the assembling of Congress. No man of intelligence in this community will deny that four-fifths of the voters of Wasco county are heartily in favor of the scheme of pacification and reconstruction adopted by President Johnson; yet, for all that, the Democratic Convention neglected to comply with the popular demand for an endorsement of the acts of President Johnson in the matter in question. The voice of a majority of both parties distinctly favors such endorsement, but the Union party only has met the issue fairly. There is nothing in a party name, or old party associations, which should prevent the liberal and patriotic members of the Democratic party from voting for the Union candidate, who fully and fairly represents their opinions on this point.

The obnoxious Sunday Law is equally unpopular with both parties, and its repeal or modification is a matter of general interest.

It is greatly to be desired that a representative shall be sent from this district whose political associations will be in accord with those of the majority of the Legislature. We want a man who can tell the Union party members that, unless they retrace his attempt to inject religion into the politics of the party, the chances of success at the June election will be very limited. Mr. Hogue opposes the Sunday Law on the highest and best grounds that can be taken, namely: The Sunday Law is a religious institution, and as such is contrary to the spirit of our State and National Governments. To oppose it upon any other ground, is to throw away a great moral advantage. Mr. Hogue can and will represent the views of the vast majority of the people on this side of the Cascades, on this subject, with an influence on the party in power that no Democrat could exercise; particularly after that party had neglected to act upon the prevailing popular impulse to endorse the National Administration.

Upon purely personal grounds, the candidates of the two parties are men who are eminently popular, and the defeat of either will be robbed of the sting of mortification by the fact his their respective supporters will regret the differences of opinion which necessitate the defeat of one of them.

We do not doubt that the professions of friendship which, so many Democrats in this county manifest for the Administration, are real; but such sentiments will prove of but little practical value unless they are followed up by votes, which will bear a practical bearing on the questions at issue. At this time the gathering elements of a political storm forewarn us that the attempt will probably be made to destroy the usefulness of the President in his efforts to restore peace and unity, and possibly to hurl him from office. If this should be done in the face of a popular majority, it would argue but poorly for the intelligence of his friends, here and elsewhere. The man that truly desires the success of the Administration, will not scruple to break old political ties to give effect to his opinions.

SHEEP AND WOOL.—The increase of sheep, of superior breeds, and the production and manufacture of wool, are rapidly becoming leading pursuits with the people of Oregon. In 1860, the State shared 55,000 sheep, and produced 220,000 pounds of wool. In 1865, there were about 250,000 sheep in the State, and the clip will be considerably over 700,000 pounds. This wool, if it was all manufactured in the State, would produce more than $500,000; of which the wool-grower would get about $150,000. For the lack of machinery to work it up, much of this wool will be exported. In time, the splendid pastoral advantages of the Columbia River country will attract the attention of sheep-raisers, and then the working of the wool produced above here will build up manufacturing establishments on a larger scale than in the Willamette.

A FIREMAN'S TOAST.—"The ladies—their eyes kindle the only flame against which there is no insurance."
